

RIVERS SUCCEEDS CLARK HOWELL AS COMMITTEEMAN; SON OF EDITOR WITHDRAWS NAME FROM NOMINATION

President Pledges U. S. To Defense Of Latin America

Tumultuously Welcomed by Rio, He Threatens To Resist Any Invasion of
'New World', But Spikes American League Talk.

WARSHIPS, PLANES GREET ROOSEVELT

He Offers Policy of 'Let the Strong Help the Weak Survive,' in Talk to Brazilian Congress.

By D. HAROLD OLIVER
RIO DE JANEIRO, Nov. 27.—
(AP)—President Franklin D. Roosevelt, welcomed tumultuously by 300,000 Brazilians as the highest emissary of peace from their sister continent, today pledged the United States against any invasion of the "new world."

Speaking before a joint session of the Brazilian congress after an official automobile cavalcade had borne him through wildly cheering crowds, the President of the United States declared:

"We cannot countenance aggression from wherever it may come."

"It is unthinkable to me that in this time of world-wide apprehension we should fail to seize the opportunity to meet what is a heavy responsibility."

"There is no American conflict that cannot be settled by orderly and peaceful means."

No Time To Hesitate.
"This is no time to hesitate; we must be guided by a serene and generous view of our common needs."

Later, boarding the cruiser Indianapolis to continue his journey to Buenos Aires for the inter-American peace conference which he proposed last winter, the President left behind him a huge throng of Brazilians who cheered him in departure as they had hailed him on his arrival this morning. The tumultuous reception and farewell was

Continued in Page 2, Column 6.

REVENUE INCREASE REPORTED BY CITY AS DEFICIT GROWS

Good Business Year Enjoyed by Municipality
Though Expenditures
Add $100,000 to Debts.

By FRANK DRAKE.
The city of Atlanta has had an excellent business year with large increases in revenue, but will end 1936 with an additional deficit of $100,000 incurred during the year, B. Graham West, city comptroller, announced yesterday.

As Mayor-nominee Hartsfield busily himself studying the city's financial conditions with the view of reducing the deficit next year when he takes office for a three-year term, it was revealed Atlanta will have increased revenue from all sources with the sole exception of taxes on real estate.

Increases amounting to a total of $242,637 are expected from the water department, the city business license department and from recorder's court fines.

From taxes, the revenue this year will approximate the amount collected in 1935, showing only a slight increase.

5,000 More Returns.
Tax Assessor J. C. Little yesterday said there will be about 5,000 more returns on personal property in 1936 than in 1935, with a corresponding increase in the amount collected, but that returns on real estate will be lower than last year.

During 1936 Atlanta will have spent

Continued in Page 2, Column 4.

ATLANTAN WRITES HUGE INSURANCE

$100,000,000 Policy Is Taken Out by Express Company on Employees.

Coinciding with the arrival in Atlanta yesterday of President L. O. Head, of the Railway Express Agency, it became known that this company has recently closed, through an Atlanta insurance man, one of the largest group insurance deals on record and what is undeniably the largest in point of view of scope of insurance.

The policy is for a face value of approximately $100,000,000 and covers all employees of the company, about 55,000, against death from any cause, accidental death or dismemberment and accident and health insurance.

The employees insured are located in all of the 48 states, in the District of Columbia, Canada, Alaska and Hawaii.

Charles E. Bradshaw, of Atlanta, is the insurance man who negotiated the deal. He is a specialist on group insurance and has written similar

Continued in Page 9, Column 1.

Major Clark Howell Felicitates Father's Successor

Governor-elect Rivers, Georgia's new Democratic national committeeman, is shown above receiving the congratulations of Major Clark Howell, whom Mr. Rivers nominated for the office held by his late father, but for which Major Howell withdrew his name. Mrs. Virginia Polhill Price, committeewoman, is in the center.

SERVICE TO GEORGIA IS KEYNOTE OF CLARK HOWELL JR.'S SPEECH DECLINING COMMITTEEMAN POST

The statement of Major Clark Howell, outlining his reasons for withdrawing his name from consideration for the post of Democratic national committeeman after his nomination by Governor-elect Rivers yesterday, follows in full:

Mr. Chairman and Members of the State Democratic Committee:

Needless to say, I am greatly affected by the splendid tribute which has been paid my father by Governor-elect Rivers and the members of this committee. In suggesting that I be elected Democratic National Committeeman from Georgia to serve his unexpired term to which he was elected in Philadelphia at the Democratic National Convention, Governor Rivers has demonstrated his gratitude for the Trojan work which my father has done for the Democratic party in the state and in the nation.

It is an office which any man should respect and, in my opinion, it is one which should be so handled as to result most fruitfully for the Democrats of the state of Georgia. The duties incumbent upon the office will be heavier and more important during this term than perhaps ever before.

Following the death of my father, there have fallen upon me the responsibilities and duties not only of my particular sphere of work at The Constitution, but also of his. In this dual responsibility, the demands upon my time will be such as to require my entire attention to the direction of The Constitution that it might continue the great force it has been for nearly three-quarters of a century in serving the people of this community and this section. There has never been a time when the portals of The Constitution have not been open to those of all stations of life—to the city dweller and to the resident of the country, to the tillers of the soil, workers in industry and commerce, and to the business and professional men of our state. The Constitution for more than two-thirds of a century has been the open forum to which the Democrats of Georgia could always come with their pleas for the growth of the party and the development and expansion of good government in the state. It is my determination that The Constitution shall continue as the evangel of Georgia Democracy.

The duties of the Democratic National Committeeman will be particularly important and arduous for the next several months in serving as a liaison officer between the incoming administration and the administration in Washington. For a long time now our state administration and our national administration have been far from a state of co-operation and co-ordination—with the people of Georgia as the chief sufferers. In working out the essential co-operation between the state and the government in such legislation as the Social Security and in securing the utmost federal aid for our highway projects, the National Democratic Committeeman from Georgia must devote a large amount of time in securing for our people that which they deserve and that which they have failed to receive.

The office of Democratic National Committeeman is an honor that any Democrat should cherish and prize. I am a Democrat by tradition, heritage and choice. Not only my father, but his forebears for many generations were loyal and militant Democrats. God willing, I will serve my people and the Democratic party as they have in the past, both personally and through the columns of The Atlanta Constitution. There is no state in this Union boasting of finer citizens and finer natural resources than the state of Georgia. We are only at the threshold of an era of prosperity, peace and happiness for the people of this entire section of the United States if we will only take advantage of our God-given opportunities. And I can conceive of no higher duty or obligation than to be instrumental in helping the people of this state to achieve the goal of a more abundant life.

When President Roosevelt tendered to my father a choice of ambassadorships, he at that time declined, stating that he felt that he could serve his party and his country better as a private citizen and as the active head of The Atlanta Constitution. In that decision, his judgment

Continued in Page 2, Column 2.

STATE DEMOCRACY DEPLORES PASSING OF GREAT LEADER

Governor-Elect Pays Tribute to Memory of Constitution's President, Terming Him the 'Beacon of Democracy.'

CLOSE HARMONY WILL BE SOUGHT

New National Committeeman Will Serve Only Temporarily, Pending
Washington Alignment.

Governor-elect Rivers yesterday was elected Democratic national committeeman for Georgia after he had nominated Major Clark Howell for the post and Major Howell, because of the pressure of his business and because of his desire to serve the party through The Constitution, withdrew his name from consideration. The governor-elect was nominated by Major Howell.

Mr. Rivers succeeds the late Clark Howell Sr., president and editor of The Constitution, who served as Georgia's national committeeman for nearly 30 years. His election was made unanimous by the state Democratic executive committee.

The committee, by a unanimous vote, expressed by a standing silent tribute, adopted a resolution deploring the loss of Mr. Howell and expressing its deepest sympathy to members of his family and his associates on The Constitution.

In a speech accepting the committee post, Governor-elect Rivers stressed the fact he is to serve only temporarily. No definite tenure was named, but it is expected the governor-elect will relinquish the post after he has set up a close working arrangement between his administration and the national administration. The term for which he is elected expires at the national convention in 1940.

"Beacon of Democracy."
The committee resolution lauding the memory of Mr. Howell pointed to his record of nearly 50 years and to the service of his newspaper in behalf of his party. The resolution termed Mr. Howell "the beacon light of all Georgia Democracy, the star which

Continued in Page 2, Column 1.

Profit Tax Applicable If Capital Impaired

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27.—(AP)—The Internal Revenue Bureau ruled today that corporations with impaired capital must pay the new federal taxes on undistributed profits even though they are prevented by state law from declaring dividends.

Using a specific but anonymous illustration, the bureau said that between 1932 and 1935 a certain corporation sustained substantial losses, as a result of which its capital became impaired last January 1.

Its adjusted net income for this year will be substantial. It was said but not sufficient to equal its capital impairment.

Under a state law, the bureau continued, the corporation can declare dividends only out of surplus, and, therefore, cannot pay dividends on 1936 earnings without violating the state statute.

No exemptions for corporations facing the situation are contained in the 1936 revenue law, the bureau said, and they thus are subject to taxes on the undistributed profits.

OKEFENOKEE LAND IS BOUGHT BY U. S.

$400,000 Is Paid for 300-
000 Acres To Be Used for Huge Game Preserve

AUGUSTA, Ga., Nov. 27.—Federal Judge William H. Barrett, of the southern district of Georgia, announced today that he had countersigned a government check in the amount of $400,000, which will be paid the Hebard Lumber Company, of Folkston, Ga., for 300,000 acres of land in the Okefenokee swamp, which it is understood will be utilized as a game preserve.

The check was sent Judge Barrett yesterday morning from the federal court at Savannah, where the purchase was negotiated.

The entire cost of the land, a court attaché said, is $440,000 but the balance will not be paid until all legal matters have been worked out.

George Pleased.
United States Senator Walter F. George, of Vienna, who has long been active in the movement to preserve the swamp and who is credited with having inserted the cause in the appropriation bills, enabling its purchase, tonight expressed great pleasure at the news that purchase of the tract had been consummated and said it means the preservation of one of the greatest breeding places for game and fish in the southeastern states.

Senator George said work on the project had been under way five or six years and was initiated several years ago, when at his invitation a group of senators with representatives of the Biological Survey and the National Game Conservation Association, of Washington, visited the swamp and

Continued in Page 12, Column 2.

U. S. Textiles Stage 'Historic' Comeback

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 27.—(AP) The New Orleans Cotton Exchange through its board of directors, today declared that the cotton textile business has staged one of the greatest recoveries in history in the past few months.

"During the past few months we have witnessed one of the greatest revivals in the textile industry in the history of the cotton trade," the report said. "The revival is world-wide but has been the most marked in this country."

"Daily sales of cotton goods, much in excess of production, have been a feature of the market for more than two months. Many American mills are sold so far ahead that they are not in a position to accept new orders except in limited quantities."

DR. W. S. ELKIN JR. DIES AT DECATUR

Former National President of Retail Druggists Passes at Home.

Dr. W. S. Elkin Jr., member of a distinguished Georgia family and former president of the National Association of Retail Druggists, died yesterday afternoon at his residence, 604 Ponce de Leon place, Decatur, after an illness of three months. He was 67.

Dr. Elkin, a native of Lancaster, Ky., had been a resident of Atlanta and Decatur for 45 years and for many years operated the Elkin-Watson Drug Company in the William-Oliver building at Five Points.

He had been a leader in the Decatur Chamber of Commerce, the Decatur Episcopal church and the Citizens' League. He was state drug inspector of Georgia, serving in the administrations of Governors Russell and Talmadge.

Dr. Elkin was a first cousin of Dr. W. S. Elkin, noted Atlanta physician, and a uncle of Dr. Dan Elkin.

He resided in Atlanta from 1891 to 1920 and had lived in Decatur since that time. In recent years he had operated a drugstore in Decatur.

He had also served as president of the Georgia Pharmaceutical Association and for 10 years was a member of the Georgia State Board of Pharmacy. At the time of his death he was field representative for the National Association of Retail Druggists.

During N.R.A. Dr. Elkin served as secretary of the Retail Drug Trade Authority at Washington.

Dr. Elkin is survived by his wife; a daughter, Miss Kathleen Elkin, and a son, Dr. W. S. Elkin, Jr., who is now on going strong, and they're nobody's prettier boys.

Continued in Page 12, Column 2.

GEORGIA TO LOSE 3 MILLION IN TAX

U. S. Will Collect Job Insurance Levy, But State Will Not Get Any of It.

By GLADSTONE WILLIAMS.
WASHINGTON, Nov. 27.—The treasury of the state of Georgia stands to lose upward of $3,000,000 in taxes collected up to January 31, 1937, from employers for unemployment insurance, officials of the Social Security Board said here today.

Under the social security act, states which have not enacted insurance laws by December 31 will lose all claims to their share of the 1 per cent pay roll tax due in January on 1936 pay rolls. While the possible loss to Georgia, which has adopted no social security plan, has not yet been definitely computed by officials here, it is roughly estimated that the amount will approximate $3,000,000.

This tax is now accruing and by January 31 of next year each and every employer in Georgia who has eight or more persons on his pay roll must pay the government 1 per cent for the year 1936.

To date, Alabama and Mississippi are the only two states in the south which have state unemployment compensation laws under two titles of the social security act—Title IX and Title III. Under the provisions of Section 903 (A) of the act, the approval of a state unemployment compensation law by the Social Security Board enables

Continued in Page 2, Column 3.

New National Loan Is Needed by Japan

TOKYO, Nov. 27.—(AP)—Finance Minister Etsu Baba said tonight a new national loan for Japan will be necessary as a result of the record-breaking 1937-1938 budget, more than half of which was devoted to the army and navy.

The cabinet approved the budget today. The new budget of 3,041,000,000 yen (about $570,000,000) represented an increase of 73,000,000 yen ($19,564,000) over the current budget. Nevertheless, appropriations for both branches of the armed forces were reduced by approximately 200,000 yen ($52,000,000). Less than 5 per cent of the new budget was allotted to education.

"I tried to make further reductions in the national defense appropriations," the finance minister declared, "but I found it impossible in view of the international situation in which Japan is facing an emergency."

Baba said he would try to keep the anticipated national loan below 1,000,000,000 yen and he hoped to raise revenue by revision of the taxation and tariff systems while raising monopoly prices.

8-Year-Old Invalid Is Burned to Death

MARIETTA, Ga., Nov. 27.—An eight-year-old invalid girl, Rosie Dodd, was burned to death in a fire which destroyed the family home today, Deputy Sheriff Lee Strickland, of Cobb county, said.

The parents of the girl, Mr. and Mrs. James Dodd, were away from the home when the fire, of undetermined origin, broke out. The frantic mother, at a neighbor's house when the fire was noticed, watched rescuers vainly attempt to save the girl. The dwelling, a four-room frame structure, was completely destroyed.

The Dodds live on a small farm just off Atlanta-Marietta road, about four miles north of the Chattahoochee river in Cobb county.

The mother said she had left the girl in a chair in front of an open hearth fire some 40 minutes before neighbors noticed the house was in flames. The girl had no chance to escape, being a complete invalid. Officers theorize that she may have fallen into the fire and precipitated the blaze.

Coroner John R. Williams said that a coroner's jury decided the girl "came to her death in a burning house."

ATLANTA Fair. Cool.

SUN AND MOON FOR TODAY.
Sun rises 6:23 a. m.; sets 4:29 p. m.
Moon rises 4:36 p. m.; sets 6:19 a. m.
ATLANTA.—One year ago today, Saturday, November 30, 1935: High, 47; low, 36; fair.

Local Weather Report.
Highest temperature 38
Lowest temperature 28
Mean temperature 32
Normal temperature 48
Rainfall in past 24 hours, ins. 1.87
Total rainfall this month, ins. 0.65
Def. since 1st of month, ins. 53.78
Total rainfall this year, ins. 53.78
Excess since Jan. 1, ins. 10.58
Dry temperature 7 a. m. N. 7 p. m.
Saturday, Nov. 28, 1936: High, 44; low, 36; fair.

Call WA-Inut 6565
For real WANT AD SERVICE, the kind that gets results, call an Ad-taker at WA-Inut 6565 and list your WANT ADS in the big Sunday edition of The Constitution. Open until 8:30 tonight for your convenience.

GEORGIA Fair. Warmer.

Georgia—Fair and warmer Saturday and Sunday night; Sunday fair, colder by Sunday night.

Reports of Weather Bureau Stations.
STATIONS AND STATE OF WEATHER Temperature Rainfall
1 p. m. High 12 hrs.

STATIONS	TEMPERATURE	RAINFALL
ATLANTA, clear	32 38 .00
Birmingham, clear	38 42 .00
Boston, clear	22 30 .00
Buffalo, cloudy	20 20 .06
Chicago, cloudy	28 30 .01
Denver, clear	54 62 .00
Galveston, clear	84 86 .00
Hartford, snow	40 46 .00
Helena, clear	30 36 .00
Jacksonville, clear	80 86 .00
Kansas City, clear	48 52 .00
Macon, clear	38 42 .00
Memphis, clear	44 48 .00
Miami, clear	58 68 .00
Minneapolis, cloudy	38 40 .00
Mobile, clear	44 48 .00
Montgomery, clear	40 46 .00
New Orleans, clear	54 58 .00
New York, clear	24 32 .00
Oklahoma City, clear	52 58 .00
Phoenix, clear	68 72 .00
Pittsburgh, snow	18 24 .00
Raleigh, clear	32 38 .00
San Francisco, pt cldy	50 56 .00
St. Louis, clear	30 38 .00
Savannah, clear	38 48 .00
Tampa, clear	44 54 .00
Thomasville, clear	38 46 .00
Tusculum, clear	44 50 .00
Washington, clear	28 32 .00

New Chilean Airline To Be Inaugurated

STRATFORD, Conn., Nov. 27.—(AP) Two Sikorsky flying boats of the S-43 type will leave tomorrow for Santiago, Chile, to inaugurate the new Chilean "lines" across the Pacific. The "Magallanes," a 1,500-mile air line system from Santiago to Magallanes, south of the southernmost city.

The new air line will traverse some 1,500 miles of coastal Chile, connecting Magallanes with Pan-American Airways and offering passengers transportation across the Andes and up the east coast of South America or flights up the west coast.

The transports are expected to stop at Jacksonville and Miami, Fla., en route from here. They will follow the Pan-American route from Miami to Santiago, making the trip in slow stages.

The ships probably will arrive at their destination in eight days, company officials said.

The News at a Glance

IN THE ATLANTA CONSTITUTION
Clip this each day and make your scrapbook a thumbnail history. November 28, 1936.

- LOCAL.
Rivers succeeds Clark Howell as national committeeman. Page 1
Revenue increase is reported by city as deficit mounts. Page 1
Dr. W. S. Elkin Jr., well-known Atlantan, passes at home here. Page 1
Atlanta insurance man writes policy for $100,000,000. Page 1
Methodist laymen adopt resolution deploring repeal of dry law. Page 4
Public safety committee conducts three trials involving police. Page 20
- STATE.
Government buys 300,000 acres in Okefenokee swamp. Page 1
W. L. Geer given death verdict in woman's slaying. Page 1
Accidents are fatal to seven Georgians. Page 1
Warm Springs patients give President nickname. Page 12
Dahlonega professor observes 86th birthday. Page 12
- DOMESTIC.
Georgia to lose three million dollars in taxes. Page 1
Green is again named labor chief. Page 1
American textiles stage historic recovery. Page 1
Consuelo Vanderbilt marries second time. Page 1
Holcomb is chosen to command mines. Page 9
Senate railway body to open inquiry soon. Page 2
- FOREIGN.
Roosevelt pledges U. S. defense of Latin America. Page 1
London is convinced Edward will keep throne. Page 3
Lloyd George lauds American soldiers. Page 20
New national loan is needed by Japan. Page 1
Britain "cold" toward anti-race pact. Page 20
- SPORTS.
Tech. Georgia renew rivalry today. Page 10
Break 'o' Day by Ralph McGill. Page 10
Rose Bowl "poll" favors L. S. U. Page 10
L. S. U. battles Tulane—Army meets Navy. Page 11
Sportliffe by Grantland Rice. Page 11
- FEATURES.
Editorial page. Page 6
Hollywood Today. Page 15
Paul Mallon. Page 15
Westbrook Pegler. Page 15
Theater programs. Page 15
My Day. Page 15
Culbertson on bridge. Page 15
Society. Page 15
Radio programs. Page 15
Caroline Chatfield. Page 15
Daily crossword puzzle. Page 15
Comics. Page 8
"Rose of Soledad." Page 8
Tarzan. Page 15

E. D. RIVERS CHOSEN TO SUCCEED HOWELL

Continued From First Page.

guided our ship safely and securely past reef and into the open, placid waters of harmony and success.

In nominating Major Howell, Governor-elect Rivers declared that "Mr. Clark Howell's post will never be filled by anyone," but urged the committee to elect him to serve out his father's term as committeeman.

In declining the nomination, Major Howell paid high tribute to Governor-elect Rivers. He declared The Constitution would go on as before, but explained he felt the party needed a man to work in close harmony between the incoming state administration and the national administration to the end that Georgia might obtain the greatest good from both administrations. He declared Mr. Rivers was best fitted to fill the post.

Seconding Speeches.

The nomination of Mr. Rivers was seconded by Mrs. Virginia Polhill Price, of Louisville, the state's national committeewoman; by Mayor Zack Arnold, of Fort Gaines, a vice chairman of the state committee, and by J. Harold Saxon, of Quitman, president of the Georgia Education Association.

In their seconding speeches, Mrs. Price, Mayor Arnold and Professor Saxon paid high tribute to the memory of Mr. Howell and lauded the motives behind Major Howell's refusal to be considered.

Following the election of Mr. Rivers, the committee unanimously adopted another resolution offered by J. Ralph Rosser, of LaFayette, and J. M. C. Townsend, of Wildwood, lauding Major Howell for his desire to see a close working agreement between the government of the United States and the government of Georgia.

Chairman Charles S. Reid paid a high personal tribute to Mr. Howell and to Major Howell, lauding the party service of both the late editor and his son.

Rivers' Tribute.

In accepting the post, Governor-elect Rivers paid additional tributes to Mr. Howell and lauded the service of his newspaper, The Constitution. In this impromptu speech, the new committeeman said:

"Mr. Chairman and members of the committee:

My heart is so overwhelmed with conflicting emotion that I hardly know exactly how to say the things that I feel. I assure you at the outset that this, of course, is an honor which is appreciated beyond words. I must say, at the same time, that I am most reluctant indeed to accept the responsibility of it. I feel I am unworthy to unclash the shoestrings of this great leader, Hon. Clark Howell Sr., and cannot hope to fill the place as acceptably as he did. I realize that there is a great responsibility facing us in the incoming state administration. I feel that everyone is wanting to work wholeheartedly, harmoniously and aggressively to justify the confidence of the people of the state. I have counted heavily indeed, and I measure with exactness upon the wise counsel and mature advice of Hon. Clark Howell Sr.

"I wish to say to you in utmost sincerity and with all the force of my soul that the loss of Mr. Howell to the incoming state administration is a loss that I have worried about, thought about, and still am gravely concerned about as to the vital effect it will have upon the success of my administration. Many of you had an opportunity to know him and to know the value of his counsel and his advice. If I might be pardoned for bringing up a bit of history preceding the past campaign, during the last session of the legislature, when the members of the legislature had to carefully determine a course of interest of the state and people, we of the assembly went immediately to Hon. Clark Howell Sr. for his advice and suggestions.

"It was upon his counsel that we followed the course during the session of the assembly that we did, and went to Washington. The advice and counsel of Hon. Clark Howell Sr. that guided all those matters of state. Every friend I have in this state realizes this loss and indeed every Georgian realizes this loss. I am considerably apprehensive even at this moment as to whether or not I should permit myself to undertake this responsibility. Except for the fact that I feel I can lean heavily upon Major Howell, and The Constitution, to take in every way it is possible for him to take, the position of his father in advice and counsel and help in my administration; except for the fact that it is Major Howell's will, after deliberate consideration on his part; I do not think I could get my consent to accept this election to this post, regardless of the sincerity of you who have so kindly tendered it to me. Yet, I realize that there may be an opportunity of service on my part to better coordinate the work of both the state and federal government, and that it seems to be the opinion of those here that I should undertake it.

"In view of all the circumstances, I am willing to serve a limited time and shall do the best I can, with your has been magnificently vindicated by the events that followed, and I know that no group of men and women feel that more than you who are gathered here this afternoon.

SERVICE TO GEORGIA IS KEYNOTE OF CLARK HOWELL JR.'S SPEECH DECLINING COMMITTEEMAN POST

Continued From First Page.

In view of the conditions that I have outlined, it is my earnest conviction that I can best serve the fundamental interests of the Democratic party of Georgia and of all the people of the state by declining to permit the use of my name for this position, which would come as an exalted honor to any faithful member of the party.

I have reached this conclusion more easily because, fortunately, there is in Georgia now a man who is adequately equipped by experience, ability and position to render the peculiar type of service which the exigencies of the present situation will demand. I refer to the man who, in the state primary of September 9, received the greatest vote of confidence ever given to any candidate for any office by the Democrats of the state of Georgia—the Hon. E. D. Rivers.

I, therefore, move that the Hon. E. D. Rivers, Governor-elect of the state of Georgia, be named by this committee as the Democratic National Committeeman from Georgia.

State Democracy's Resolutions Honor Memory of Clark Howell

Adopting a resolution personally prepared by Governor-elect Rivers, who later was chosen as his successor, the Georgia state Democratic executive committee yesterday paid tribute to the memory of the late Clark Howell, president and editor of The Constitution and for nearly 30 years Georgia's democratic national committeeman.

The resolution was adopted by a rising vote and the committee stood in silent tribute to Mr. Howell to record its action.

Chairman Charles S. Reid, of the committee, announced that the governor-elect was participating in the deliberations in order to permit the personal tribute. By action of the committee, copies of the resolution are to be forwarded to the national committee, to President Roosevelt, and to members of the Howell family.

It will be given a separate full page in the perpetual minutes of the committee.

The resolution follows:

"Whereas, for nearly 30 years the Hon. Clark Howell, president and editor of The Atlanta Constitution, was the beacon light of all Georgia Democracy, the star which guided our ship safely and securely past reef and into the open, placid waters of harmony and success; and

"Whereas, during the last century of the Hon. Clark Howell has been the kind father to practically every generation of our party in the state and in the nation, and that nowhere in the history of Georgia and its Democratic party can there be found a man who gave more fully of his time and prayers, to administer the affairs of national committeeman, to the best of his ability. So, with this simple statement, expressing my feelings as best I can, appreciating it with all the sincerity of my heart, and assuring you that I am still wondering if I should do as I will accept the national committeemanship and will do the best I can."

Nomination by Rivers.

Although not a member of the committee, the Governor-elect participated in yesterday's proceedings because of his desire to read the committee's tribute to Clark Howell Sr., and that he might himself place Major Howell in nomination. The memorial of the committee was written and presented by Mr. Rivers.

In nominating Major Howell, the Governor-elect said:

"Our great and good friend, Mr. Howell has gone on. His place on the Democratic national committee must be taken by someone else. We all know it will never be filled by anyone. Some one must be Democratic committeeman, but no one can be Clark Howell.

"Mr. Howell left to all of us a great heritage. He left us a party practically united behind our great national administration. He left true Democracy in Georgia on a higher plane than it ever before reached. Although I am not a member of this committee, I want to again ask its indulgence. At the head of his great newspaper which always has fought so valiantly for the cause of Democracy, Mr. Howell left his son and his namesake, the Hon. Clark Howell Jr. It is fitting that Major Howell should carry on in his father's stead. He is succeeding to his father's leadership in the newspaper and I know of no one who could more fittingly succeed in his father's stead as the titular leader of the Democracy of Georgia than the Hon. Clark Howell Jr.

"I, therefore, want to place in nomination the name of the Hon. Clark Howell Jr. for Democratic national committeeman."

No other nominations were placed before the committee except those of Major Howell and the governor-elect. The meeting was harmonious from start to finish, stressing the "united front" of Georgia Democracy referred to in the memorial to Mr. Howell.

Chairman Reid announced the appointment of the following members of the rules committee of the full committee which will serve when the full committee is not in session:

Warren Grice, Macon, chairman;

CONGRESSIONAL BODY MEETS WITH RIVERS

Governor-Elect Reiterates His Hope for Close Federal Co-operation.

Governor-elect Rivers and members of Georgia's delegation in congress, headed by Senator Richard B. Russell Jr., met last night to discuss a closer working arrangement between the state and the federal government. Senator Walter F. George was unable to attend the gathering because of a previously made speaking engagement.

The governor-elect declared his program for Georgia called for close co-operation with the national administration and he hoped to provide that co-operation through the delegation in congress.

"We had a rather informal meeting, with all just talking over what is in their minds," the governor-elect said. "There was no special program and no set speeches. It was just like a mayor or county commissioner meeting with the representatives in the general assembly from their county."

Mr. Rivers denied there was a discussion of the relief setup in the state, which was taken out of the hands of Governor Talmadge more than three years ago.

The World Congress Administration handles its setup from Washington and we have no desire to upset its program," Mr. Rivers said.

Senator Russell declared he believed closer co-operation between state and federal governments will mean much to Georgia.

"I see no reason why everything Governor Rivers hopes to accomplish in Georgia should be accomplished," the junior senator said. "I am certain he will have the full co-operation of the delegation in congress. We only desire to serve the people in the best possible way."

CITY INCOME GREATER BUT DEFICIT GROWS

Continued From First Page.

approximately $100,000 more than its income, thus increasing the total deficit to $1,700,000 in round figures.

As a matter of fact, Atlanta would have ended the year with black ink if council had not voted to restore the 5 per cent cut to non-school employees at a cost of $120,000 and if the city had not participated in a number of federal aid projects on which $100,000 was spent.

In connection with the latter, however, West pointed out the city received $244,000 in federal aid.

Increases Anticipated.

The increases in revenue had been anticipated in making up the yearly budget, which was exceeded by the $100,000.

Tax Assessor Little gave the following comparisons on tax assessments: 59,941 returns on personal property in 1935 to the amount of $101,760,445, while up to November 1, 1936, 64,333 personal property returns had been made with a total value of $244,000,000 with defaults not included.

But his real estate returns showed a lower valuation than in 1935, the 1936 being $249,000, for 1935 and $244,518,249 for 1936 as of November 1, which reveals a slight decrease.

From the returns on record, not including defaults, the city's total income for 1935 was $1,522,000 in revenue, as compared with $1,522,418 in 1935. Last year $16,000,000 in personal assessments were levied, as compared with $15,000,000 in 1935, and the account of $10,000,000 which will not be taxable this year.

Water Receipts Up.

Comptroller West reported the city has also received $1,825,800 through the water department, as compared with a total of $1,809,794 in the 12 months of 1935. An increase in receipts of about $165,000 from water is expected since the city's water use to exceed 1935 by at least $46,318.

From the recorder's court last year brought in $17,270 from these fines and expects a minimum of $15,000 more by the end of the year.

At the present time the city is receiving $1,825,800 in revenue, as compared with $1,522,418 in 1935. Last year $16,000,000 in personal assessments were levied, as compared with $15,000,000 in 1935, and the account of $10,000,000 which will not be taxable this year.

Business Good.

So, all in all, the city has done good business in so far as revenue is concerned.

Comptroller West said the higher revenues definitely showed generally better business conditions. He asserted the real estate returns remained high, and that with 1935 figures it is to be expected since the city's water use to exceed 1935 by at least $46,318.

The city tax digest will be completed soon, Little said. The tax rate is $15 per $1,000.

At the present time the city is receiving $1,825,800 in revenue, as compared with $1,522,418 in 1935. Last year $16,000,000 in personal assessments were levied, as compared with $15,000,000 in 1935, and the account of $10,000,000 which will not be taxable this year.

ROAD OILING TAINTS WATER.

Low water level in the Sandusky river could not be blamed solely for the taste of Fremont's water this time. Officials said that oiling and tarring of rural roads in the river's basin was mostly responsible.

every employer shall pay for each calendar year an excise tax with respect to having individuals in his employ equal to the following percentages of the total wages payable by him (regardless of the time of payment), with respect to employment during such calendar year:

"1—With respect to employment during the calendar year 1936 the rate shall be 1 per centum;

"2—With respect to employment during the calendar year 1937 the rate shall be 2 per centum;

"3—With respect to employment after December 31, 1937, the rate shall be 3 per centum.

The Social Security Board has opened 51 additional field offices to facilitate the board's relations with the 26,000,000 men and women for which old-age benefits will begin to accrue in January of next year. Atlanta and Savannah, Ga., already have such offices, with the regional office located in Birmingham, Ala.

Georgia is Region I along with Tennessee, Mississippi, Alabama, Florida and South Carolina. Bowman Foster is the regional director.

Leaping Flames Engulf Plant of Lumber Company

This view of the West Lumber Company yards, taken at the height of fire Thursday night, graphically shows the fury of the wood-fed flames. Firemen were able to battle the fire with no interference from spectators.

Plant of West Lumber Company Destroyed in Spectacular Blaze

President of Company Estimates Loss at $50,000, Covered by Insurance; Cause of Fire Unknown; Firemen Handicapped by Wind and Cold.

A spectacular fire, the high-leaping flames of which drew hundreds of persons to the scene and which gave firemen a stubborn, several-hour-long battle, swept the plant of the West Lumber Company at 516 West street, S. W., shortly before midnight Thursday.

Herbert J. West, president of the company, estimated the loss late yesterday afternoon as "at least $50,000." He said the loss was covered by insurance.

The fire, the second major blaze within the city in a week, was discovered by H. Klein, a merchant in the neighborhood, who turned in the first alarm at 11:48 o'clock Thursday night.

Three other alarms were sounded in rapid succession, bringing 10 companies of fire-fighting apparatus on the run, under supervision of Fire Chief O. J. Parker and Assistant Fire Chief W. P. Barker.

Firemen Face Hard Job.

Handicapped by a stiff wind and bitter cold, firemen found a difficult job on their hands when they first arrived. The planing mill, in which the blaze apparently started, was a structure of flames and flying embers soon ignited thousands of feet of lumber.

Flames were visible for a long distance and hundreds of motorists and other spectators arrived to view the fire.

Spreading rapidly, flames gutted the planing mill, destroying machinery. Huge piles of lumber, estimated at several million feet, stored near tracks of the Central of Georgia rail road, were in flames, being totally destroyed.

Two freight cars loaded with paper, consigned to the warehouse of The Commercial Union Trust Co., were damaged by flames and flying embers. The office building contained a paint department and storerooms filled with hardware, nails, doors, sash and oil. Although flames were prevented from reaching this material, they were damaged by water and smoke. A sprinkler system in this building aided greatly in saving it, officials said.

Police Block Crowds.

Firemen fought the blaze until the early hours yesterday morning and then, in keeping the fire within limits, they worked under handicaps and did good work. They saved the office and the front of the building for us," he said.

Heat scorched the warehouse of The Constitution and other nearby buildings were damaged by smoke and water.

Police Block Crowds.

Firemen fought the blaze until the early hours yesterday morning and then, in keeping the fire within limits, they worked under handicaps and did good work. They saved the office and the front of the building for us," he said.

Heat scorched the warehouse of The Constitution and other nearby buildings were damaged by smoke and water.

Police Block Crowds.

Firemen fought the blaze until the early hours yesterday morning and then, in keeping the fire within limits, they worked under handicaps and did good work. They saved the office and the front of the building for us," he said.

Heat scorched the warehouse of The Constitution and other nearby buildings were damaged by smoke and water.

Police Block Crowds.

Firemen fought the blaze until the early hours yesterday morning and then, in keeping the fire within limits, they worked under handicaps and did good work. They saved the office and the front of the building for us," he said.

Heat scorched the warehouse of The Constitution and other nearby buildings were damaged by smoke and water.

Police Block Crowds.

Firemen fought the blaze until the early hours yesterday morning and then, in keeping the fire within limits, they worked under handicaps and did good work. They saved the office and the front of the building for us," he said.

Heat scorched the warehouse of The Constitution and other nearby buildings were damaged by smoke and water.

Police Block Crowds.

Firemen fought the blaze until the early hours yesterday morning and then, in keeping the fire within limits, they worked under handicaps and did good work. They saved the office and the front of the building for us," he said.

Heat scorched the warehouse of The Constitution and other nearby buildings were damaged by smoke and water.

Police Block Crowds.

Firemen fought the blaze until the early hours yesterday morning and then, in keeping the fire within limits, they worked under handicaps and did good work. They saved the office and the front of the building for us," he said.

Heat scorched the warehouse of The Constitution and other nearby buildings were damaged by smoke and water.

Avenida Rio Branco, the city's main thoroughfare, while thousands leaned and waved from office building windows.

Scarlet-uniformed marines, with russet leggings and white breeches, flanked the route.

At the foot of the avenue, the entourage turned and followed to Biermar drive along the ocean and sea wall, reaching Botafogo Beach, the cars turned into the grounds of the Carlos Guinle estate.

Despite the rain, Mr. Roosevelt suggested that the top of their open touring car be lowered to permit a wider view of one of the most beautiful cities in the world.

The rain was sufficient to bog down the motorcade in the mud, and "let far behind in the 30-mile ride through the city and its mountainous environs.

On a steep hillside called Tijucas, commanding a wide panorama of the lower city, the presidential party stopped for lunch at the home of the wealthy Brazilian, E. G. Fontes.

During the luncheon, French was the only language spoken. When Mr. Roosevelt was first met by the high Brazilian officials he responded to their greetings both in English and in French.

The President then changed into formal attire for his address to the Brazilian congress.

U. S. WILL OFFER PACT TO EMBARGO FIGHTERS

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27.—(AP)—Creation of a powerful weapon for general peace was forecast in diplomatic quarters today if United States proposals for an all-American neutrality pact are adopted next month at Buenos Aires.

Its principal effect would be economic—involving discretionary authority for all American nations to withhold trade from belligerent countries, supplies which would be needed in the conduct of hostilities. In addition each of the signatories would be pledged specifically to embargo munitions and financial aid to belligerents.

The provision of the proposed accord which would give "neutrals" an opportunity to apply restrictions to trade with belligerents to the extent deemed appropriate in the interest of peace, embraces most of the principles of the United States neutrality policy, but goes much farther.

The suggested draft of the treaty is expected to be presented to the inter-American peace conference by Secretary Hull, head of the United States delegation.

Applicable to all belligerents except in cases where an American nation was engaged in war with a non-American country, the proposed pact might prevent countries at war from getting such necessities as rubber, tin, oil and manganese, Chilean nitrates and copper, Bolivian tin, Venezuelan oil, Cuban sugar and alcohol, Argentine and Uruguayan foodstuffs.

Once such restrictions were invoked, along with concurrent action by the United States, the Buenos Aires pact would act as a powerful factor in preventing prolongation of hostilities by shutting off sources of supplies.

Moreover, it was said, the mere adoption of such a treaty would act as a weighty influence toward the prevention of war, particularly among countries which are dependent chiefly on the Americas for raw materials.

Responsible quarters expressed the view that adoption of the United States proposal in its present form would draw the signatures of many other countries outside the western hemisphere.

The Guido scale of musical notation is said to have been invented by Guido d'Arezzo, an Italian monk, who lived between 990 and 1050.

Kamper's

Charge Accounts! Free Delivery!

550 Peachtree St., N.E. Heflick 5200.
2979 Peachtree Road, N.E. Cherokee 1141.
Emory University Store, O'Neil 3500.

Forequarter Beef ROAST, 2 1/2 lb.

Spanish Mackerel 15c lb.

Small Hens, 69c ea.

Little less than 3 lbs. each.

Kamper's Special Coffee, 25c lb.

2 lbs. 49c
3 lbs. 73c

Baby Food, 9c—3 for 25c

Heinz, Clapp, Gerber, Libby
Finest 4 lbs. 25c

"Q" Brand Macaroni, Spaghetti, Noodles, (6-oz.) 5c pk.

Ga. Honey (strained or with comb) 1 lb. 25c

Heinz, Clapp, Gerber, Libby

Finest 4 lbs. 25c

"Q" Brand Macaroni, Spaghetti, Noodles, (6-oz.) 5c pk.

Ga. Honey (strained or with comb) 1 lb. 25c

Heinz, Clapp, Gerber, Libby

Finest 4 lbs. 25c

"Q" Brand Macaroni, Spaghetti, Noodles, (6-oz.) 5c pk.

Ga. Honey (strained or with comb) 1 lb. 25c

Heinz, Clapp, Gerber, Libby

Finest 4 lbs. 25c

"Q" Brand Macaroni, Spaghetti, Noodles, (6-oz.) 5c pk.

Ga. Honey (strained or with comb) 1 lb. 25c

Heinz, Clapp, Gerber, Libby

Finest 4 lbs. 25c

"Q" Brand Macaroni, Spaghetti, Noodles, (6-oz.) 5c pk.

Ga. Honey (strained or with comb) 1 lb. 25c

Heinz, Clapp, Gerber, Libby

Finest 4 lbs. 25c

Luggage of Merit Adds Individual Prestige

Visit Our Modern Store

W. Z. Turner Luggage Co.
219 PEACHTREE ST.

Notwithstanding a loss by fire of part of our Peters Street Yard, we will render service to our customers from our sprinkled warehouse and thru Piedmont Yard and Scottdale Yard.

To Our Customers---

Notwithstanding a loss by fire of part of our Peters Street Yard, we will render service to our customers from our sprinkled warehouse and thru Piedmont Yard and Scottdale Yard.

WEST LUMBER CO.

MA. 3000
316 PETERS ST., S. W.

Itch Germs Don't Like Blue Star

Itch germs just can't get along with the high quality medication of Blue Star Ointment. It kills them and you'll forget the torture of itch, eczema, rash, tetter, ringworm or any of those hard to get rid of troubles. Goes in deep. Comforting.

Itch Germs Don't Like Blue Star

Itch germs just can't get along with the high quality medication of Blue Star Ointment. It kills them and you'll forget the torture of itch, eczema, rash, tetter, ringworm or any of those hard to get rid of troubles. Goes in deep. Comforting.

Itch Germs Don't Like Blue Star

Itch germs just can't get along with the high quality medication of Blue Star Ointment. It kills them and you'll forget the torture of itch, eczema, rash, tetter, ringworm or any of those hard to get rid of troubles. Goes in deep. Comforting.

Itch Germs Don't Like Blue Star

Itch germs just can't get along with the high quality medication of Blue Star Ointment. It kills them and you'll forget the torture of itch, eczema, rash, tetter, ringworm or any of those hard to get rid of troubles. Goes in deep. Comforting.

Itch Germs Don't Like Blue Star

Itch germs just can't get along with the high quality medication of Blue Star Ointment. It kills them and you'll forget the torture of itch, eczema, rash, tetter, ringworm or any of those hard to get rid of troubles. Goes in deep. Comforting.

Itch Germs Don't Like Blue Star

Itch germs just can't get along with the high quality medication of Blue Star Ointment. It kills them and you'll forget the torture of itch, eczema, rash, tetter, ringworm or any of those hard to get rid of troubles. Goes in deep. Comforting.

Itch Germs Don't Like Blue Star

Itch germs just can't get along with the high quality medication of Blue Star Ointment. It kills them and you'll forget the torture of itch, eczema, rash, tetter, ringworm or any of those hard to get rid of troubles. Goes in deep. Comforting.

Itch Germs Don't Like Blue Star

Itch germs just can't get along with the high quality medication of Blue Star Ointment. It kills them and you'll forget the torture of itch, eczema, rash, tetter, ringworm or any of those hard to get rid of troubles. Goes in deep. Comforting.

Itch Germs Don't Like Blue Star

Itch germs just can't get along with the high quality medication of Blue Star Ointment. It kills them and you'll forget the torture of itch, eczema, rash, tetter, ringworm or any of those hard to get rid of troubles. Goes in deep. Comforting.

Itch Germs Don't Like Blue Star

Itch germs just can't get along with the high quality medication of Blue Star Ointment. It kills them and you'll forget the torture of itch, eczema, rash, tetter, ringworm or any of those hard to get rid of troubles. Goes in deep. Comforting.

Itch Germs Don't Like Blue Star

Itch germs just can't get along with the high quality medication of Blue Star Ointment. It kills them and you'll forget the torture of itch, eczema, rash, tetter, ringworm or any of those hard to get rid of troubles. Goes in deep. Comforting.

Itch Germs Don't Like Blue Star

Itch germs just can't get along with the high quality medication of Blue Star Ointment. It kills them and you'll forget the torture of itch, eczema, rash, tetter, ringworm or any of those hard to get rid of troubles. Goes in deep. Comforting.

Itch Germs Don't Like Blue Star

Itch germs just can't get along with the high quality medication of Blue Star Ointment. It kills them and you'll forget the torture of itch, eczema, rash, tetter, ringworm or any of those hard to get rid of troubles. Goes in deep. Comforting.

Itch Germs Don't Like Blue Star

Itch germs just can't get along with the high quality medication of Blue Star Ointment. It kills them and you'll forget the torture of itch, ec

SUIT SEEKS TO BLOCK TIFTON BANK CHARTER

Temporary Injunction Bars
Proposed Farmers' Bank;
Hearing Set for Friday.

A temporary order restraining Secretary of State John B. Wilson from granting a charter to the Farmers' Bank of Tifton was issued yesterday by Judge Hugh Dorsey after suit had been filed in Fulton superior court charging R. H. Tipples did not have authority to act as state superintendent of banks.

The suit alleges Governor Talmadge did not have authority to remove former Superintendent of Banks R. E. Gormley and replace him with Tipples. It claims removal is legal only when the incumbent is judged insane, has absconded or is grossly neglecting his duties, and then he is to be replaced by the assistant superintendent.

Hearing on the petition was set for next Friday. Efforts to obtain a charter for a new Tifton bank have been in process for some time. When Tift county citizens first petitioned to form the State Bank of Tifton, Wilson refused to grant the charter on recommendation of Gormley, the suit sets forth. Later, after Talmadge replaced Gormley, the petition claims the same citizens sought a charter for a Farmers' Bank of Tifton and Tipples recommended it be granted.

The suit was filed by Ralph Puckett as a citizen and taxpayer of Tifton and a stockholder of the Bank of Tifton. He charges the state law requires the senate confirm Tipples' appointment and if the charter is granted it will injure the people of the county and the stockholders of the Bank of Tifton as the only distinguishing word in the name of the two banks would be "Farmers".

Attorneys for Puckett are Robley D. Smith and Carl N. and Frank T. Davies. The petition further alleges Superintendent Gormley and the Federal Deposit Insurance Company both investigated the proposal for a new bank at Tifton and both recommended there was no need for additional banking facilities there.

Wilson announced yesterday he had arranged for the state department of law to represent him in the case.

NEW TRIAL IS GRANTED FOR PRESTON SAYLOR

Supreme Court Says Judge
Should Have Allowed More
Time to Defense.

Preston Saylor, ex-prizefighter and scion of a prominent north Georgia family, won a new trial in the Georgia Supreme Court yesterday on a charge of killing his brother, Harry Saylor, near Cartersville, in 1935.

Saylor was convicted of murder November 27, 1935, in a trial before Judge C. C. Pittman at Cartersville and sentenced to life imprisonment.

"The judge abused his discretion in refusing to allow attorneys for the accused additional time to prepare for trial," the supreme court said.

The opinion was by the court as a whole with Justices Marcus W. Beck and R. C. Bell dissenting. The killing occurred November 5, 1935, at the ancestral Saylor home near Cartersville.

Preston Saylor had escaped from the state insane hospital at Milledgeville on March 13, 1935, and had not been returned to the institution, the record said.

Judge Pittman appointed attorneys to defend him on November 16. They moved for a continuance on November 26 and asked for time to prepare the case and obtain information from psychiatrists.

Judge Pittman denied the application. The trial and conviction took place the following day.

OHIO CITY TO PROBE CONDITION OF AUTOS

Law Designed To Reduce Accidents, Deaths in Cincinnati.

CINCINNATI, Ohio, Nov. 27.—(UP)—Every Cincinnati motor vehicle owner must have his conveyance examined twice annually and it will cost 50 cents an inspection under the compulsory automobile inspection ordinance passed by city council.

The law designed to reduce accidents and fatalities will exempt no individual or organization.

No attempt will be made to enforce the ruling until three inspection lanes, manned by approximately 36 inspectors, have been constructed. A WPA voluntary inspection lane is planned and two others are to be constructed at a cost of about $30,000.

The council passed the law unanimously, voting down several amendments, one of which would have exempted operators of 10 or more trucking units.

OPPOSES 'HELL WEEK'

NEW YORK, Nov. 27.—(AP)—The national intercollegiate athletic association met today to oppose "hell week" of measures to abolish "hell week" and severe initiations at colleges and universities.

No matter how many medicines you have tried for your cough, cold or bronchial irritation, you can get relief now with Creomulsion. Not only contains the soothing elements common to many remedies, such as Syrup of Marshmallow, Pine Compound with Tar, fluid extract of Licorice Root, fluid extract of Wild Cherry and Menthol, but also has fluid extract of Peppercorn and the powerful phlegm loosening effect, fluid extract of Cascara for its mild laxative effect and, most important of all, Beechwood Creosote is perfectly blended with all the other ingredients to soothe the inflamed membranes and heal the irritated tissues as the germ-laden phlegm is loosened and expelled. Druggists also know the effectiveness of Beechwood Creosote and they rank Creomulsion top for coughs because you get real dose of Creosote in Creomulsion, emulsified so that it is palatable, digestible and potent for going to the very seat of the trouble. Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of coughs, chest colds and bronchial irritations and especially those stubborn ones that start with a common cold and hang on for dreadful days and nights thereafter. Even if other remedies have failed, your druggist is authorized to guarantee Creomulsion and to refund every cent of your money if you are not satisfied with results from the very first bottle. Don't worry through another sleepless night—phone or go get a bottle of Creomulsion right now. (Adv.)

To Receive New Methodist Appointments

Rev. J. W. O. McKibben, left, of Rome, and Rev. Irby Henderson, right, of LaGrange, who will receive new appointments at the current session of the North Georgia Methodist annual conference.

Rome, LaGrange Presiding Elders Await New Church Assignments

By DR. THOMAS M. ELLIOTT.

Rev. J. W. O. McKibben, of Rome, and Rev. Irby Henderson, of LaGrange, are on their way, but they don't know where they are going. That is to say, they are to be named to new appointments at this conference, as yet unannounced, since they have completed their four-year limit as presiding elders of the Rome and LaGrange districts, respectively.

Records show Mr. McKibben has enjoyed large success during his four years at Rome. During that period the benevolent offerings have increased more than 100 per cent and salaries for pastors have made an advance of $2,200 this year, and show an advance of several thousand for the quadrennium.

Several building ventures in the district are just completed, or on the eve of beginning. At Tallapoosa a new parsonage has been completed, costing nearly $4,000. Villa Rica and Dallas have adopted plans for the construction of religious education plants, costing more than $3,000 each. Bremen has arranged for a new parsonage in exchange for old property. Rockmart has expended this year $1,000 in physical improvements.

1,500 Added to Churches. The district shows some 1,500 additions to the churches on profession of faith during the four years. Ministers and laymen of the Rome district have received a $250 silver service set in token of esteem and appreciation.

Rev. Irby Henderson brings to a close four years of successful work on the LaGrange district, marked especially by debt-paying and new building operations. Among the ventures of that type completed this year may be mentioned $5,000 paid by Newnan

More Social Security Problems Answered by Constitution Bureau

Are you eligible for old-age benefits under the new social security act? If not, do you know why?

Hundreds of Constitution readers are taking advantage of this paper's free service to learn all about the provisions of this act, and the effect it will have upon them personally.

If you have a problem, phone, mail or bring it to the S. S. A. Question and Answer Department of The Constitution. It will be sent by air mail to Washington, the proper ruling obtained, and the question with answer published promptly in The Constitution, using only your initials as identification.

Some Queries Answered. Herewith are questions presented by Constitution readers, together with answers secured by The Constitution's Washington Information Service.

Q. In February, 1937, I will be 69 years old. Have a small butcher shop, employing a man regularly to help me, and one boy to deliver. Do I have to take out my own salary for old-age pension fund for these employees? A. N. H.

A. All employers of one or more persons in an employment, whether in the United States or outside, are under the old-age retirement provisions of the social security act and must pay the following percentages of the employees' wages for the old-age retirement fund: 1 per cent in 1937, 1938, 1939; 1.2 per cent in 1940, 1941, 1942; 2 per cent in 1943, 1944, 1945; 2.2 per cent in 1946, 1947, 1948; 3 per cent in 1949, and each year thereafter. The employer deducts a like per cent from the employees' wages and sends both contributions monthly to the Collector of Internal Revenue of his district.

Q. Is the investment in the old-age pension optional or compulsory? A. H. N.

A. It is compulsory both for employee and employer.

Which Name To Use. Q. When a person is employed under her name before marriage, and records are under this name, should she fill in the name under which she is employed, or her married name? W. C.

A. The Bureau of Internal Revenue has made no general ruling about the question of married women who are working under their maiden names. An individual may obtain a ruling by submitting his case in writing to the Commissioner of Internal Revenue, Washington, D. C. Line 16 of the employee's registration blank requires the employee's signature as "usually written." Line 1 requires a statement of the husband's name.

Q. If a man is past 65 years of age, but still employed, he must contribute to the old-age retirement fund? J. L. C.

A. No. Persons who have reached age 65 before January 1, 1937, are not eligible for old-age retirement under the social security act and do not make contributions to the old-age retirement account.

When Age Conflicts. Q. What difficulty will a man find himself in who, during the war, advanced his age two years in order to enlist in the army? The government file has him on record as one age, his employer another. Would it be for him to make his application to the social security fund as the age the government has on file? J. M. A.

A. The registration blank for employees requires that the date of birth be given and states that this date is subject to verification later. Severe penalties are prescribed by the act for giving false information in applying for payments. It is not possible to advise you on account of the responsibility involved.

Q. Under what class does the cotton ginning business come? G. A. K.

A. With other commercial industries, it comes under the provisions of the social security act.

How Computed. Q. Will the monthly old-age payments be made according to average amount of salary drawn by beneficiary during active employment, or just how will this be determined?

A. The monthly old-age retirement of an employee in an included employment is computed as follows: One-half of 1 per cent of the first $3,000 of his earnings between December 31, 1936, and the date of his sixty-fifth birthday, plus 1.2 of 1 per cent of the next $12,000 of his earnings in that period, plus 1.4 of 1 per cent of the remaining earnings over $45,000. Monthly old-age retirement benefits will range from $10 to $55 per month.

NEW RAILROADS ORDERED. ST. LOUIS, Nov. 27.—(AP)—The Missouri Pacific Railroad announced today it had placed orders for 33,350 tons of new rail to cost approximately $1,352,000.

LONDON IS CONVINCED KING TO KEEP THRONE

Intangible Change Comes Over City; Insurance
Supports View.

(Copyright, 1936, by North American Newspaper Alliance, Inc.)

LONDON, Nov. 27.—(By Wire)—An intangible but nonetheless appreciable change has been detected in Whitehall and London's West End in the outlook and expectation of what is going to happen in the next few months, culminating in the great imperial coronation of the English coronation.

People in London had begun to think, largely in spite of themselves, of the possibility that, for reasons which they refrained from clearly formulating, the coronation might be postponed and some great dynastic change occur, but recently this feeling of apprehension began to be dissipated.

The king's speech from the throne when parliament opened the other day struck a stern and robust note and clearly showed that the king intended to remain at the head of the British empire and carry out his duties without reference to his private joys or sorrows. He clearly expressed intention to visit India and preside at the great imperial durbar at Delhi made those who thought King Edward would abdicate change their minds.

Insurance Explained.

A very large number of well informed people never anticipated such an abdication and always stoutly asserted that the king's immense sense of duty would keep him on the throne. But undoubtedly there was a small section which considered abdication, if not probable, at all events possible, and that class pointed out the rise in the rates of insurance policies against postponement of the coronation. They mostly failed to understand that the king's sense of duty was a matter of fact, the schedule fixed by Lloyd's, the great center for the writing of coronation insurance, is quite simple and direct.

There is a slight increase in the rates of certain insurable contingencies as the market, that is to say the underwriters, has been becoming quite "full" with business already placed. The underwriters, who like every other trade, are governed by the law of supply and demand, have had to raise their fees.

One rate remains constant, however. That is the rate for insurance against a postponement of the coronation for any cause except by the illness of the king, the death of any member of the royal family, or war.

The figure has been set and continues to be firm at seven guineas per cent.

Not Appreciative.

When these conditions come to be analyzed, it will be clearly seen that the insurance market is not concerned with and not apprehensive about a postponement of the coronation for any cause except by the illness of the king, the death of any member of the royal family, or war. What people are concerned with is the possibility of political conditions in Europe making it imperative that the king postpone the coronation because of grave developments and the likelihood of war.

An average of 20 guineas per cent is quoted to cover the risk of the coronation being delayed one day or more for reasons other than the king's illness, death in the royal family, or war. A week ago, the rate for similar conditions was 18 guineas, while the current rate to cover the risk of the coronation being delayed until after the conclusion of 1937 is 16 guineas per cent, as compared with 15 guineas a week ago. The foregoing figures, which are authoritative, are the best available and are flying about and generally become exaggerated when transmitted abroad.

Another rumor closely connected with the coronation is that the cabinet, apprehensive of the turn events may take between King Edward and Mrs. Wallis Simpson, has been pressing the king to cut himself free of his romantic entanglements, realizing the responsibilities of his position and make up his mind that conditions governing the conduct of lesser mortals do not apply to the wearer of a crown.

Respondent has good reason to believe that these statements, even though honestly made, far from represent the truth.

King, Ministers Cordial. It is a fact that Prime Minister Stanley Baldwin and Home Secretary Sir John Simon recently received prolonged audiences with the king, but although it is impossible to say with definite certainty just what occurred at these strictly private meetings, well informed circles say the relations between the sovereign and his ministers are good, and indeed that the feeling has prevailed between the prime minister and the king.

It would have certainly been the height of tactlessness if Mr. Baldwin or Sir John had suggested any course tending to persuade the king of the desirability of Mrs. Simpson leaving England. Such a method of approach would have made the confusion worse, confounded the reasons which are easily understandable.

MILLIONS IN STOCK APPROVED BY SEC

Montgomery Ward and Kentucky Firm Register

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27.—(AP)—New securities running well into the millions were registered today with the Securities Commission.

The registrations included: An issue of 652,143 shares of common stock of Montgomery Ward & Company, Inc., of Chicago, which may be sold at $40 a share to common shareholders, officers, directors and employees. Of the $26,087,720 proceeds, the company said approximately $10,000,000 would be used to reimburse it for dividends to be paid on common stock prior to January 31, 1937, out of the current fiscal year's earnings.

A statement by the Menzel Company, of Louisville, Ky., covering $2,500,000 first mortgage convertible sinking bond, 6 1/2 per cent, 10 years, 5 per cent convertible cumulative first preferred stock of $50 par value, and 496,532 shares of $1 par value common stock. The $18,841,000 securities were being registered in accordance with a plan which includes, first, the recapitalization of the capital stock of the company and, second, the refinancing of its present outstanding first mortgage 7 per cent serial gold bonds. Principal underwriters will be the Metropolitan St. Louis Company, of St. Louis, and James C. Willson & Company, of Louisville.

RAILWAY EXPANSION

ROANOKE, Va., Nov. 27.—(AP)—Four promotions among the operating personnel of the Seoto and Pocahontas divisions of the Norfolk and Western railway, effective December 1, and a construction program involving the expenditure of more than $8,000,000, were announced at the general office here this afternoon.

Pre-Christmas Business Booming, Merchants of Georgia Indicate

Largest Stock in Years Amassed To Meet Tremendous Seasonal Demand; Customers Show Greater Interest in Quality Merchandise.

By The Associated Press.

Expecting the biggest Christmas business since the depression, merchants in Georgia cities reported yesterday their stocks are the largest in years.

A canvass of retail and wholesale establishments brought the news also that customers are showing greater interest in more expensive items.

Views of merchants generally coincided with those of A. R. Dorson, head of one Atlanta department store. "The demand for cheap goods, prevalent during the past few years, is definitely decreasing," he said. "Customers this year are buying goods that will last."

Predictions of increased dollar volume over 1935 ranged as high as 50 per cent in retail increases as high as 25 per cent.

Here are comments from various cities: Brunswick: A. J. Gordon, department store owner; Ralph Rish, druggist; R. A. Gould, hardware, said: "We have the largest holiday in years."

Augusta: Ralph Stevens, department store manager: "The finest early demand in our history; demand is for better quality." Paul Thompson, wholesaler of dry goods, said: "Movement of holiday goods 'unusually large'."

Thomasville: Two large department stores report stocks larger, good Christmas business in prospect. Valdosta: Merchants predict best Christmas trade in several years. General business conditions this area much improved, stocks larger.

Moultrie: All leading merchants report bright upturn in business; Christmas stocks heaviest in years. Savannah: Arthur B. Levy, of a department store, said: "Indications are that the coming holiday season will be like the old-time rush seasons. While it probably will not reach the peak seasons, it will be the largest in years." George Sanders, furniture, and Terrell Tuten, men's furnishings, likewise predicted good business.

Columbus: N. R. Boyd, president of Merchants' Association, Inc.: "Merchants here feel that business will be the best since 1929, if it does not exceed that for that year. All are very optimistic."

Macon: Merchants expect the biggest Christmas trade since 1928. Without exception they say that increases during the last few months have been 15 per cent or more over the corresponding period of last year.

Albany: The best Christmas business in the city to be at least 50 per cent over that of last year, said leading merchants. "Accordingly," H. Prisant, J. B. Banks and Jake Rosenberg, other merchants commented similarly.

Atlanta: The best December business in years is expected by merchants here. R. H. Gloyd said: "Public buying power is on the increase and a better class of merchandise is being demanded."

People are just as quick to criticize Wally these days as they were in the old days, and I know why. Mrs. Sadler added in a spirited defense against the cocktail hour whisperings. "They are just envious."

Always Man's Girl. "She didn't have many very close girl friends because, I guess, she was always a man's girl. I have known any patience with those who talk meanly about her. I've always been fond of Wally, though I haven't seen her for 20 years."

Mrs. Sadler still wears a gold wrist band that Wally gave her. The bride made a gift of one to each of her bridesmaids. It is of utter simplicity—symbolic of the present-day taste of the American at King Edward's court.

"I always wear it," Mrs. Sadler said. Besides, I had my two children use it as a teaching ring, so it has become even more precious."

The bracelet goes back 20 years when Wally—treading on the feet of his father, a man of the past—was a young man, with a beautifully shaped in the fashion of the sandaled patricians of ancient Greece—went up the aisle on the arm of her mentor, uncle, S. Davies Warfield.

It was in Christ church, Baltimore, on the evening of November 8, 1916. Spencer, turned 28, less than two months before, was a trim figure in his full dress uniform of blue—a striking background for the bride in her gown of white panne velvet, made with a court train, the bodice embroidered in pearls and the skirt trailing over a petticoat of old family lace.

First Families Fit Church. The fashionable edifice was garlanded with orange blossoms and filled with the first families. The ushers were all in full dress naval uniforms. The organ pealed Wagner's Wedding March from "Lohengrin." The Rev. Dr. Edwin Barnes Niver read the ceremony. Wally was married.

The newspapers chronicled the event the next day in this fashion: "One of the most important weddings of the early season took place last evening at Christ Protestant Episcopal church when Miss Wallis Warfield, daughter of the late Teachie Wallis Warfield and Mrs. John Freeman Rasin, became the bride of Lieutenant E. Winfield Spencer Jr., of the United States navy, now stationed at Pensacola, Fla., son of Mr. and Mrs. E. Winfield Spencer, of Highland Park, Chicago. The ceremony was performed in the presence of a large assemblage."

Wally was on the first lap of her circuitous route to Buckingham palace. Another article in the life story of Wally Simpson will appear in The Constitution soon.

3 LIQUOR CARGOES SEIZED BY POLICE

Auto Eludes Pursuers, Only To Crash Into Fire-plug on Sixth.

Several cases of assorted whisky were "liquidated" yesterday when the driver of a liquor car crashed his machine into a fireplug on Sixth street, near Peachtree street, following a brief, but furious, chase in which he outdistanced his police pursuers. The driver and another man in the car fled on foot.

Patrolmen Willard Vinson and J. A. Jackson, of Fulton county police, found 76 pints of whisky intact, however. The chase began on North avenue, between Peachtree and West Peachtree streets. The pursued car struck a parked auto on Seventh street before turning into Sixth street and striking the fireplug.

Later, the same officers confiscated 65 pints of whisky and arrested a man listed as A. L. Griffin, on West Peachtree street, at North avenue. He posted $250 bond. A few minutes later, the same officers pursued another liquor car, seizing 35 pints when the driver abandoned the vehicle and fled on foot.

FRENCH FISCAL BILL

PARIS, Nov. 27.—(AP)—The chamber of deputies tonight passed the government's fiscal reform measure, intended to simplify the tax system and speed up economic activity.

LOOSENS TIGHT SCALP

Massage pure, snow-white Moroline into your scalp to loosen it; prevent dandruff and dandruff. The 10c size contains 3 1/2 times as much as the 5c size. Demand Moroline.

MOROLINE
SNOW WHITE PETROLEUM JELLY

DAVISON-PAXON CO.
ATLANTA—Affiliated with NACYS, New York

OPTIMIST ARRIVES

Field Director Would Organize Club Here.

Charles E. Berg, field director of Optimist International, arrived in Atlanta yesterday to organize an Optimist club here. He has recently organized similar organizations in Jacksonville, Miami Beach, Tampa and Ybor City, Florida.

The Optimist club is one of the oldest of civic organizations, he said, founded more than 25 years ago and now existing in principal cities throughout the United States and Canada. The objects of the group are to internationally develop optimism as a philosophy of life and to promote an active interest in good government and civic affairs.

Mr. Berg, field director of Optimist International, arrived in Atlanta yesterday to organize an Optimist club here. He has recently organized similar organizations in Jacksonville, Miami Beach, Tampa and Ybor City, Florida.

The Optimist club is one of the oldest of civic organizations, he said, founded more than 25 years ago and now existing in principal cities throughout the United States and Canada. The objects of the group are to internationally develop optimism as a philosophy of life and to promote an active interest in good government and civic affairs.

Mr. Berg, field director of Optimist International, arrived in Atlanta yesterday to organize an Optimist club here. He has recently organized similar organizations in Jacksonville, Miami Beach, Tampa and Ybor City, Florida.

The Optimist club is one of the oldest of civic organizations, he said, founded more than 25 years ago and now existing in principal cities throughout the United States and Canada. The objects of the group are to internationally develop optimism as a philosophy of life and to promote an active interest in good government and civic affairs.

Mr. Berg, field director of Optimist International, arrived in Atlanta yesterday to organize an Optimist club here. He has recently organized similar organizations in Jacksonville, Miami Beach, Tampa and Ybor City, Florida.

The Optimist club is one of the oldest of civic organizations, he said, founded more than 25 years ago and now existing in principal cities throughout the United States and Canada. The objects of the group are to internationally develop optimism as a philosophy of life and to promote an active interest in good government and civic affairs.

Mr. Berg, field director of Optimist International, arrived in Atlanta yesterday to organize an Optimist club here. He has recently organized similar organizations in Jacksonville, Miami Beach, Tampa and Ybor City, Florida.

The Optimist club is one of the oldest of civic organizations, he said, founded more than 25 years ago and now existing in principal cities throughout the United States and Canada. The objects of the group are to internationally develop optimism as a philosophy of life and to promote an active interest in good government and civic affairs.

Mr. Berg, field director of Optimist International, arrived in Atlanta yesterday to organize an Optimist club here. He has recently organized similar organizations in Jacksonville, Miami Beach, Tampa and Ybor City, Florida.

The Optimist club is one of the oldest of civic organizations, he said, founded more than 25 years ago and now existing in principal cities throughout the United States and Canada. The objects of the group are to internationally develop optimism as a philosophy of life and to promote an active interest in good government and civic affairs.

Mr. Berg, field director of Optimist International, arrived in Atlanta yesterday to organize an Optimist club here. He has recently organized similar organizations in Jacksonville, Miami Beach, Tampa and Ybor City, Florida.

The Optimist club is one of the oldest of civic organizations, he said, founded more than 25 years ago and now existing in principal cities throughout the United States and Canada. The objects of the group are to internationally develop optimism as a philosophy of life and to promote an active interest in good government and civic affairs.

Mr. Berg, field director of Optimist International, arrived in Atlanta yesterday to organize an Optimist club here. He has recently organized similar organizations in Jacksonville, Miami Beach, Tampa and Ybor City, Florida.

The Optimist club is one of the oldest of civic organizations, he said, founded more than 25 years ago and now existing in principal cities throughout the United States and Canada. The objects of the group are to internationally develop optimism as a philosophy of life and to promote an active interest in good government and civic affairs.

Mr. Berg, field director of Optimist International, arrived in Atlanta yesterday to organize an Optimist club here. He has recently organized similar organizations in Jacksonville, Miami Beach, Tampa and Ybor City, Florida.

The Optimist club is one of the oldest of civic organizations, he said, founded more than 25 years ago and now existing in principal cities throughout the United States and Canada. The objects of the group are to internationally develop optimism as a philosophy of life and to promote an active interest in good government and civic affairs.

Mr. Berg, field director of Optimist International, arrived in Atlanta yesterday to organize an Optimist club here. He has recently organized similar organizations in Jacksonville, Miami Beach, Tampa and Ybor City, Florida.

The Optimist club is one of the oldest of civic organizations, he said, founded more than 25 years ago and now existing in principal cities throughout the United States and Canada. The objects of the group are to internationally develop optimism as a philosophy of life and to promote an active interest in good government and civic affairs.

Mr. Berg, field director of Optimist International, arrived in Atlanta yesterday to organize an Optimist club here. He has recently organized similar organizations in Jacksonville, Miami Beach, Tampa and Ybor City, Florida.

The Optimist club is one of the oldest of civic organizations, he said, founded more than 25 years ago and now existing in principal cities throughout the United States and Canada. The objects of the group are to internationally develop optimism as a philosophy of life and to promote an active interest in good government and civic affairs.

Mr. Berg, field director of Optimist International, arrived in Atlanta yesterday to organize an Optimist club here. He has recently organized similar organizations in Jacksonville, Miami Beach, Tampa and Ybor City, Florida.

The Optimist club is one of the oldest of civic organizations, he said, founded more than 25 years ago and now existing in principal cities

METHODISTS ASSAIL REPEAL OF DRY LAW

Conference Hears 4 Notable Addresses; Discusses Missions, Salaries.

By DR. THOMAS M. ELLIOTT.

Methodist laymen connected with the North Georgia Methodist annual conference now in session at Wesley Memorial church yesterday added their voice to the denunciation of the whisky traffic, as expressed by Bishop W. N. Ainsworth, by adopting a resolution offered by the Board of Laymen's activities deploring the repeal of prohibition with the resultant increase in drinking. The laymen further urged that all possible steps be taken to prevent further growth of the evil by employing moral and educational forces as well as lessons in good citizenship. Divorces also were condemned as a growing wrong, breaking home ties, and inspiring other social evils. Clashes between races and groups in the social and economic order were deplored.

Bishop Ainsworth, who is also president of the Anti-Saloon League, spoke at length concerning the forces of evil that are now let loose to overthrow moral civilization until cured. Among the major features of the conference's routine work for the day were the superannuation of nine active ministers, restoring to active service three who had been in retirement, adopting a new program of management for the Wesleyan Christian Advocate, and promoting the undergraduate classes.

Addresses of Day.
Four notable addresses were delivered during the day's sessions. At the morning session Harry Denman, of Birmingham, conference lay leader for the North Alabama conference, spoke especially to the conference laymen. Also he spoke at the evening session. Friday afternoon Dr. M. Ashby Jones, of Atlanta, spoke to the conference on world peace, and Dr. Fred Mangel, of China, gave an address on missionary work. Dr. H. P. Myers, of Nashville, with an address on missionary promotion.

At the conclusion of Dr. Mangel's address, Bishop Ainsworth announced that a New York cousin whom he had not seen in many years, was passing through the city, and called at the conference to greet the prelate. Leaving, he handed the bishop a $100 bill, and asked that the bishop use it wherever he thought best service might be rendered. The bishop publicly presented Dr. Mangel with the bill for hospital work in China.

Conference Works.
High interest was shown last night in the study of detailed statistics regarding the year's work in the conference districts. Total professions of faith added to the churches, 4,211; acceptances of the benevolence pledges, $117,540; paid on the acceptances, $127,780. Throughout the conference territory 243 charges were credited with all payments in full. The Atlanta district was the only district in the conference reported as paying in full all obligations, with a rating of 100.5 per cent. Other districts ranged from 92 per cent to 98 per cent. Dr. Lester Rumble is presiding elder of the Atlanta district.

Announcement was made yesterday that Rev. McLowery Elrod, a conference member who was in an automobile accident near Palmetto Thursday as he journeyed to the conference, had regained consciousness and was on the road to recovery.

Mr. Elrod, coming from Macon, was in a car that was skidded out of control and overturned. Struck by another car, occupants of the overturned car sustained injuries. Mr. Elrod is now in the Newman hospital.

The conference adopted a resolution offered by Dr. A. M. Pierce providing that conference local preachers who have been serving as superannuates 10 consecutive years shall be recipients of benefits from the supplementary salary fund.

Pastors' Salaries.
The supplementary fund is one to provide for some degree of equalization of pastors' salaries. With a standard set of $750 for unmarried preachers, $800 for preachers without children, and $1,100 for preachers with children, the supplementary fund seeks to raise from a lay on all salaries sufficient funds to pay dollar for dollar all increases that may be made by churches seeking to bring the salary up to the standard. By the Pierce resolution the conference ordered that supplies credited with 10 years of consecutive service should receive full benefits.

A social function of the conference is scheduled for today, when all wives of preachers, and preachers' daughters and mothers, will have a luncheon at the Henry Grady hotel. Fathers and sons of preachers in the conference on yesterday had a similar luncheon.

Special attention of the conference body has been directed to the year of success at Wesley Memorial church under the pastoral leadership of Rev. W. H. Boring. The grand total of all moneys raised for all purposes this year is $8,500, while that of last year was $2,500. All moneys raised for the year are paid in full, including interest and the portion of principal due on the building debt. Two revivals have been held, with attendance at some services reaching 1,800 persons. A regular broadcasting service is maintained also, it was stated.

Christian Advocate.
According to action voted yesterday by the North Georgia conference, the Wesleyan Christian Advocate, for generations published in Atlanta, hereafter will be printed at Macon, by the printing plant of the Masonic Home. Detailed reports regarding the paper's condition were made to the conference by trustees, and recommendations made.

Features of the plan accepted by both the North and South Georgia conferences are as follows: Rev. Charles A. Brittain will be full-time business manager, with Miss Frances Rees as office assistant. Six ministers, three from each conference, will serve as editors without pay, each man directing the paper for two months. Present indebtedness of the paper, or at the end of the fiscal year, September 30, was $4,507, which was $1,500 less than last year's when the retiring administration took charge.

The two Georgia conferences agreed to give each for two years the sum of $2,500, to be used to retire the present obligations and continue operations.

The paper will be reduced to 16 pages weekly, and a special subscription campaign will be instituted with

TRY ATHLETIC RUB FOR SORE MUSCLES

When over-exercise leaves muscles sore, tired, let Penorub bring blessed 10-second relief. This powerful, penetrating, athletic rub is exactly what great athletes trainers use to keep Penorub from your condition. Buy Penorub from your druggist. 35c; 60c; $1; $1.75 bottles.

PENORUB

a subscription price at that time of $1. The regular price will be $1.25. Revs. Silas Johnson and A. W. Rees, and Miller S. Bell were constituted an executive committee. They pledged no new indebtedness will be incurred. Five of the new editors have been named as follows: Rev. H. T. Freeman, B. A. Pafford and J. R. Webb, from the South Georgia conference; Rev. G. L. King and Rev. J. F. Yarbro, from the North Georgia section. One more from this conference remains to be chosen.

Superannuated Preachers.

Much of the time of yesterday morning's session of the conference was devoted to the interests of the superannuated preachers of North Georgia Methodism. By vote, the names nine men were referred for superannuation, while the names of three men who had been on the retired list during recent years were restored to the roll of active members. Those referred to active service were Rev. W. F. Culpepper, Rev. E. D. Hale and Rev. E. E. Jenkins.

The nine voted retirement, and the names of years each served in the ministry, are as follows: Rev. B. Read, of the Center Hill church, 36 years; Rev. B. F. Fraser, of Bethany church, 53 years; Rev. E. J. Atkins, of Milledgeville, 59 years; Rev. Edward Creeger, now in New Jersey, 10 years; Rev. J. H. Farr, of Newborn, 36 years; Rev. A. E. Silver, of Hampton, 23 years; Rev. J. T. Eakes, of Powder Springs, 41 years; Rev. A. G. Shankle, 41 years; Rev. H. L. Edmondson, of Lawrenceville, 41 years.

The conference voted to continue as superannuates the following: A. C. Cantrell, E. H. Wood, J. B. Allen, O. M. Hawkins, W. S. Gaines, J. A. Simmons, F. S. Hudson, A. Millard, B. Mayes, B. Sanders, W. W. Carroll, J. R. Lewis, J. H. Mashburn, J. D. Turner, F. G. Spearman, M. L. Underwood, C. E. Hayes, W. J. Quilan, A. M. Smith, E. A. Ware, L. G. Johnson, J. R. Jones, W. W. Benson, W. T. Hamby, C. V. Weathers, W. A. Simmons, F. S. Hudson, A. Millard, J. M. Radford, J. F. Davis, I. J. Lovren, M. M. Walraven, A. D. Echols, V. E. Langford, C. O. Jones, R. F. Elrod, A. S. Hutchinson.

Superannuation Allowance.
On motion of John A. Mangel, the conference voted that, instead of having superannuated men wait a full year before receiving any aid, the budget commission include in the budget a sum sufficient to pay each man superannuated $35 a month for the first year of his superannuation.

Rev. C. A. Hall, treasurer of the funds for superannuates, announced that a check for $4,089 had been received from the publishing house to be used for the claimants on that fund. Dr. Luther E. Todd, secretary of the board of finance and the superannuation fund, wrote that this conference has paid to date $189,100 on its original quota of $438,471 for superannuates. He states that this conference has paid $189,100 on its original quota of $438,471 for superannuates. He states that this conference has paid $189,100 on its original quota of $438,471 for superannuates.

Admission.
In the routine conference work for the day yesterday all the classes of undergraduates made reports and were passed, while nine young men were admitted to full connection and 10 others were admitted into full connection and voted deacons' orders.

Admitted on trial—M. O. Burkholder, J. E. Crawley, W. G. Henry Jr., C. R. Jones, R. Mackay, H. L. Mitchell, J. L. Peck, J. D. Gibson, C. A. Hope, T. H. Wheeler and J. L. Dickerson.

First-year men advanced to second year—R. F. Crawley, J. B. Godfrey, L. B. Harrell, W. Z. Wiggins, H. F. Lawhorn, W. C. Budd, H. B. Varner, C. A. McGraw, S. H. Mitchell, J. V. Nichols, H. C. Ayers, J. L. Black, H. E. Blackburn, J. K. Brown, W. C. Budd, P. H. Gunnells, F. E. Morehead, M. L. Warwick, A. D. Whittemore, and were admitted into full connection.

Third-year class advanced to fourth year—A. Atkins, C. L. Allen, W. E. Chapman, S. C. Davis, R. D. Wintegan, C. S. Forester, R. J. Kerr, W. G. Irwin, J. P. McKnight, M. M. Whittemore, J. B. Stephenson, R. C. Shea.

Fourth-year class advanced and elected to elders' orders—J. W. Garner, R. L. Barton, D. L. Haygood, C. A. McGraw, S. H. Mitchell, J. V. Nichols, W. A. Pilgrim, W. P. Rowe, G. M. Spirey, H. L. Smith, O. L. Vickery, H. L. Wood, A. A. Phillips.

Sunday Appointments.
Visiting Methodist pastors in attendance upon the conference on yesterday have been invited to preach in numbers of Atlanta pulpits tomorrow morning and evening. The schedule of arrangements at this time is as follows: Where the name of only one visiting minister is given, it is intended for the morning service. Other names will be for the evening hour, unless otherwise stated.

The list of appointments is as follows: First Methodist Church—Rev. J. W. O. McKibben.

St. Mark Church—Dr. W. P. King and Rev. Claude Haynes.

Park Street—Rev. Zack Hayes and Rev. Robert Lyle at 5 p. m.

St. John—Rev. Frank Quillian and Rev. Paul Turner.

Martha Brown Memorial—Rev. E. G. Thompson.

East Point—Rev. W. A. Tyson.

Glenn Memorial—Rev. Nath Thompson.

Peachtree Road—Rev. L. W. Collins.

Oakland City—Rev. John B. Tate and Rev. L. F. Hickey.

Center Street—Rev. L. F. Hickey and Rev. J. J. Sneed.

Grace—Rev. J. S. Thrallkill and Rev. L. B. Harrell.

Epworth—Rev. H. C. Emory and Rev. C. M. Liphart.

Stewart Avenue—Rev. George L. King.

No definite and final announcement was made yesterday as to what exact hour the pastoral appointments might be read. Bishop Ainsworth's suggestion and desire is for the reading to be Monday morning; but there is a growing sentiment for their reading tomorrow afternoon following the memorial session. It was said that the business of the session will permit adjournment by tomorrow afternoon.

ALL DEBT WIPED OUT BY MCKENDREE CHURCH

The McKendree Methodist Episcopal church is now entirely free of all debt, it was announced yesterday following the burning of the church mortgage at a special Thanksgiving Day ceremony and the paying off of all outstanding obligations.

The celebration was conducted with the pastor, the Rev. Jesse D. Booth, in charge. Following the special and regular services the women of the church prepared and served a basket dinner.

CRIDING THE CIRCUIT AT THE METHODIST CONFERENCE

BY THOS. M. ELLIOTT

"Stay out of ecclesiastical politics," cried Bishop Ainsworth Friday morning, as he addressed the class of ten young ministers upon their admission into full connection in the conference. The bishop condemned heartily the practice of what is termed church politics, and exhorted the young men to apply themselves rather to personal evangelism.

"Not Married, No Children."

The conference had a hearty laugh at the expense of Rev. J. H. Barton, of Villa Rica, both active itinerants; the aunt of Rev. B. L. Barton, of Temple; mother-in-law of Rev. C. O. Gardner, of Virginia, an active minister, who is the son of a preacher, family, etc., when he was understood to say of one young man, "He is not married; has no children." Gales of laughter swept over the two crowded floors of Wesley Memorial auditorium. Finally, it was made plain that the conference had not heard him clearly.

Oil and Gas $1.00 a Day.

Rev. W. M. Jones, of the Marietta district, surely rides about. His district is so arranged that he rides some 25,000 miles a year, wears out numerous tires, and suffers car depreciation. His oil and gas bill, Mr. Jones, a dollar a day, he judges, to say nothing of other expenses.

Sufficient Cause for Profanity.

A northeast Georgia preacher tells us of coming unexpected upon one of his members who was unaware of the pastor's presence, and who was engaging in a tantrum cursing. So happened that the man's wife had run off with another man, and he was giving vent to his indignation. Seeing the pastor, he cried out, "Preacher, you'd 'cuse," too, if your wife ran off with another man."

Youthful Judgment Suspended.

We overheard the remark of a young preacher, barely 21, who was discussing the question of the Virgin birth with others standing around. We heard this young ecclesiastic remark, "As to the Virgin birth, I am now making my judgment suspended until I study further." Now, we opine that that is something else we'll have to worry about, waiting till his judgment is made up.

Could You Tell Me?

Could you tell us who is the preacher that actually forgot to go to his preaching appointment? It really happened in this conference. You tell us who is the preaching elder that preached the same sermon two times to the same congregation? That happened, too. Could you tell us who is the preacher this year wore out his long-tailed coat putting his hand in the pocket so many times in one sermon? Believe it or not, by actual hands, he took out and put back his handkerchief 43 times in one sermon, and put his glasses on and off 13 times. Could you tell us who is the preacher that carries on so much conferring in his sermon, that people go away wondering whether or not they have been to church or a show? Could you tell us who is the preacher this year preached a sermon and not one time mentioned the Lord's name? These things remind one that truth is stranger than fiction.

Questions for Emory Conference.

Atlanta papers inform us that the delegates at Emory University have a conference, with a bishop, appointments, "everything that an annual conference has, and that they study and dispose of the existing conditions that confront a pastor in charge of churches. Here are a few little questions some of us old-timers would like to ask the young brethren, tell us how to handle: What are you going to do, when a steward tells you that he wants you to come back, and on the same train that carries you to the conference sends a letter to the bishop asking that you be moved? What are you going to do, when there is a free-for-all in the choir? Here are you going to keep quiet, when a member brings you 20 bundles of fodder to go on quaterage, and then puts up his horse on you for three days? What are you going to do about it, when your church says you won't pay your debts, and they come up short on your salary $450? What are you going to do, when the preacher of another denomination sits up nights and works harder than the devil trying to proselyte your members? These are just a few of the very real and very simple questions that the man out front has to answer. If the brethren at Emory conference have the answers, please send 'em along to the puzzled veterans.

Preachers in Her Hair.

Mrs. George W. Hamilton, of Stone Mountain, wife of the Methodist pastor in that little city, is somewhat like the Light Brigade, except instead of having cannons to the right, and cannons to the left, she has preachers to the fore, and preachers aft, and preachers on either side of her life experience. In fact, she says preachers have been so thick in her career they sometimes get in her hair. Here's how Mrs. Hamilton stands related to preachers today: Great-granddaughter of a preacher, daughter of a preacher, wife of a preacher, sister of two preachers, aunt of a preacher, the mother-in-law of a preacher, who himself happens to be a preacher.

YOUNG MOTHER KILLS 2 CHILDREN AND SELF

BOSTON, Nov. 27.—(AP)—A 26-year-old mother, Mrs. Clarabelle Nahas, killed her two small children, a medical examiner said, and then committed suicide today, by illuminating gas.

The woman's husband, Richard Nahas, discovered the triple tragedy to-night and was prevented from hurrying himself to death from their fourth-floor apartment by his nephew and policeman.

CAROLINA FUGITIVE CAPTURED AT HOME

MT. AIRY, N. C., Nov. 27.—(AP)—Caleb Wagoner, 44, a fugitive from state's prison, was captured at his home near here late today.

He eluded officers for a number of days, hiding out in the mountains. He escaped from a prison camp near Monroe after serving less than three months of his sentence.

PALMIST

Reader and Advisor
See what you are allotted for. When you know tomorrow, let me tell you today. I call you by name, when married, to whom, give advice on all family affairs. Business troubles, tell me many things you never dreamed of. I have succeeded where all other readers have failed. Guaranteed to solve your problems. If I fail to tell you, you cost nothing.

Special Reading 50c

NOTES: 9 A. M. TO 9 P. M.

2282 Peachtree Rd.

PEACHTREE CREEK CAR STOP

Gay berets, dashing turbans, aristocratic high crowns... all of fashion's favorites! Suedes, metallics, felts, beltings—Hats for every occasion! You'll buy two or more at this Low Price!

HIGH'S

MILLINERY, SECOND FLOOR

STUDENT ASKS COURT TO LIFT SCHOOL BAN

Non-Saluter of Flag Asks
Reinstatement and Asserts
Loyalty.

Petition for a mandamus to force the Atlanta board of education and Superintendent of Schools Willis Sutton to reinstate Dorothy Leeles, 12-year-old schoolgirl who was suspended October 13 for failure to salute the flag, was filed yesterday in Fulton superior court.

Action was brought through the girl's father, George C. Leeles, as the child is a minor and Judge John D. Humphries set the hearing on the mandamus for 9 o'clock December 11. Henderson Lanham and Chastain Parker, Rome, Ga., attorneys, represent the girl.

In her petition the girl says she and her father belong to a religious sect known as Jehovah's Witnesses, which forbids saluting the flag or wearing any emblem, image or person except God.

Declaring she is a loyal, law-abiding citizen of the nation, state and city, she claims the action of the board in upholding her suspension by Superintendent Sutton for her failure to salute the flag is a violation of the state and federal constitutions which guarantee freedom of worship and speech.

"Petitioner honestly and conscientiously believes it is a sin for her to salute, worship or do obeisance to any image, emblem, person or thing except Almighty God," the petition reads.

Law Violation Forced.

The petition contends Dorothy and her father, a naturalized Greek, believe in the American form of government, and obey its constitution and laws, but deny the right of school authorities to make rules interfering with religious belief.

It is also alleged the state law provides she must attend school so many months per year and that the rule of the defendants has forced her to violate this law.

At the time of her suspension, Dorothy was a member of the sixth grade class of the Crew Street school.

STUDENT ASKS COURT TO LIFT SCHOOL BAN

Non-Saluter of Flag Asks
Reinstatement and Asserts
Loyalty.

Petition for a mandamus to force the Atlanta board of education and Superintendent of Schools Willis Sutton to reinstate Dorothy Leeles, 12-year-old schoolgirl who was suspended October 13 for failure to salute the flag, was filed yesterday in Fulton superior court.

Action was brought through the girl's father, George C. Leeles, as the child is a minor and Judge John D. Humphries set the hearing on the mandamus for 9 o'clock December 11. Henderson Lanham and Chastain Parker, Rome, Ga., attorneys, represent the girl.

In her petition the girl says she and her father belong to a religious sect known as Jehovah's Witnesses, which forbids saluting the flag or wearing any emblem, image or person except God.

Declaring she is a loyal, law-abiding citizen of the nation, state and city, she claims the action of the board in upholding her suspension by Superintendent Sutton for her failure to salute the flag is a violation of the state and federal constitutions which guarantee freedom of worship and speech.

"Petitioner honestly and conscientiously believes it is a sin for her to salute, worship or do obeisance to any image, emblem, person or thing except Almighty God," the petition reads.

Law Violation Forced.

The petition contends Dorothy and her father, a naturalized Greek, believe in the American form of government, and obey its constitution and laws, but deny the right of school authorities to make rules interfering with religious belief.

It is also alleged the state law provides she must attend school so many months per year and that the rule of the defendants has forced her to violate this law.

At the time of her suspension, Dorothy was a member of the sixth grade class of the Crew Street school.

CREDITORS LOSERS IN COURT DECISION

Refusal to Open Receivership for New Claims Upheld on Appeal.

The Georgia supreme court upheld Superior Judge Malcolm D. Jones yesterday in his refusal to open up a receivership at Macon to allow creditors to file claims of more than $40,000.

Industrial Realty Company and Lone Star Cement Company sought to file claims against the receivers for the International Reinsurance Corporation and the Industrial Realty Company after the deadline, June 28, 1934.

The supreme court said Judge Jones did not "lose his discretion" in refusing to reopen the suit.

Lone Star Cement Company claimed the Independence Indemnity Company owed $2,475.54 and the Industrial Realty Company claimed a balance of $5,821.70 was still due on an $18,000 judgment.

In another case the supreme court upheld Judge A. L. Franklin, of Augusta, in refusing an injunction against the sale of land belonging to Jamie L. Pinckney by Stella Wassman Weil.

BENDIX PLANT REOPENS
AFTER TEN-DAY STRIKE

SOUTH BEND, Ind., Nov. 27.—(AP)—After 10 days of idleness, employees of the Bendix Products Corporation were back at their jobs today and faced with full day and night shifts through Sunday in an effort to make up lost production.

All work at the plant was halted November 17 when company officials ordered all power turned off after demands had been made for complete unionization of the plant.

More than 1,000 employees remained in the factory until last Monday while peace negotiations proceeded. An agreement finally was reached Wednesday night. Under the terms of the settlement, the company agreed to recognize Local Union No. 9, United Automobile Workers of America.

Then he gave forth the moral of his parable, a la Aesop: "When a church takes all its time and money and effort to create a great missionary society, a great Sunday school and a great Epworth league, etc., it won't have much, if anything, left to be the real heart of the church. That's why the preacher with a small number constitute the usual congregation, while the missionary women, the Sunday school men and the Epworth League young folk go home."

"Son, that's pretty much what's the matter with Hannah now."

And when you come to study the matter, you'll agree that Jabesh Gilead is not far from the truth.

STOP THAT COUGH DUE TO COLDS
MENTHO-MULSION 75c

Fashion's Highlights Are Reflected in These New

Hats

$2.00

Jeweled

Bows

HIGH'S

MILLINERY, SECOND FLOOR

Boys' Suits

Lucky, indeed, the boy to get these new boys' suits! Look at the new Duke of Kent button-down collar. Examine the fine broadcloth, whites and patterns. Sizes 8 to 14! ..... 79c

Wool Sweaters

Just name it—and we've the sweater that Atlanta boys take to. Choose from styles, weaves, colors worn by the best dressed school-boys. Two prices—$1.69 and $1.98

Boys' Novelty Suits

... full lined, self-belted wool shorts and dress shirt with tie.

Youngsters of 5 to 9 get a complete outfit in these novelty suits. Many styles! Many style combinations.

$1.98

Full Zipper Navy Jackets

$1.94

The best all-round coat a boy could have! Not too heavy—but a substantial medium weight that withstands the weather, yet isn't bunglesome. Finished with slash pockets and side buckles. Sizes 8 to 18.

Boys' Wear—HIGH'S STREET FLOOR

Boys' Suits

For all the world like a hand-knit! Made of fine all-wool sephyr in solid greens, blues, navy and red, navy and capes or brown and green combinations. Some have collars, others round, high necklines and no collars. Button fronts, fitted elastic top skirts.

SILK DRESSES. A lovely choice, taffetas and crepes in street styles and fluffy-ruffled party affairs.

HOLIDAY SHADES... $2.98

FLANNEL ROBES. Of 100% all wool, in tan, wine, rose, green, brown. Pockets, tuxedo collar, both trimmed with white silk braid, finished with white silk cord sash.... $2.98

Boys' Suits

LONGIE SUITS
(sizes 12 to 20)

$11.90

KNICKER SUITS
(sizes 8 to 14)

$7.90

Up-to-the-Minute Single or Double-Breasted Styles!

Suits that STAND UP! Sturdy suits—styles that regular fellows go for! Materials that mothers can tell at a glance will stand the gaff! Blue chevrons, greys, browns. At a price that Dads can't grumble about.

BOYS' WEAR—HIGH'S STREET FLOOR

Boys' Novelty Suits

HIGH'S... maintains quality, yet SELLS FOR LESS!

The Store for Everybody's Gift!

Best Style Sports COATS

- Princess Silhouettes
- Plain Tailored Styles
- Double-Breasted Models
- Graceful Swing Types
- Raglan Shoulder Models

$12.95

- exactly like $16.95 coats that have sold so successfully! Same models, fabrics, labels—EVERYTHING!

Coats of luxurious warmth, beautifully tailored—the MOST POPULAR SPORTS STYLES of the season! Grand rugged-looking, weather-defying coats that have "what it takes." Coats you'll LIVE IN all winter long! Misses and women's sizes.

Nubs!
Fleeces!
Mixtures!
Diagonals!

COATS—HIGH'S SECOND FLOOR

Quality Furred COATS

- Fitch
- Kidskin
- Squirrel
- Krimmer Lamb
- Wolf
- Marten
- Persian Lamb
- Silvered Fox
- American Fox

$35.00

- coats that have been selling for $39.95 and $44... those rich luxurious kinds with glamorous furs found only on the more expensive models.

You won't find BETTER coats, more beautiful fashions and furs—even at DOLLARS MORE! Height of the season models... the new swing types! Fitted and Princess styles! Beautifully executed in every detail! Not because they're our coats and we want to sell 'em, but we say in all sincerity, we don't believe you are going to find a better coat buy in all Atlanta. Shop, compare... be convinced! Misses and women's sizes.

- CONVENIENT PAYMENT PLANS available on your coat purchase.

COATS—HIGH'S SECOND FLOOR

Higher Price Fur COATS

- Jap Lapin
- Northern Seal
- Mendoza Lapin
- Mendoza Beaver
- Krimmer Paws

$69

- $79 to $99 prosperous figure-flattering coats—all of beautifully matched skins! Distinguished models, the very acme of style!

For sheer elegance, we've seen nothing like them! Styled to bring out the full rich beauty of their brown and black pelts. Princess, fitted and swagger types, with the most flattering collars, the newest full sleeves, costly silk linings. The last word in lavish luxury. Give yourself a real fur coat for Christmas!

Easy
Payment
Plans
For Your Convenience

FUR SHOP—HIGH'S SECOND FLOOR

Buy for Yourself and for Gifts!

Sale! Toiletries

50c JERGENS' LOTION
Keeps hands soft and smooth in cold weather...24c

50c DETOXOL PASTE
Large tubes—a favorite brand...23c

50c WOODBURY CREAMS
Cold, cleansing and facial, special...24c

50c IPANA PASTE
Refreshing—for the Smile of Beauty...23c

COTY'S ENSEMBLE—GIFT BOXED
Face powder, rouge and lipstick in attractive gift boxes, Each...$1.50

Men's Sets—Gift Boxed

Williams and Woodbury sets—famous makes, beautifully boxed!

69c

LUXOR POWDER-PERFUME
Fine face powder with dainty perfume...35c

CUTEX MANICURE SET
Regularly $1. Bakelite boxes...89c

LISTERINE ANTISEPTIC
Regularly 75c—special today...59c

LAVORIS—ZONITE
Regular $1 Antiseptics, each...49c

Lentheric's Eau de Cologne

Miracle, Tweed, Gardenia and Shanghai odors.
Choice for...

$1

TOILETRIES, HIGH'S STREET FLOOR

New Svelte Belts

Fashion's smartest accessories! Wear 'em with your dresses, suits or coats... for added style! Choose from the newest at High's!

Tubular Belts

Slim, trim styles in black, brown and navy...50c and $1

New Metal Belts

Slim styles for dressy frocks and suits...$1.19 and $1.50

New Suede Belts

Intriguing buckles! Tubulars to 3-in. widths...50c to $1

Belt and Bow Sets

Gold kid belt, 22-kt. gold-plated bow—non-tarnishable...$2

BELTS—HIGH'S STREET FLOOR

A Gift! Silk—Satin Gowns

$1.98

TAILORED STYLES

Luscious tearose, blue burgundy and Royal blue

LACE TRIMMED

Festive with foamy lace, in lovely pastel shades

The loveliest things you EVER SAW! Imagine, pure dye silk satin gowns... with such becoming necklines, such charming youthful fitted silhouettes! Made of all silk, satin or crepe of exquisite qualities. Sizes 15, 16 and 17. The perfect gift for any woman!

Slips Galore

- Silk Crepe and Satin
- Tailored or Lace Trim

The kinds that will appeal to women who have set ideas about their slips!
Who want them to fit smoothly and not pull out at the seams. 4-gore and biascut, the tailored styles with double tops, embroidered. Others trimmed in imported Alencon lace top and bottom.
Tearose or white.

$1.98

Sizes:
34-44
46-52

Moire House Coats

Think of the thrill of getting one for Christmas! Fitted ankle length with large bottom, deep revers and slim sash. Royal blue, wine, green, navy.
Sizes 14 to 20.

$2

HIGH'S THIRD FLOOR

- Gift
Wrapping
Service

Let us make your package
"Christmassy" with gay special paper and ties. No charge for this service... only for cost of materials!

WRAPPING BOOTH—
STREET FLOOR

HIGH'S

Silk Crepe
Pajamas
$1.98

Look these over! See if you don't agree with us that they're utterly irresistible! 2-piece styles with dainty collars, plain tailored or trimmed with imported laces. Tea-rose and blue, 15, 16 and 17.
HIGH'S THIRD FLOOR

Save 1/4, 1/3, 1/2 and More!

After-Thanksgiving

DRESS Markdowns

Odds and Ends! Broken Assortments and Sizes
Corralled for a Complete Clearaway!

Dark Sheer Dresses

Dressy types—formerly $7.85

to $10.85... Now... $3.00

Fall Costume Suits

$19.75 Values! Limited

quantity. Broken sizes... Now... $13.75

Formals—Light Shades

Misses sizes—formerly $7.95

to $10.85... Now... $3.00

New Fall Dresses

Tailored and dressy, were

$7.85... Now... $4.55

New Fall Dresses

Black and high shades, formerly $10.85... Now... $7.00

Better Dresses

$16.75-$19.75 values,

one and two of a kind. Now... $12.00

DRESSES—HIGH'S SECOND FLOOR

THE CONSTITUTION

Entered at the Postoffice at Atlanta as second-class mail matter.

Telephone WA 9684.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES:
By Carrier or Mail:
1 Year $1.00
6 Months .50
3 Months .25
Single Copies—Daily 10c, Sunday 15c.

BY MAIL ONLY:
Daily 10c, Sunday 15c, 10c per copy.
Mail rates for U. S. and small or non-dealer towns for 1st, 2nd and 3rd postal zones only, as applicable.

KELLY-SMITH COMPANY, national rep. publishers, New York, Chicago, Detroit, Boston, Philadelphia, Atlanta.

THE CONSTITUTION is on sale in New York City by 2 p. m. the day after issue. It can be had by mail from the publisher, Kelly-Smith Company, 100 Broadway, New York City.

The Constitution is not responsible for advance payments to out-of-town local carriers, dealers or agents. Receipts given for subscription payments are not returned; also not responsible for subscription payments until received at office of publication.

Member of the Associated Press. The Associated Press is exclusively entitled to use for publication of all news dispatches credited to it or not otherwise credited to this paper and also the local news published herein.

ATLANTA, GA., NOV. 28, 1936.

WHOSE RESPONSIBILITY?

"Geel! The rest of our lives in prison!" exclaimed Frank Tallach, 17, as he and Louis Miller, 18, were sentenced by a Chicago jurist to 199 years in the penitentiary for murdering an intended holdup victim and wounding an aged man who resisted their attempt to rob him.

Today there are a score of persons in Sing Sing prison under sentence of death for capital crimes, who range in ages from 17 to 25, and throughout the nation there is the same percentage of youth standing in the shadow of death, or facing life behind prison bars, as a penalty for crimes against the laws of the land.

Where rests the responsibility for the predominance of youth in criminal offenses—a deplorable condition that is substantiated by J. Edgar Hoover, chief of the federal department of crime investigation and enforcement, and the pronouncements of a score of judges in juvenile courts of the nation?

Certainly not upon the religious institutions of the land, the denunciations of which offer a wide variety of sectarian beliefs, but all of which teach the same fundamentals of upright life, and whose sanctuaries are always open and whose ministers are always ready and desirous of pointing out the right pathway of life to the young.

Is the fault in the home? Ministers of the gospel have so intimated; judges of juvenile courts, amazed at the preponderance of criminal offenses on the part of adolescent youth, have placed the entire responsibility upon parents who neglect early training of the children they have brought into the world, and for whose early mischievous or criminal tendencies they are wholly responsible. Few children inherit criminal instincts, and even those who do can be taught the difference between right and wrong, if brought up under the proper environment and careful instruction.

It is futile to exclaim at existing conditions unless we recognize the underlying causes of those conditions and seek to remedy them. It may be too late to check the careers of some adolescents, but there is another generation of children growing up still young enough to be brought under control, and their future should be the concern of parents, else they may sometime be in the position to echo the words of Frank Tallach—

"Geel! The rest of my life in prison!"

In a new war, says a German, the people could live on wood alone. The picture of a bride, mashing a thumb while nailing the top on a pie, unmanus us.

The dictators appear to see eye to eye, but wait till it has to be decided who will be master of ceremonies in a theater of war.

With the new process by which a photo may be sent over the phone, a returned tourist could tie up a party line all afternoon with a bunch of snapshots.

With a little co-operation it looks as if the idle could eventually be found jobs. "Don't look now," says one of the boys in the poolroom, "but they're taking away our liberty."

They say a scheme is on to run the much-perforated Versailles treaty through a player piano and get a melody of war songs.

IN THE NAME OF RELIGION
Rheba Crawford Spilivo, once a Salvation Army lass in Atlanta when her father was in charge of that organization's activities in the southeast, later achieving fame as the "Angel of Broadway" in New York city, and at a later date associate pastor of Angelus Temple in Los Angeles, has sued Aimee Semple McPherson, founder of that famous institution, for $1,050,000 damages in a slander suit.

The internal affairs of Angelus Temple and the "Four Square Gospel," as proclaimed by the litany-haired evangelist to an ever increasing number of disciples, may be no matter of concern for the world at large, but when during a period of years those affairs are blazoned in newspaper stories, embracing accounts of marriages and divorces, mysterious disappearances, alleged abductions, family squabbles, and several suits at law, alleging defamation of character, the average old-time person of religious turn of mind wonders at this queer turn of publicized Christianity.

No one can deny that "Sister" Aimee Semple McPherson has an unusual personality; she had to possess that to rise from an itinerant evangelist operating on the kerosene-lamp circuit to a million-dollar temple in Los Angeles, with missions in many cities and outposts in the Far East, but one wonders if her slogan of "Page Christ" is winning souls as adherents to the doctrines of that meek but wonderful Teacher while on earth, and an inspiration in His divine character—or spellbound admirers of an amazing personality who uses Christianity as a means to gain publicity and the fruits of riches.

LIVESTOCK PROGRESS

Along with the movement to further develop the production of cattle and hogs in Georgia, progressive interests of the state are pushing the project of raising more work stock, and thus keep at home a large sum of money that goes out of the state for mules bred in other sections of the country.

An outstanding move to this end was perfected recently by the formation of the Oglethorpe 4-H Brood Mare Club, with 45 members, who now own 53 brood mares. The purchase of these mares was financed by the Athens Productive Association, each boy or girl who purchased a mare having two years in which to finish payments for same. The father of the club member agrees for him to have the free use of four acres of land with which to help feed and pay for the mare, the particular use of each acre being specified as to crops to be raised thereon. Each owner of a brood mare has also subscribed to a fund that will go toward the purchase of a high-grade jack.

A work stock expansion program started at the state prison farm at Milledgeville last year, under which to mule colts are now being raised, was further augmented last week by receipt of a shipment of brood mares from the north. In addition to raising mules, the commission expects to raise jacks, and has acquired several Jennies for that purpose.

Turning from the work stock program to cattle, it is announced that Moultrie businessmen are going into partnership with farm boys of southwest Georgia to see that every boy who desires to fatten a steer this winter may do so. Each businessman joining in the project will select a boy, see that he gets a loan to finance his purchase, and then check on his progress during the winter. While it is a partnership, the boy is to receive any profit or award from his venture and, at the same time, gain valuable knowledge on how to fatten and finish an animal for the market.

Co-operation in further developing the beef cattle industry in eastern Georgia and western South Carolina received impetus last week when 23 counties formed the Twin States Livestock Producers' Association, bringing under a parent organization existing clubs in the counties affected to co-operate in securing benefits in the way of lower freight rates, the control of disease among livestock, and the dissemination of information on breeding, care of stock, feeding and marketing.

Georgia bankers and businessmen generally are aiding in every way possible progressive farmers and 4-H Club boys who desire to engage in some branch of the livestock industry. Cattle and hog raising is receiving principal attention, and now that the production of work stock is getting under way, it would be well for farmers to begin sheep raising, with a few head to start their project and from which to gain experience as their flocks gradually increase.

The next World War will be against insects. In a couple of hundred years, termites could do to Madrid what artillery does in 45 minutes.

World's Window

By PIERRE VAN PAASSEN.

Spanish Resilience.

Macaulay has a passage on the military resilience and courage of the Spaniards which seems apt today. There is no country in Europe, he writes, which is so easy to overrun as Spain; there is no country in Europe which is more difficult to conquer. Nothing can be more contemptible than the regular military resistance which Spain offers to an invader; nothing more formidable than the energy she puts forth when her regular military resistance has been beaten down.

Her armies have long borne too much resemblance to mobs; but her mobs have had, to an unusual degree, the spirit of armies. The soldier, compared with other soldiers, is deficient in military qualities; but the peasant has as much of those qualities as the soldier.

In no country have strong fortresses been taken by surprise. In no country have unfortified towns made so furious and obstinate a resistance to great armies. War in Spain has, from the days of the Romans, had a character of its own. It is a fine which cannot be raked out; it burns fiercely under the embers and long after it has, to all seeming, been extinguished, bursts forth more violently than ever.

So he wrote in 1832, reviewing the past of the Iberian peninsula. History may or may not be philosophy teaching by examples. But the students of world affairs will probably find food for thought in the current phase in Macaulay's generalizations.

The Eighteenth Time.

Here in France and over in England they celebrated the 18th anniversary of the Armistice the other day. I noticed that the attitude of the men gathered under the Arch of Triumph seemed a little less solemn than on previous occasions. Still, amongst the world maimed, I noticed many who bowed their heads during the silence. Others stared in front of them with eyes that did not seem to be fixed upon the worldly scene. One who did not serve in the war could only guess what their thoughts could be.

In the crowd, too, were many middle-aged women who had not come to witness a spectacle. From a study of their demeanor it was clear that they had a personal stake in the commemoration and still mourned a son or a husband. It is difficult to say, but I think new about Armistice Day, one message and one only needs to be repeated until it is all laid to heart—that it is a day of remembrance of those who paid a heavy price with their lives.

There are still the blinded and the maimed to think about, and even worse, those broken in spirit, the shell-shocked and the insane. The war did more than devastate the land; it broke up the old ways of thinking and the old paths of custom and use. Sometimes it seems that this post-war generation stumbles along feeling a lack of guidance. The direction post of its life were lost in the night-mare. Sympathy and understanding are needed. Not peace-lovers or peace-talkers, but peace-makers are blessed by Christ and we must avoid hatred. If the world has been made a better place, it is still time to put things right. That seems the first task before the world.

(Copyright, 1936, for The Constitution)

Good Morning.

By LOUIE D. NEWTON.

PISCATORIAL PHENOMENA

I was saying something yesterday to the effect that I had the rare privilege of spending a few days in Florida with Mr. E. M. Hudson, Dr. C. Davidson and other friends, fishing at Homosassa. I first thought I wouldn't go beyond a few remarks about Homosassa, feeling that anything remarks about fishing would probably cause my friends to take too much chloride, but I may be permitted to report briefly on what seems to me nothing less than a phenomenal phenomenon.

You may recall that I was describing the village of Homosassa yesterday. Across the beautiful river from the village is the Homosassa Fishing Club, and a few private residences of friends who go down to Homosassa for fishing. The club house has the appearance of a residence, and was originally a residence. It is a beautiful building, modern in its appointments, ideally suited to the purpose of a fishing club.

In addition to Mr. Hudson and Dr. Davidson and myself, Mr. J. K. Orr, Sr. and Mrs. William C. Ward, Jr., composed the party last week and this week. The fish were in a friendly mood. We had a fine time. Mr. and Mrs. Ward had almost set a record when they caught 95 pounds of red fish (deep sea bass) one day. Mr. Hudson and I caught 65 sea trout caught on another day. Mr. Allen and Mrs. Marshall caught more than 100 pounds of reds on another day.

But it remained for Tuesday, November 24, to smash all records. The cool snap had run the reds into the river, and maybe it was the cold snap, or maybe it was the "hook knows." Anyway, we found them, and they were fighting for a chance at live bait. The whole river seemed to be full of red fish, but the Homosassa seemed to be Hell Gate, one of the narrow passes in the river where there are several very deep, rocky holes. Here, the Homosassa Fishing Club, estimated that there were 2,000 pounds of red fish caught at Hell Gate on hook and line November 24. Dr. Davidson and I were fishing from the same boat, and we caught 59 reds that weighed 299 pounds after they were drawn. Six men fishing. I do not know what you may have to say about this fish story, but I can remember, I have plenty of witnesses.

Go Over Falls.

Fifty years ago—Sadie Allen and George Hazlett took a date and went over Niagara falls together in a barrel. They lived to tell the tale—over and over—after bobbing around for three hours between Maid of the Mist landing and Whirlpool Park. Hazlett was able to celebrate that night with friends, but Sadie had to nurse her bruises and doctor her stomach, which was violently upset during the ride.

Lots of Water.

Sixteen million tons of water fall from the sky every second of the day and night throughout the year, but five-eighths of it falls upon oceans, where it isn't needed or won't do any damage.

NEWS BEHIND THE NEWS

By PAUL MALLON.

GANG DIPLOMACY

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27.—The anti-Communist alliance between Japan and Germany was announced as a defensive move. The Nipponese and the Hitlerites say they are just going to keep their eyes on the Reds and exchange information about how to stop them. They would not harm a hair of the Russian head, not for the world.

This official assurance did not even fool the government-controlled press of Japan and Germany, and was not intended to. It was merely another of those diplomatic double entendres for the record. The transcript of the League of Nations is full of them.

The defensive measures contemplated are along the general lines of Al Capone's defensive measures against rival gangsters in Chicago. The Japanese emperor and Herr Hitler may move with slightly more grace than Mr. Capone, but their joint objective is the overthrow of the Stalin regime in Russia. As the Russian Comintern is supposed to be plotting overthrow of the emperor and the fuhrer, it is to be fit for tat or rat for rat.

This, at any rate, is the firm conviction of all who know anything about the subject here.

SCHEMES

This does not mean the new allies are going out to capture Moscow. They probably will not even declare war, unless forced.

But, between now and spring, you will hear a lot about the prospect of some joint German-Japanese military maneuvers to be undertaken as soon as the trees begin to bud. You will read that the Japanese are perfecting plans to seize the Russian maritime provinces in one swoop, and that simultaneously the Germans will rush into the Ukraine. The allies will then entrench upon their ill-gotten gains and see if Stalin can stand up in Moscow under such pressure.

That is the military theory and there is nothing wrong with it as theory. However, there are sound reasons for doubting that the situation will move so far so fast.

Moscow will hear of the theory, however, and that is the main thing. It will give Mr. Stalin something to think about, other than Spain and world revolution.

Note.—The expectation of a general European war in April is not shared by the best judges in official quarters, although some very well informed persons are inclined to believe it probable.

JITTERS

This kind of terrorizing diplomatic pressure may promote German-Japanese purposes in Russia faster than you would believe.

It was only a few months ago that Stalin found it necessary to stage a wholesale purge of political adversaries. Now he has timed his announcement of a liberalization of the Soviet constitution to coincide with the alliance announcement. The manner and swing of his step does not indicate that he considers his government perpetually secure.

Incidentally, the constitutional liberalization does not seem to be very deep or sincere. The people are to be given freedom on paper, but woe will be unto them if they try to exercise it in any manner displeasing to the government. The press is to be free also, but you will find any Russian editor denouncing Stalin in print.

INVITATIONS

Stalin's move toward "a real democracy" was deemed here to be a rather tardy bid for the sympathy of democracies, particularly the United States. Few authorities here considered it seriously. Certainly it did not inspire any real official sympathy.

Nor did our diplomats devote any greater attention to the similar bid from the Germans and Japanese. They did not deign to comment upon the pointed assertion of Hitler's Ribbentrop that the United States had protested against the Comintern last year and that any nation would be welcomed into the new alliance.

Both the German and Japanese diplomats are unofficially aware of the fact that the United States cannot enter into any mutual defense pacts of foreign nations, and the present government would not, if it could.

NOTES

An interesting theory of the coming European war is offered by one official here. He says there will be no war in the spring because the war is already on.

In his opinion, the war started in Spain and will not end until something like it occurs in most of the countries of Europe. France, he says, is next.

Stop the presses! Congressman Lemke, who ran for the presidency, but not very far, is now writing a book. It will not explain how he was defeated, but will deal with a subject with which he is only remotely connected: Money.

Push Norman Baxter, the Jesse Jones press agent, up to the front of the list of those most likely to succeed Presidential Secretary Stephen T. Early when he transfers to a movie executive job January 1.

(Copyright, 1936, by Paul Mallon.)

SILHOUETTES

By RALPH T. JONES.

The wind she blow
On Ponche de Leon,
The cold she make you shiver,
But colder far
You will be on
The day you cross that river.

It Was Simply

The U. S. Barracks.

Copied Martine L. Harmsen to settle the little argument as to the correct name of the federal army post that was in Atlanta, on the site now occupied by Spelman Seminary, before Fort McPherson was built.

"The post was simply known," he writes, "as the United States Barracks and was never, at any time, called anything else. The name McPherson was given to the new post which replaced it, and the section was known as Jamestown. This name continued to be used for the section, until the property was bought by the builders of Spelman Seminary.

"On Ella street, across the street from the property of the seminary, and on the corner of a two-story double tenement frame building, which is the last remaining of a row of 10 or 12 buildings, which were occupied by officers' quarters. Some months ago I re-discovered this building and wrote a letter to one of our newspaper asking that the Historical Society have the place marked, and also take steps to see that the building was not torn down, as is the custom in Atlanta to demolish historical and interesting buildings.

John Ashley Jones, Len De Horry, Charles W. Whitner Sr. and Harry Flynn, old schoolmates of mine, will verify the above."

How About

Old Brooklyn?

Someday, someday, is going to write a fascinating history of that section of Atlanta which, years ago, was known as Brooklyn. On the front of this book is a picture of a man, and every now and then I hear a reference to it and am gradually getting a picture of a most colorful, typical old days' sore spot.

Origin of

An Old Wisecrack.

It was, I have been told, somewhere in the Brooklyn area that a piece of humor which has since gone everywhere in the world originated.

They say there was, in those days, a huge stable, the business place of a prosperous firm of horse dealers, which covered an area the size of a large city block. On the front of this building was a sign which, after giving the name of the firm, read "Biggest Stable in the World."

Next door there was another, smaller stable headquarters of a struggling little dealer in horses. And, on his

NEWS BEHIND THE NEWS

By PAUL MALLON.

GANG DIPLOMACY

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27.—The anti-Communist alliance between Japan and Germany was announced as a defensive move. The Nipponese and the Hitlerites say they are just going to keep their eyes on the Reds and exchange information about how to stop them. They would not harm a hair of the Russian head, not for the world.

This official assurance did not even fool the government-controlled press of Japan and Germany, and was not intended to. It was merely another of those diplomatic double entendres for the record. The transcript of the League of Nations is full of them.

The defensive measures contemplated are along the general lines of Al Capone's defensive measures against rival gangsters in Chicago. The Japanese emperor and Herr Hitler may move with slightly more grace than Mr. Capone, but their joint objective is the overthrow of the Stalin regime in Russia. As the Russian Comintern is supposed to be plotting overthrow of the emperor and the fuhrer, it is to be fit for tat or rat for rat.

SCHEMES

This does not mean the new allies are going out to capture Moscow. They probably will not even declare war, unless forced.

But, between now and spring, you will hear a lot about the prospect of some joint German-Japanese military maneuvers to be undertaken as soon as the trees begin to bud. You will read that the Japanese are perfecting plans to seize the Russian maritime provinces in one swoop, and that simultaneously the Germans will rush into the Ukraine. The allies will then entrench upon their ill-gotten gains and see if Stalin can stand up in Moscow under such pressure.

That is the military theory and there is nothing wrong with it as theory. However, there are sound reasons for doubting that the situation will move so far so fast.

Moscow will hear of the theory, however, and that is the main thing. It will give Mr. Stalin something to think about, other than Spain and world revolution.

Note.—The expectation of a general European war in April is not shared by the best judges in official quarters, although some very well informed persons are inclined to believe it probable.

JITTERS

This kind of terrorizing diplomatic pressure may promote German-Japanese purposes in Russia faster than you would believe.

It was only a few months ago that Stalin found it necessary to stage a wholesale purge of political adversaries. Now he has timed his announcement of a liberalization of the Soviet constitution to coincide with the alliance announcement. The manner and swing of his step does not indicate that he considers his government perpetually secure.

Incidentally, the constitutional liberalization does not seem to be very deep or sincere. The people are to be given freedom on paper, but woe will be unto them if they try to exercise it in any manner displeasing to the government. The press is to be free also, but you will find any Russian editor denouncing Stalin in print.

INVITATIONS

Stalin's move toward "a real democracy" was deemed here to be a rather tardy bid for the sympathy of democracies, particularly the United States. Few authorities here considered it seriously. Certainly it did not inspire any real official sympathy.

Nor did our diplomats devote any greater attention to the similar bid from the Germans and Japanese. They did not deign to comment upon the pointed assertion of Hitler's Ribbentrop that the United States had protested against the Comintern last year and that any nation would be welcomed into the new alliance.

Both the German and Japanese diplomats are unofficially aware of the fact that the United States cannot enter into any mutual defense pacts of foreign nations, and the present government would not, if it could.

NOTES

An interesting theory of the coming European war is offered by one official here. He says there will be no war in the spring because the war is already on.

In his opinion, the war started in Spain and will not end until something like it occurs in most of the countries of Europe. France, he says, is next.

Stop the presses! Congressman Lemke, who ran for the presidency, but not very far, is now writing a book. It will not explain how he was defeated, but will deal with a subject with which he is only remotely connected: Money.

Push Norman Baxter, the Jesse Jones press agent, up to the front of the list of those most likely to succeed Presidential Secretary Stephen T. Early when he transfers to a movie executive job January 1.

(Copyright, 1936, by Paul Mallon.)

SILHOUETTES

By RALPH T. JONES.

The wind she blow
On Ponche de Leon,
The cold she make you shiver,
But colder far
You will be on
The day you cross that river.

It Was Simply

The U. S. Barracks.

Copied Martine L. Harmsen to settle the little argument as to the correct name of the federal army post that was in Atlanta, on the site now occupied by Spelman Seminary, before Fort McPherson was built.

"The post was simply known," he writes, "as the United States Barracks and was never, at any time, called anything else. The name McPherson was given to the new post which replaced it, and the section was known as Jamestown. This name continued to be used for the section, until the property was bought by the builders of Spelman Seminary.

"On Ella street, across the street from the property of the seminary, and on the corner of a two-story double tenement frame building, which is the last remaining of a row of 10 or 12 buildings, which were occupied by officers' quarters. Some months ago I re-discovered this building and wrote a letter to one of our newspaper asking that the Historical Society have the place marked, and also take steps to see that the building was not torn down, as is the custom in Atlanta to demolish historical and interesting buildings.

John Ashley Jones, Len De Horry, Charles W. Whitner Sr. and Harry Flynn, old schoolmates of mine, will verify the above."

How About

Old Brooklyn?

Someday, someday, is going to write a fascinating history of that section of Atlanta which, years ago, was known as Brooklyn. On the front of this book is a picture of a man, and every now and then I hear a reference to it and am gradually getting a picture of a most colorful, typical old days' sore spot.

Origin of

An Old Wisecrack.

It was, I have been told, somewhere in the Brooklyn area that a piece of humor which has since gone everywhere in the world originated.

They say there was, in those days, a huge stable, the business place of a prosperous firm of horse dealers, which covered an area the size of a large city block. On the front of this building was a sign which, after giving the name of the firm, read "Biggest Stable in the World."

Next door there was another, smaller stable headquarters of a struggling little dealer in horses. And, on his

NEWS BEHIND THE NEWS

By PAUL MALLON.

GANG DIPLOMACY

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27.—The anti-Communist alliance between Japan and Germany was announced as a defensive move. The Nipponese and the Hitlerites say they are just going to keep their eyes on the Reds and exchange information about how to stop them. They would not harm a hair of the Russian head, not for the world.

This official assurance did not even fool the government-controlled press of Japan and Germany, and was not intended to. It was merely another of those diplomatic double entendres for the record. The transcript of the League of Nations is full of them.

The defensive measures contemplated are along the general lines of Al Capone's defensive measures against rival gangsters in Chicago. The Japanese emperor and Herr Hitler may move with slightly more grace than Mr. Capone, but their joint objective is the overthrow of the Stalin regime in Russia. As the Russian Comintern is supposed to be plotting overthrow of the emperor and the fuhrer, it is to be fit for tat or rat for rat.

SCHEMES

This does not mean the new allies are going out to capture Moscow. They probably will not even declare war, unless forced.

But, between now and spring, you will hear a lot about the prospect of some joint German-Japanese military maneuvers to be undertaken as soon as the trees begin to bud. You will read that the Japanese are perfecting plans to seize the Russian maritime provinces in one swoop, and that simultaneously the Germans will rush into the Ukraine. The allies will then entrench upon their ill-gotten gains and see if Stalin can stand up in Moscow under such pressure.

That is the military theory and there is nothing wrong with it as theory. However, there are sound reasons for doubting that the situation will move so far so fast.

A Bigger ★ Better ★ Bolder ★ Sale HIGH'S BASEMENT VALUE-RIOT

Read About the Greatest Basement Values in Years
DRASTIC MARKDOWNS -- DRESSES -- COATS

Girls, Be Early for These Values!

Girls' Reg. $7.98 Winter Coats

Mothers—here's a real coat buy! Some wear smart Alaska Lamb on their collars, others are without fur, all splendidly tailored of warm fleeces, suede cloths and tweeds, full lined and interlined. Tan, brown, wine and blue. Sizes 3 to 6, 7 to 14.

$5

HIGH'S BASEMENT

Girls' $1.39 Brush Twin Sets

Your opportunity, girls! Long sleeve outer sweater, short sleeve under sweater, in gray, wine, rust, navy and brown. Special at—

$1

HIGH'S BASEMENT

Seconds of 69c to $1.25 Qualities!

Full-Fashioned Silk Hose — 3 Pairs

Medium and sheer chiffon weights... lovely kinds in all new winter shades. Sizes 8½ to 10½. Now stock up on stockings!

$1

HIGH'S BASEMENT

Boys' Reg. $3.49 "G-Men" Jackets

$2.98

How the boys GO for 'em! Brown leatherette trim, full zipper front, checked lining, warmly interlined. Sizes 6 to 18.

HIGH'S BASEMENT

Men's Reg. $2.59 Melton Jackets

$1.99

All Wool! Full cut and roomy, with full zipper front—in navy blue. Fine for outdoor wear. Sizes 36 to 46.

HIGH'S BASEMENT

Regularly $1.00! All First Quality!

Nurses' and Maids' Neat Uniforms

"Sa-Se Maid" uniforms of white broadcloth in long or short sleeve styles! Blue or green broadcloth, short sleeves, white collars and cuffs! Also white, blue and green "Hoovers." Sizes 16 to 46.

88c

HIGH'S BASEMENT

Women's Tuckstitch Pajamas

Ski bottom styles with long or short sleeves and becoming collars, in maize, flesh and tearose. Small, medium and large. Very gifty!

94c

HIGH'S BASEMENT

Slipping You a Hint for Christmas!

Reg. $1.29 Satin Slips

Pure dye satin! When have you heard of such a thing for 88c! With shoppers looking ahead to Christmas they won't last long! Tailored and lace trimmed, V-necks—exceptional quality! Sizes 34 to 44.

88c

HIGH'S BASEMENT

Girls' Tuckstitch Union Suits

29c

39c values! Drop-seat styles in tearose shade, small, medium and large sizes. Buy a winter's supply, mothers!

HIGH'S BASEMENT

Women's Tuckstitch Unions

39c

Tuckstitch or rayon striped! Built-up shoulder styles, open crotch and tight knee. Warmth without weight! Sizes 34 to 44.

HIGH'S BASEMENT

Exciting! $1.98-$2.25 Acetate

CREPE DRESSES

Who says you have to spend a lot to have the things you want! Glowing solid colors—rust, green, black, brown, also the smartest prints. Newest fall and winter styles. Sizes 14 to 50.

$1

HIGH'S BASEMENT

Good Luck! $3.49 to $3.98

All New Dresses

Yes, you read the headline correctly! NEW DRESSES—just arrived! Metallic trims! Gauzy sleeves! Embroidery! Velvet trims! Solid color crepes in the new mid-winter shades! Sizes 14 to 52. Better hurry!

$2

HIGH'S BASEMENT

Your Chance! $4.49 to $6.98

SILK DRESSES

Silks, mind you! They'll literally fly off their racks! All new dresses—MOSTLY 38 to 52, but plenty of smaller sizes, too! The season's favored vivid shades, black and brown. Frocks for business, street, school or afternoon wear.

$3

HIGH'S BASEMENT

$10.95 to $12.95 Untrimmed

DRESS COATS

Season 'round coats! Favorites for women who own separate fur pieces! Smart coats for any occasion! In the new diagonal and suede-like weaves of the season. Navy, brown and black. Sizes 14 to 50.

$8

HIGH'S BASEMENT

$12.45 to $14.95 Fur-Trimmed

DRESS COATS

Amazing is the word for it! Good-looking coats, handsomely lined throughout—topped with fashion-right furs! Manchurian Wolf! French Beaver! Vicuna Fox! Black Sealine and Jackel! Black, brown, green. 14 to 46.

$9

HIGH'S BASEMENT

$19.95 Better Fur-Trimmed

DRESS COATS

Furs alone are indication of their quality! Pointed Fox! Marmink! Badger! Sealine and French Beaver! Fine materials, too—in diagonals, suedes and nubs! Beautifully lined! Black, brown, green. Sizes 14 to 52.

$14

HIGH'S BASEMENT

Ultra Styles! $29.75 to $35

DRESS COATS

Imagine... with SQUIRREL collars! With Caracul, Fox or Marmink! Some with silky French Beaver! Women who can afford to pay a great deal more will find in these coats the standard of taste they demand. Black, brown, green, rust—14 to 52.

$20

HIGH'S BASEMENT

Men Look! Regular $1.39 to $1.59

Men's Finer Dress Shirts

Not shirts bought for a sale, but our own regular quality—full cut, properly sized and tailored! Woven madras, mercerized broadcloths, high-count percales. Duke of Kent, soft and fused collars. Sizes 14 to 17.

$1

HIGH'S BASEMENT

Men's $1.98 Zipper Sweaters

Sports backs, full zipper fronts! Warm woolen checked patterns in oxford, blue and brown—sizes 36 to 46.

$1.69

HIGH'S BASEMENT

You'll Need Loads of Tie Gifts!

Men's Reg. 25c Silk Ties—3 for

New styles in Magador and silk prints... a grand selection of patterns. Choose now while the assortment is so complete.

50c

HIGH'S BASEMENT

Men's Shirts and Shorts

19c

25c values! Fast color printed broadcloth shorts, sizes 30 to 42. Swiss ribbed shirts of combed yarn, sizes 36 to 44.

HIGH'S BASEMENT

Men's Knit Union Suits

79c

98c values! Medium weight in bleached cotton. Monarch brand. Long leg, long sleeve style, sizes 36 to 44.

HIGH'S BASEMENT

Mothers—Better Buy a Supply!

Girls' Regular 59c Print Dresses

You wouldn't MAKE 'em for that! Such cunning styles, and of such pretty fast colored prints, too! All sizes from 3 to 6½ and 7 to 14. Amazing values, really!

44c

HIGH'S BASEMENT

Men's $1.59 Blanket Robes

Buy 'em for gifts NOW! Big, full cut robes in neat patterns, well finished throughout. You won't find another value like this... soon!

$1.39

HIGH'S BASEMENT

Regularly They'll Be $1.98 to $2.49!

Men's — Boys' Pants and Slacks

All wool blue cheviot pants and slacks for men and boys! Men's hairline stripe cotton pants! Boys' tweed slacks! Boys' sizes 7 to 17. Men's sizes 29 to 44.

$1.49

HIGH'S BASEMENT

Boys' Reg. $1.39 Sweaters

$1.00

Sport slipover styles! Brushed wool in solid colors of oxford, blue and brown. Sizes 30 to 36.

HIGH'S BASEMENT

Regular 59c Boys' Shirts

44c

Good school shirts in high-neck styles made of fast color prints—full cut and neatly tailored. Sizes 8 to 14 years.

HIGH'S BASEMENT

HIGH'S BASEMENT

HIGH'S BASEMENT

THE GUMPS—SALESMANSHIP

LITTLE ORPHAN ANNIE—THE UNSEEN "FORCE"

MOON MULLINS—THE HEAVY WEIGHT CHAMP

DICK TRACY—CONFERENCE

JANE ARDEN --- Explanations

SMITTY—Hand (icap)

CONSTITUTION'S DAILY CROSS-WORD PUZZLE

ROSE OF SOLEDAD

By GEORGE E. HOLT

INSTALLMENT XXVIII.

Pictures thronged his delirium. Glasses of water. Pitchers of water. Canteens. Wells, running, little, like lakes dancing like mirrors.

And a still worse trick did his nerves play him.

He was on the desert, without water, and he saw a stream and plunged his face into it, and it was salt water.

His thirst blazed now fiercely. He shouted. He was dying. He screamed. "Water! Water!" he screamed, the complete victim now of his inflamed nerves.

He answered him. Had they gone away? Left him to die of thirst in this little hell?

He twisted, struggled against his bonds. Tried to roll off the bed, and found himself tied to it. Screamed vile epithets.

And now he was burning with flame from head to toe, and a great flame burned in his throat—a flame of salt. For a quarter of an hour more he suffered, shrieking, then still; screaming again—until his voice became cracked until he only croaked. "Water—water—water," like a raven.

And then the door opened, and Jose entered. A glass of water—a tall glass—in his hand.

The eyes of the Rattlesnake gleamed, his body relaxed, he drank that glass of water a dozen times in as many heartbeats.

"Give me," he croaked.

But Jose calmly set the glass down upon a small shelf beside the door. "Afterwards, Casabel," he said. Turned and went out.

The Rattlesnake writhed in agony. He stared at the glass of water as one hypnotized, as, in fact, he was. Controlled by that awful auto-hypnosis of his imagination. He fought. He moved—in an'ward words half forgotten. But the glass stood still and would not come to him, no matter how he prayed that it should come.

But at last through the phantasmagoria of his delirium there broke a flash of light. It was being tortured. Not being killed. The glass of water had been set there to torture him. Why? Torture was force. Somebody—this dark faced fellow—who was he?—wanted something. What did he want? What matter? Give him that glass of water and he could have his heart's blood.

"Come here," he screamed. "Come here. Tell me what you want. Tell me what you want. It is yours. Come here."

The door opened again, and Jose entered. He took the glass, walked to the window, emptied it upon the dusty ground.

The Rattlesnake shrieked. Jose turned to him. Spoke.

"There is plenty of water," he said. "But none for you until you tell me what I wish to know. Are you ready?" "What—what do you wish to know?" asked the Rattlesnake, trembling.

"I want to know whether you killed Black Sam Verdugo," said Jose.

"I want to know why? I want to know all about your dealings in opium—in other things. That is what I want to know. That is what you will tell me—or die of thirst. Will you speak?"

Through sheer terror now, the Rattlesnake was silent.

Jose mistook it for stubbornness. He turned, left the room.

"I don't think Jose," said Shane O'Hara, "that I can stand much more of this myself. Wouldn't he speak?"

Shane now sat with Jose beneath the stunted tree, the window 20 feet from them. Sweat was on the American's face, and it was not caused by the heat of the sun.

"He will speak," Jose assured him. "More sure he will speak than if he was been cut in leetle pieces. Me, I know. He say—what you say?—all shot. It is not that he needs water after he drunk too much tequila, but that he thinks he does, you understand, meester?"

"Oh, I get you, Jose," said Shane. "I've studied psychology. They used to have some pretty good stunts during the Inquisition—"

"I was talking for the sake of his own nerves now, not because he imagined Jose understood him. "But I don't like it. I don't like it at all. It's like—like torturing a crazy man."

"Crazy man, yes," said Jose. "He crazy. Make himself crazy. But does business not hurt him. Not like cutting ears, fingers, toes. He talk—drink water—he all same again. Like Rattlesnake," he sneered. "I think."

"Ven aqui, hombre! Ven aqui!" the Rattlesnake's voice screamed through the window. "Come here. I will tell. I swear it—I will tell."

"I think," said Jose, "that now we get down to business. You come, then."

Together they entered the room. The Rattlesnake glowered at them through half-closed eyes, like a snake ready to strike. But he could not strike; he was held down by his noosed hands as though with a forked stick at his neck.

"You speak first," Jose asked him. "You tell the truth?"

If the Rattlesnake recognized Shane O'Hara he made no sign. He merely rasped a word in reply to Jose's question. That word was "fede"—he snarled. "Fede."

"Fede," said Jose, "means 'I don't fight in him. Nothing but floating pictures of water.'"

Shane seated himself, took a pad of paper from his pocket, and a fountain pen.

"All right, Vibora de Casabel," said Jose, sitting down on the edge of the bed. "Now you talk. The sooner you talk the sooner you drink water."

A quarter of an hour later Vibora de Casabel, a quart of water inside him, followed by a generous slug of tequila, moaned on his bed and tried to imagine what he had done.

Under the deafening tree Shane, the signed confession of Rodrigo Gutierrez in his trembling hands, looked at Jose in disbelief.

"It can't be true," he said. "Some of it must be—must be lies." He removed his broad-brimmed hat, laid it on the ground beside him.

"I no think so, meester," said Jose. "No, I think feller tell de truth. No no able to think up lies when I ask him. Too thirsty. Yeah, I think we get de truth."

"But—but it doesn't seem possible, Jose," objected Shane. It means just think what it means, Jose."

He folded the papers, slid them under his soft gray hat on the ground beside him.

Jose nodded. Rolled a brown paper cigarette. Lighted it. Nodded again.

"It means—what you say, meester—yet even worse, what?"

"All of that. But—but—" Shane broke off. "What day is this? Thursday, isn't it?"

"Un-huh," said Jose. "I think so, yes."

"Two days, then," said Shane.

JUST NUTS

CREDIT FOR CHRISTMAS

AUNT HET

UNCLE RAY'S CORNER

MANNERS OF THE MOMENT

UNCLE RAY'S CORNER

CONSUELO VANDERBILT MARRIES SECOND TIME Heiress Weds Henry Gassaway Davis Aboard $2,500,000 Yacht Alva.

MIAMI BEACH, Fla., Nov. 27.—(AP)—The former Consuelo Vanderbilt Smith was married today to Henry Gassaway Davis 11 aboard her father's $2,500,000 yacht Alva but without ostentation—it was the second marriage for both.

Only the setting distinguished the ceremony from those of less wealthy and prominent principals. The Alva is like a library ashore and with oak paneling, a wood-burning fireplace—one of four on the 204-foot vessel—built-in bookcases and comfortable furniture.

Long French windows, with drapes to match the walls, conceal the portholes. The floor is dropped to provide a 15-foot ceiling. A few vases of yellow chrysanthemums were the only decoration.

The Alva was moored at Terminal Island, nine-acre estate of William K. Vanderbilt, the bride's father. The Vanderbilts are living aboard until their $150,000 villa is completed. Meanwhile, Vanderbilt remarked, "We're practically camping out."

County Judge W. F. Blanton performed the wedding ceremony in the presence of Mr. and Mrs. Vanderbilt, Mrs. Armstrong Davis, of Washington, mother of the bridegroom, and Colonel and Mrs. Jacques Balsan, of Paris. Mrs. Balsan, the bride's aunt, was another Consuelo Vanderbilt.

After the ceremony a luncheon was served in the dining salon, where the bride cut a big wedding cake. Then the couple left in a speedboat to start on their honeymoon. They declined to disclose their destination.

Before leaving Mrs. Davis changed from the black and white print in which she was married to a gray tweed suit. Mrs. Vanderbilt wore a tan jersey dress with stockings, Mrs. Armstrong Davis a wine-colored crepe gown and Mrs. Balsan a pleated white silk. The three men wore dark blue business suits and tan shoes.

The bride's first husband was Earl E. Smith, of New York, a Wall Street financier. They were married at the Vanderbilt home in New York in 1926 and divorced in Reno last June.

Davis was divorced in Washington last August from his present wife's cousin, the former Grace Vanderbilt. He is a grandson of the late Henry Gassaway Davis, senator from West Virginia and Democratic vice presidential nominee in 1904.

GREATER PROSPERITY REPORTED BY RESERVE General Advance Noted in Production, Employment and Pay Rolls.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27.—(AP)—A general advance in industrial production, employment and pay rolls was reported today by the Federal Reserve Board, in its monthly review.

For October, the board said, its seasonally adjusted index of industrial production stood at 100 per cent of the 1923-25 average, unchanged from the high September level and 15 points up from the low of September.

Steel production was in larger volume than in any month since 1929. It was reported. Automobile production increased in October, and continued to swing upward in the first three weeks of this month.

Although noting a slight October decline in textile mill activity from the September highs, the board said output of the meat packing industry increased further last month, coal production increased seasonally and crude petroleum production continued at recent high levels.

Factory employment, at 94.3 per cent of the 1923-25 average, increased more than seasonally from September to October, with upturns most noticeable in the durable goods industry.

The factory pay roll index rose at $8.9 in October, the board said, rising "by considerably more than the usual seasonal amount" from $8.4 in September.

Department stores and mail order houses attained better than seasonal upturns last month, but variety stores recorded a less than seasonal advance.

The general level of wholesale commodity prices "advanced somewhat" during the first three weeks of November, the board said, following two and one-half months of little change.

A "considerable increase" was noted in prices of several raw materials, including non-ferrous metals, hides, rubber, silk and wool.

ATLANTA MAIN WRITES BIG INSURANCE POLICY

Continued From First Page.

policies for railroad companies, steamship companies and other industrial and transportation organizations.

Under the policy the amount of insurance carried on each employee is determined by the nature of his employment, the insured being classified by occupational grouping.

Each individual under the straight life insurance feature of the policy, is insured for an amount varying from $500 to $10,000, according to his occupational grouping and for the same amounts under the accident death or dismemberment clause. Under the accident and health feature of the policy the employee is insured for from $50 to $250 a month, again according to his occupational grouping.

"President Head, who arrived here yesterday in his private car which is now on a sidetrack at the Terminal station, is a native Georgian, having been born at Milner, Ga. While he was very young, however, his father moved the family to Texas and it was in that state that the young boy found his first job with a railroad company. Later he became a member of an express company and moved to San Francisco, where he rapidly advanced to an important executive position. His present headquarters, as the head of the Railway Express Agency, is in New York.

Let me now return thanks for this renewed proof of that brotherhood which has ever united Brazil and the United States, a fraternity not limited to the relations between our governments, but a fraternity in which I have reason to believe is made evident in every group in both countries, wherever and wherever they meet. The fine record of our relations in the past few years, the pessimists who scoff at the idea of true friendship between nations, in the present state of the world it is heartening to see that the relations in this hemisphere have been able, by the exercise of good will, good temper and good sense to conduct the whole course of their relations without clash or conflict of ill-feeling.

WORK TOGETHER FOR COMMON GOOD

Not only that. The confidence in each other's aims and motives enables us to work together for the common good. We have record of which we can be proud—a record of joint endeavor in the cause of peace in this new world. My country has derived strength and confidence from the assistance, irreproachable attitude of

Mysterious 'Merchant of Death,' Sir Basil Zaharoff, Drops Dead

Armament Salesman Dies at French Country Home
at Age of 86.

MONTE CARLO, Nov. 27.—Sir Basil Zaharoff, Europe's mystery armament salesman whose name has been linked with major wars and Latin-American revolts, died today at 86.

He has frequently been described as "the merchant of death."

His death came on his annual visit from his French country home in this gambling city in which he is reported to have held a controlling interest.

A trader in big stakes in armaments, shipbuilding, banking and oil dealings, Sir Basil never played Monte Carlo's games, but chance himself.

Physicians said he was stricken suddenly with a heart attack. He collapsed in the arms of his valet, who was helping him dress in his hotel room.

Sir Basil died at 9 a. m. His stepdaughter, the Countess of Bourbons, was at the bedside.

Both the United States and Great Britain sought, during the later years of his life, to withdraw the cloak from the activities of the master arms salesman, one of Europe's wealthiest men.

The United States senate's munitions investigating committee linked Zaharoff with American armaments manufacturers in 1924.

A British royal commission brought his name into its inquiry of international munitions manufacturing in 1925.

Sir Basil will be buried in the same section which held him a mystery man while he lived.

Without a ceremony his body is to be taken from Monte Carlo at 4 a. m. tomorrow to his isolated chateau, Paimoret, near Vallangouard, in the French Pyrenees, where he died in the last few years.

The early hour apparently was selected to avoid the gathering of curious persons who have heard tales of Zaharoff.

Sir Basil, "the mystery man of Europe," gained his vast wealth and his reputation as "maker and breaker of kings," through imagination, salesmanship and a keen understanding of international munitions manufacturing.

Letters from the "confident of chancellors" were said to have been found in his files among the leading munitions makers of the United States.

In 1936, Sir Basil's adopted country of Great Britain, which knighted him for his services, sought his name before the House of Commons in connection with international munitions manufacturing.

At that time the chairman of the board of Vickers, Ltd., and Vickers-Armstrong, Ltd., the great British arms firms, testified Zaharoff had taken no part in the companies' activities since 1924.

And it was in Spain that he retained an interest in the Spanish branch.

It was in Spain that the man of mystery was reported to have laid the foundation of his fabulous wealth.

And it was in Spain that he interested himself in the last days of his life—two friends said, it was a sentimental and not a commercial interest.

A battery of secretaries prepared

BRASIL in its devotion, arbitration, conciliation and other methods for the peaceful settlement of international disputes. Your first concern, like ours is peace for we know that war destroys, not only human lives and happiness, but destroys also the hopes of individual liberty and of the democratic form of government which is the goal of all the American republics.

I think I can say that in the generation of our present day, the war, democratic government, peace and the Americas will prove its complete ability to raise the standards of the world. Those who cry for the opportunity today, the opportunity of the future, let the motto of peace be, "Let the strong survive; let the weak die." The motto of peace is, let the strong help the weak to survive.

There is room for all of us, without treading on one another's toes. We are resources of nature and of the democratic form of government. We are happy free from international antagonisms which have brought so much misery to other parts of the world. There, it is true, conflicts of interest, between the American states, but they cannot be called serious or difficult of solution, when compared with the deeply rooted hates and passions which exist in the world of today. There is no American conflict that cannot be settled by peaceful and democratic means. And, it is in our common interest imperative that they be settled always by agreement and not by bloodshed. We, the nations of the Americas, can render no greater service to civilization itself than by maintaining both domestic and international peace and by freeing themselves forever from conflict.

OPPORTUNITY TO BANISH WAR

We are about to gather in a great American conference, called by President Johnson in furtherance of the good neighbor policy, in which we all share. In this conference we have the opportunity to banish war from the new world and dedicate it to peace. It is unthinkable that in this time of world-wide apprehension we should fail to seize the opportunity to meet what is a heavy responsibility. This is no time to hesitate. We must be guided by a serene and generous view of our common needs. World horizons may be dark, but the time is auspicious for our task in America. The rest of the world presents a grim picture of armed camps and threats of conflict. But in our own continent armed camps have not been seen for years. Happy banishment to an end.

It is gratifying to be able to pay well-earned tribute to the very outstanding part played by your able and distinguished Foreign Minister, Macedo Soares in the mediatory efforts of the representatives of six republics. And the Leticia question was settled here in Rio through the patient assistance and masterly diplomacy of Dr. Afonso de Mello Franco. The progress we have made must not be allowed to serve as pretext for resting on our laurels; it should, on the contrary, stimulate us to new and increased effort. It is not enough that we have prevented war from the Arctic to the Antarctic, from the Atlantic to the Pacific; it is essential that this condition be made permanent, that we provide effectively against the recurrence of the horrors of war and assure peace to ourselves and our posterity. All instrumentalities for the maintenance of peace must be consolidated and reinforced. We cannot countenance day-by-day accounts of the progress of the revolt in Spain for Sir Basil's information.

SIR BASIL ZAHAROFF.

He scanned all news of the revolution there with intense preoccupation, sitting among the roses of his Monte Carlo estate.

Zaharoff rose from an obscurity so deep that it even the date of his birth was known, to become the first salesman of Europe, selling his wares of arms and munitions to nearly all the powers on the continent.

His was the genius that supplied the allies with many of the materials of war from 1914 to 1918 and the victors with the materials of reconstruction in later years by his backing of Venizelos, his lifelong friend, in the establishment of the Greek republic.

Zaharoff, according to the best information the British secret service could ever gather, was born in Constantinople, but even that was doubted by Zaharoff.

Describe in committee testimony as "the mystery man of Europe," Zaharoff was revealed as a dominant figure in the munitions business of half a dozen nations.

An American submarine firm, the Electric Boat Company, of New York, paid him more than $2,000,000 in commissions on its sales to Spain, senate records showed.

Great Britain made him a knight of the garter, and committee files indicated he enjoyed the "confidence" of President Wilson during the negotiation of the Versailles treaty.

H. R. Carse, president of the Electric Boat Company, characterized Sir Basil, as "a very able and brilliant man," and the committee he had paid him a 5 per cent commission on all of its Spanish business.

Robert Wohlforth, a former munitions committee investigator, said he had spent two years of research on Zaharoff, but had never been able to uncover details of his personal life or business methods.

ASHLEY GROVES, Nov. 27.—(AP)—Sir Basil Zaharoff, Europe's munitions salesman who died today in Monte Carlo, was the subject of a searching inquiry by the senate munitions investigating committee.

Describe in committee testimony as "the mystery man of Europe," Zaharoff was revealed as a dominant figure in the munitions business of half a dozen nations.

An American submarine firm, the Electric Boat Company, of New York, paid him more than $2,000,000 in commissions on its sales to Spain, senate records showed.

Great Britain made him a knight of the garter, and committee files indicated he enjoyed the "confidence" of President Wilson during the negotiation of the Versailles treaty.

H. R. Carse, president of the Electric Boat Company, characterized Sir Basil, as "a very able and brilliant man," and the committee he had paid him a 5 per cent commission on all of its Spanish business.

Robert Wohlforth, a former munitions committee investigator, said he had spent two years of research on Zaharoff, but had never been able to uncover details of his personal life or business methods.

ASHLEY GROVES, Nov. 27.—(AP)—Sir Basil Zaharoff, Europe's munitions salesman who died today in Monte Carlo, was the subject of a searching inquiry by the senate munitions investigating committee.

Describe in committee testimony as "the mystery man of Europe," Zaharoff was revealed as a dominant figure in the munitions business of half a dozen nations.

An American submarine firm, the Electric Boat Company, of New York, paid him more than $2,000,000 in commissions on its sales to Spain, senate records showed.

Great Britain made him a knight of the garter, and committee files indicated he enjoyed the "confidence" of President Wilson during the negotiation of the Versailles treaty.

H. R. Carse, president of the Electric Boat Company, characterized Sir Basil, as "a very able and brilliant man," and the committee he had paid him a 5 per cent commission on all of its Spanish business.

Robert Wohlforth, a former munitions committee investigator, said he had spent two years of research on Zaharoff, but had never been able to uncover details of his personal life or business methods.

ASHLEY GROVES, Nov. 27.—(AP)—Sir Basil Zaharoff, Europe's munitions salesman who died today in Monte Carlo, was the subject of a searching inquiry by the senate munitions investigating committee.

Describe in committee testimony as "the mystery man of Europe," Zaharoff was revealed as a dominant figure in the munitions business of half a dozen nations.

An American submarine firm, the Electric Boat Company, of New York, paid him more than $2,000,000 in commissions on its sales to Spain, senate records showed.

Great Britain made him a knight of the garter, and committee files indicated he enjoyed the "confidence" of President Wilson during the negotiation of the Versailles treaty.

H. R. Carse, president of the Electric Boat Company, characterized Sir Basil, as "a very able and brilliant man," and the committee he had paid him a 5 per cent commission on all of its Spanish business.

Robert Wohlforth, a former munitions committee investigator, said he had spent two years of research on Zaharoff, but had never been able to uncover details of his personal life or business methods.

ASHLEY GROVES, Nov. 27.—(AP)—Sir Basil Zaharoff, Europe's munitions salesman who died today in Monte Carlo, was the subject of a searching inquiry by the senate munitions investigating committee.

Describe in committee testimony as "the mystery man of Europe," Zaharoff was revealed as a dominant figure in the munitions business of half a dozen nations.

An American submarine firm, the Electric Boat Company, of New York, paid him more than $2,000,000 in commissions on its sales to Spain, senate records showed.

Great Britain made him a knight of the garter, and committee files indicated he enjoyed the "confidence" of President Wilson during the negotiation of the Versailles treaty.

H. R. Carse, president of the Electric Boat Company, characterized Sir Basil, as "a very able and brilliant man," and the committee he had paid him a 5 per cent commission on all of its Spanish business.

Robert Wohlforth, a former munitions committee investigator, said he had spent two years of research on Zaharoff, but had never been able to uncover details of his personal life or business methods.

TO HEAD U. S. MARINES HOLCOMB APPOINTED TO COMMAND MARINES

World War Hero Will Succeed General Russell Tuesday.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27.—Brigadier General Thomas Holcomb, world war hero, will take the oath of office as major general commandant of the marine corps Tuesday morning in the office of the secretary of navy. He will succeed Major General John H. Russell, who is retiring.

His appointment as commandant climaxes a career of 36 years spent traveling the world in the service of the sea.

In France during the World War he commanded the second battalion of the sea regiment of marines in the offensive at Chateau Thierry and Belleau Wood, and also in the Aisne-Marne offensive at Soissons. He was promoted to lieutenant colonel and assistant to the command of the entire sixth regiment and participated in the offensive at St. Mihiel. For his leadership, he was decorated by the French government on four occasions.

General Holcomb has served seven years on marine duty in China and has been in command of the 1st Marine Division at Peking since 1926.

General Holcomb has served seven years on marine duty in China and has been in command of the 1st Marine Division at Peking since 1926.

General Holcomb has served seven years on marine duty in China and has been in command of the 1st Marine Division at Peking since 1926.

General Holcomb has served seven years on marine duty in China and has been in command of the 1st Marine Division at Peking since 1926.

General Holcomb has served seven years on marine duty in China and has been in command of the 1st Marine Division at Peking since 1926.

General Holcomb has served seven years on marine duty in China and has been in command of the 1st Marine Division at Peking since 1926.

General Holcomb has served seven years on marine duty in China and has been in command of the 1st Marine Division at Peking since 1926.

General Holcomb has served seven years on marine duty in China and has been in command of the 1st Marine Division at Peking since 1926.

General Holcomb has served seven years on marine duty in China and has been in command of the 1st Marine Division at Peking since 1926.

General Holcomb has served seven years on marine duty in China and has been in command of the 1st Marine Division at Peking since 1926.

General Holcomb has served seven years on marine duty in China and has been in command of the 1st Marine Division at Peking since 1926.

General Holcomb has served seven years on marine duty in China and has been in command of the 1st Marine Division at Peking since 1926.

General Holcomb has served seven years on marine duty in China and has been in command of the 1st Marine Division at Peking since 1926.

General Holcomb has served seven years on marine duty in China and has been in command of the 1st Marine Division at Peking since 1926.

General Holcomb has served seven years on marine duty in China and has been in command of the 1st Marine Division at Peking since 1926.

General Holcomb has served seven years on marine duty in China and has been in command of the 1st Marine Division at Peking since 1926.

General Holcomb has served seven years on marine duty in China and has been in command of the 1st Marine Division at Peking since 1926.

General Holcomb has served seven years on marine duty in China and has been in command of the 1st Marine Division at Peking since 1926.

General Holcomb has served seven years on marine duty in China and has been in command of the 1st Marine Division at Peking since 1926.

General Holcomb has served seven years on marine duty in China and has been in command of the 1st Marine Division at Peking since 1926.

General Holcomb has served seven years on marine duty in China and has been in command of the 1st Marine Division at Peking since 1926.

General Holcomb has served seven years on marine duty in China and has been in command of the 1st Marine Division at Peking since 1926.

General Holcomb has served seven years on marine duty in China and has been in command of the 1st Marine Division at Peking since 1926.

General Holcomb has served seven years on marine duty in China and has been in command of the 1st Marine Division at Peking since 1926.

General Holcomb has served seven years on marine duty in China and has been in command of the 1st Marine Division at Peking since 1926.

General Holcomb has served seven years on marine duty in China and has been in command of the 1st Marine Division at Peking since 1926.

General Holcomb has served seven years on marine duty in China and has been in command of the 1st Marine Division at Peking since 1926.

General Holcomb has served seven years on marine duty in China and has been in command of the 1st Marine Division at Peking since 1926.

General Holcomb has served seven years on marine duty in China and has been in command of the 1st Marine Division at Peking since 1926.

General Holcomb has served seven years on marine duty in China and has been in command of the 1st Marine Division at Peking since 1926.

GERMAN ABOLISHES CRITICISM OF THE ARTS

'Contemplation and Description' Alone Will Be Permitted.

BERLIN, Nov. 27.—(AP)—Nazi Germany today freed her authors and playwrights from the "gadflies" of adverse criticisms of their works.

By decree, Dr. Paul Joseph Goebbels abolished all hostile criticisms of theatrical and literary works, and declared that henceforth there would be only "contemplation and description."

While Reichsfuehrer Hitler looked on, Dr. Goebbels told the annual meeting of the Reich Culture Chamber that 50 years from now nobody could look back and say that creative genius in the reich today had been "restrained and martyred by critical gadflies."

His decree forbade criticisms of the theater, music, motion pictures and of literary works.

Furthermore, Dr. Goebbels said, if any critic didn't like the decree, he could go and write a book for himself.

"Any further critic," he said, "who feels he is capable of more than mere contemplation or description of another's works will be free to show what he can do for himself."

"Art," he continued, "will not suffer through the disappearance of the critic. Counterfeit greatness usually fails in less than a year, even if it is not killed by a critic."

"The real masters, however, will in this way be assured of creative freedom and the inviolability of their artistic honor."

But, he continued, the artist will still be subject to criticism by the state which he extolled as the patron and protector of art.

"Art lives on patronage," he explained, "and therefore in times when private persons are not yet in a position to resume the functions of patrons, it must be the state's function to protect the artist and encourage him to produce his work."

The culture chamber ceremonies closed with a hymn invoking a "strong German god to bless and preserve the Reich." The hymn was sung by the Reich Youth, gave us power and whom Thou hath sent to us."

Born in Delaware August 5, 1879, he began his career in the marine corps as a lieutenant on April 13, 1900, and since that time has served in various capacities in both the diplomatic and marine services.

POLICE HUNT BODY.
LEAKSVILLE, N. C., Nov. 27.—(AP)—Police and Boy Scouts dragged the Dan river here all day in vain for the body of a missing swimmer, prominent Leaksville dentist, missing from his home since early Sunday.

MEXICO CITY, Nov. 27.—(AP)—Mexico's army leaders left it to be known today they have given thought to the possibility of war with a foreign power, but they would not discuss the possibility of a small but efficient army.

Italy's conquest of Ethiopia was cited as warning Mexico might come to the aid of the invading army in a survey of armament organization by Captains Rogelio Guedes Romo and Alfonso Carrasco, of the commission of military studies.

Connected military service was not recommended but reserves modeled after the existing agrarian units were suggested.

Officials stated to number now 50,224 officers and men divided into 2,968 groups, the farmer-soldiers will be in review before commanders of the 32 military zones November 30.

Another group, led by Hutcheson, has insisted that an amendment to allow congress to fix minimum wages for the nonunion workers, and that the amendment be passed by a two-thirds vote of the congress.

Another group, led by Hutcheson, has insisted that an amendment to allow congress to fix minimum wages for the nonunion workers, and that the amendment be passed by a two-thirds vote of the congress.

Another group, led by Hutcheson, has insisted that an amendment to allow congress to fix minimum wages for the nonunion workers, and that the amendment be passed by a two-thirds vote of the congress.

Another group, led by Hutcheson, has insisted that an amendment to allow congress to fix minimum wages for the nonunion workers, and that the amendment be passed by a two-thirds vote of the congress.

Another group, led by Hutcheson, has insisted that an amendment to allow congress to fix minimum wages for the nonunion workers, and that the amendment be passed by a two-thirds vote of the congress.

Another group, led by Hutcheson, has insisted that an amendment to allow congress to fix minimum wages for the nonunion workers, and that the amendment be passed by a two-thirds vote of the congress.

Another group, led by Hutcheson, has insisted that an amendment to allow congress to fix minimum wages for the nonunion workers, and that the amendment be passed by a two-thirds vote of the congress.

Another group, led by Hutcheson, has insisted that an amendment to allow congress to fix minimum wages for the nonunion workers, and that the amendment be passed by a two-thirds vote of the congress.

Another group, led by Hutcheson, has insisted that an amendment to allow congress to fix minimum wages for the nonunion workers, and that the amendment be passed by a two-thirds vote of the congress.

Another group, led by Hutcheson, has insisted that an amendment to allow congress to fix minimum wages for the nonunion workers, and that the amendment be passed by a two-thirds vote of the congress.

Another group, led by Hutcheson, has insisted that an amendment to allow congress to fix minimum wages for the nonunion workers, and that the amendment be passed by a two-thirds vote of the congress.

Another group, led by Hutcheson, has insisted that an amendment to allow congress to fix minimum wages for the nonunion workers, and that the amendment be passed by a two-thirds vote of the congress.

Another group, led by Hutcheson, has insisted that an amendment to allow congress to fix minimum wages for the nonunion workers, and that the amendment be passed by a two-thirds vote of the congress.

Another group, led by Hutcheson, has insisted that an amendment to allow congress to fix minimum wages for the nonunion workers, and that the amendment be passed by a two-thirds vote of the congress.

Another group, led by Hutcheson, has insisted that an amendment to allow congress to fix minimum wages for the nonunion workers, and that the amendment be

Continued on Second Sports Page.

ATHENS today

2:30 (E.S.T.)

CAPT. FITZSIMONS
(TECH)

CO-CAPT. HALL
(GA.)

of the Athens club.

_____

WEEI WEAR WTAG; Columbia vs. Stanford, WOR.

41 FRYER ST., COR. AUBURN

70 PEACHTREE ST., at Poplar
5 DECATUR ST., at 5 Points

nesday, December 9.
D. Weaver Bridges is president of the Athens club.

The results were sent for consideration in selecting a representative.

Of 3,420 votes from
L. S. U. led with 894;
531, and Fordham four

The results were sent to the University of Washington for consideration in selecting an opponent for the Huskies, west coast representative.

Other station groups are to de-

Men's Xmas Gifts
Ties, Socks, Shirts, Pajamas
Jackets, Mufflers, Sweaters, Hats
Underwear. In Free Xmas Boxes

Allen M. Pierce Jr.
41 PRYOR ST., COR. AUBURN

Lardner Favors Georgia To Win From Tech Today

By John Lardner.

(Copyright, 1936, by North American Newspaper Alliance, Inc.)

NEW YORK, Nov. 27.—This is the last chance we football experts will have this year to make monkeys of ourselves on a big scale.

After the week-end, time will hang heavy on the hands of us hand-picked offenders. There'll be a stray ball game here and there between now and New Year's Day, but stray ball games are like penny banks. It's beneath the arch-herald's dignity to crack 'em. So we will just have to make the most of what is left to us on this valdeyodetic occasion, and fatten for the winter on the fruits of one last day of wrongdoing.

Here are your winners:

Army-Navy—A good, tight game, between two strong teams. If Navy doesn't win by an eyelash, Army is sure to cop by a whisker, if they don't tie.

Columbia-Stanford—This game will be between two eastern teams and a team from the Pacific coast. A toss-up. In fact, we'll gamble and call it a thriller.

Louisiana-Tulane—If there's any edge at all here, it belongs to the club from the south.

Nebraska-Oregon State—Passing and kicking should be important factors in this contest, though both teams are apt to run with the ball at times. That's the tip-off.

Boston College-Holy Cross—A couple of Catholic schools. The dope seems to indicate that the game will be over well before midnight.

Georgia Tech-Rembrandt—Remember, we told you all along how strong Georgia Tech is. And Georgia is no pushover.

Rice-Baylor—Two Texas teams, or we miss our guess.

T. C. U. S. M. U.—Same here, if the signs are not mistaken.

Auburn-Florida—A tight battle between two well-matched teams. A close one. Nip and tuck.

Now, if you haven't already made up your minds, we'll go into our wizard's stance and tap the crystal ball.

Army-Navy—Navy by 10 points. Remember, if it turns out that way, we were in deadly earnest.

Columbia-Stanford—The score will be 20 to 13 in favor of Stanford. This is a very smart guess if it's right.

Louisiana-Tulane—Louisiana by three touchdowns.

Nebraska-Oregon State—Nebraska by three touchdowns.

Boston College-Holy Cross—Something like 18 to 6 for Holy Cross.

Georgia Tech-Rembrandt—Georgia Tech will win by one touchdown, on a pass play.

Rice-Baylor—Baylor by two touchdowns, with two customers suffering frostbite, a man, aged 45, and a girl, aged 25.

T. C. U. S. M. U.—The hunch is on the Christians, by 20 to 7.

Auburn-Florida—Auburn, 12 to 0. If these tips stand up, don't forget we told you this was a dream, but it can't forget anything you want. And never show your watch to a football expert.

Action Ordered On Title Fight

NEW YORK, Nov. 27.—(AP)—The New York state athletic commission today took steps today to bring about a showdown on the Jim Braddock-Max Schmeling heavyweight title fight.

The commission ordered Madison Square Garden and the 20th Century Sporting Club, joint promoters, to file contracts, naming a date for the show within two weeks.

At the same time, a cable was sent Schmeling in Germany asking him to be present in New York or by a representative armed with power of attorney, to approve the proposed plans.

Both Colonel John Reed Kilpatrick, Garden president, and St. Strauss, representing the 20th Century, said they had contracts signed by Schmeling agreeing to fight Braddock either June 3 or June 10, but they were told the papers would have to be filed with the commission before they would be recognized.

Schmeling had been asked to be represented today by someone with power of attorney, but he replied there was no one in this country in whom he would invest such authority. Joe Jacobs represents Schmeling over here, but the shrewd Teuton does his own signing.

Perturbed because of plans to match Braddock in a no decision bout with Joe Louis at Atlantic City before Schmeling gets his promised shot at the title, the German's cable said he is relying on the commission's promise that he is the only legitimate challenger for Braddock's crown and that the champion's first championship defense must be made against him.

Prior to this Braddock was examined by three commission physicians and pronounced completely cured of the arthritis that caused posthumous of his September defeat by Schmeling.

Dr. William H. Walker, Dr. George Hawley and Major Charles Bies found Braddock, in tiptop condition and ready to begin his training at once.

Three Earth Tremors

MANAGUA, Nicaragua, Nov. 27.—(AP)—Three sharp earth tremors started residents of this city today, but no damage was reported. They occurred at 10:54 and 10:55 a. m. and 7:45 p. m.

Chest Colds

Yield quicker to the Poulitche-Vapor action of VICKS VAPORUB

NOTICE!

For Every Body Employees

A Special Meeting of the Association

TONIGHT, at 7:30 O'Clock

Redmen's Wigwam

(Chevrolet Employees are Welcome)

U. S. GOVERNMENT BUYS OKEFENOKEE ACREAGE

Continued From First Page.

spent several days making a survey of it.

He said the group was entertained at a dinner in Waycross and that he accompanied the committee into the swamp.

The senator said he had continued his efforts since to have the swamp preserved as a national area and during the last session of congress had inserted in the general appropriations bill and the works relief bill a clause permitting the use of funds for purchase of the land.

"The public is not to be excluded from the swamp," Senator George said, "but on the other hand, it is proposed to make the land a huge recreation, hunting and game preserve. It is true large areas will be set aside or excluded as breeding places for both game and fish, but it is the intention of the government to transpire large areas into recreation centers and to build roads through much of it."

"A survey shows that much of the game in south Georgia and northern Florida breeds in the swamp and it is for the purpose of protecting these breeding places that the government desires to acquire the land."

"The Okefenokee swamp," the senator said, "is the wonderland of south Georgia. In fact, it is the only area of its kind in this section. In it are found many kinds of wildlife and fishes, besides vast quantities of timber, both pine and gums."

"I am extremely happy that the purchase of the tract has finally been consummated and it will mean the preservation of the swamp and will also mean that much wildlife will be preserved and that ultimately more game and fish will be available to the public."

The Okefenokee swamp comprises many thousands of acres of land in northern Florida and south Georgia. It is south of Waycross and west of Jacksonville in Charlton county. Most of the swamp lies in Charlton, Ware and Clinch counties in Georgia and extends across the Florida line and bounds the Okefenokee national forest on the north.

Two large rivers have their source in the swamp. The Suwannee river, immortalized by the song of Stephen Foster, flows down upon the Suwannee river, rises in the swamp and flows westward through Clinch and Echols counties in Georgia and on through Florida and into the Gulf of Mexico.

The St. Marys river, which forms a large part of the boundary line between Georgia and Florida on the southeast, also has its source in the swamp. It flows in a south, then Atlantic ocean at St. Marys.

Wildlife Haven

The swamp, long the haven of many species of birds, both game and other, as well as fish and many animals, including small game and deer, bears, wildcats and wild hogs, has had a varied history.

At one time an effort was made to drain the swamp and a large sum was spent on the project, which, however, failed from a drainage standpoint. The area is honeycombed with islands, some of which are inhabited, and it was thought if the land could be drained, vast areas would be available for cultivation after millions of feet of timber were removed.

Many of the canal courses still remain in the swamp.

When the Hebard Lumber Company purchased much of the swamp, it built a railroad into the timber area and transported the timber to the coast. The swamp, with its thousands of people, where the timber brought in from the swamp was converted into various products, lumber, crossties, barrel staves, etc. Both pine and gum timber were taken from the swamp.

The government under the Roosevelt administration, has purchased approximately 30,000 acres of land on the west side of the swamp, which, being inside the swamp and part of it adjoining the area. Work of conserving this tract into a game preserve and recreation center is now under way.

DR. W. S. ELKIN PASSES AT HOME IN DECATUR

Continued From First Page.

a son, Goodwyn Elkin, of Harrisburg, Pennsylvania.

Funeral services will be held at 10 o'clock tomorrow afternoon at the Decatur Episcopal church. Burial will be in West View cemetery.

THE SPORT-LIGHT

By Armand Pica

Continued From Second Sports Page.

sudden uprising. Mal Stevens had his team geared to the second for this upset. After a fine march through S. M. U. St. Mary's, Pittsburgh and Purdue, Fordham was over the hill for the finishing turns.

It will take one of the country's strongest teams to have an even chance against Jimmy Phelan's Huskies, who have both line and backfield ready. L. S. U. at New Orleans. The Panther now is right on the heels of the best that football has today, just about an even bet against anyone else.

MINISTER IMPROVES AFTER ACCIDENT

NEWMAN, Ga., Nov. 27.—(AP)—Rev. McLowry Elrod, Methodist minister injured in an automobile accident yesterday, was reported improving today at a hospital here.

Rev. Elrod, on his way to Atlanta for the North Georgia Methodist conference, was riding in a car which overturned near Palmetto.

Rev. Elrod, pastor of the St. James church at Manchester, was not in a serious condition today, hospital attendants said.

CHARGING MAN SLIGHTED BY ROBBER

COLUMBUS, Ga., Nov. 27.—(AP)—Struck in the back of the head by a negro robber, S. L. Swearingen, 58, depot helper in Charing, small station in Taylor county, has been brought to the City hospital here for treatment for a possible fracture of the skull.

The attack occurred Tuesday night. Taylor county officials report. They said the negro secured a money sack containing about $5, but overlooked another sack, the property of the A. B. C. railroad, containing several dollars and a bill found for $50.50 in it.

ACCIDENTS ARE FATAL TO SEVEN GEORGIANS

Three Women and Confederate Veteran Are in List of Victims.

REGISTER, Ga., Nov. 27.—(AP)—Miss Lillian Wise, 22, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. W. Wise, of this town, died at her home this morning.

She received a fatal injury when she was struck by a car while crossing the street. Her sister, Vera, 18, badly burned, is in the hospital.

With a party of several others, the Wise sisters were returning to their home when an automobile struck them while they were riding on the City highway.

The clothing of the sisters was ignited when the vehicle burst into flames. Others in the party received minor injuries.

Funeral rites will be held at Lower Lot's Creek church near here tomorrow morning.

INJURIES FATAL TO UVALDE GIRL

BRUNSWICK, Ga., Nov. 27.—(AP)—Maude Carter, 14-year-old Uvalde girl, died in a local hospital yesterday from injuries sustained when she was struck by an automobile on the highway.

The young girl was with her parents in a truck when they experienced tire trouble. They stopped and as the girl attempted to cross the highway she was struck by a passing car, which passed for a moment and then continued on.

It was discovered after the party arrived here that the girl had sustained serious internal injuries.

MUSCOGEE VETERAN DIES OF INJURIES

COLUMBUS, Ga., Nov. 27.—(AP)—The names of only two Confederate veterans remain on the Muscogee county pension rolls today following the death last night of William Henry Crawford, 87, who succumbed to injuries received when he was struck by two automobiles on a highway near the north end of the county.

Mr. Crawford was knocked down by an automobile driven by a man giving a Brooklyn (N. Y.) address and before he could be removed from the highway, a second automobile, driven by a local negro passed over his body.

No charges were filed against the New York man, but the negro was placed under bond on a charge of speeding.

AUTOIST KILLED IN SURRENCY CRASH

BAXLEY, Ga., Nov. 27.—(AP)—Carter, 22, was killed and his father, C. L. Carter, was seriously injured in a collision between his car and another machine at Surrency last night. Willie Williams, of Wadley, said to have been an occupant of the other car, and a negro companion, were also injured.

Carter is survived by his wife and two children.

Funeral services will be held at Midway Baptist church near here, tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock, with Rev. L. R. Wadkins, of Surrency, officiating. Interment will be in the church cemetery.

INJURIES ARE FATAL TO ADAIRSVILLE MAN

ADAIRSVILLE, Ga., Nov. 27.—(AP)—John White, 66, member of the county board of education, died in a Rome hospital last night after an automobile accident. His car struck a bridge railing three miles from home. He was apparently blinded by lights of an approaching car.

Funeral services will be held here tomorrow morning.

One brother, W. P. of Rome; three sons, W. Pickett, of Chatfield; Claude E. of Shannon, and Fred, of Adairsville; four daughters, Mrs. S. A. Rush and Mrs. Roy Ray of Chattahoochee; Misses Edna and Emily, of Adairsville, survive.

JESUP CONDUCTOR KILLED BY CAROLINA

GREENWOOD, S. C., Nov. 27.—(AP)—The body of S. W. Hilton, 55, Southern railway freight conductor, who was killed in a crossing accident here last yesterday, was sent tonight to his home in Jesup, Ga., for interment.

Hilton was killed when an automobile crashed into the tender of a locomotive on which he was standing.

Furner Coleman, Greenwood, listed as the driver of the automobile, was reported at a hospital this morning as not seriously hurt.

Funeral services will be conducted in Jesup tomorrow afternoon.

Surviving are his widow, Mrs. Flavia Hilton, Jesup; a daughter, Mrs. J. J. North, Wilmington, N. C.; a brother, J. W. Hilton, Valdosta; two sisters, Mrs. Nora Drury, Jacksonville, Fla., and Mrs. Charles Gould, Buena Vista, Fla.

BURNS ARE FATAL TO ATHENS WOMAN

ATHENS, Ga., Nov. 27.—(AP)—Mrs. Ed Jackson, of Athens, died in a local hospital early today after an burn received at her home last night when her clothing caught fire as she bent over a stove.

A son, who said he was in the front yard at the time, reported that he rushed into the house upon hearing his mother's screams. He succeeded in extinguishing the flames, he said, but not until the woman's clothes were burned from her body.

She was rushed to a hospital, where she died four hours later.

MINISTER IMPROVES AFTER ACCIDENT

NEWMAN, Ga., Nov. 27.—(AP)—Rev. McLowry Elrod, Methodist minister injured in an automobile accident yesterday, was reported improving today at a hospital here.

Rev. Elrod, on his way to Atlanta for the North Georgia Methodist conference, was riding in a car which overturned near Palmetto.

Rev. Elrod, pastor of the St. James church at Manchester, was not in a serious condition today, hospital attendants said.

CHARGING MAN SLIGHTED BY ROBBER

COLUMBUS, Ga., Nov. 27.—(AP)—Struck in the back of the head by a negro robber, S. L. Swearingen, 58, depot helper in Charing, small station in Taylor county, has been brought to the City hospital here for treatment for a possible fracture of the skull.

The attack occurred Tuesday night. Taylor county officials report. They said the negro secured a money sack containing about $5, but overlooked another sack, the property of the A. B. C. railroad, containing several dollars and a bill found for $50.50 in it.

Warm Springs Patients Nickname F.D.R. 'Rosie'

WARM SPRINGS, Ga., Nov. 27.—(AP)—Youngsters at the Warm Springs Foundation, accustomed to frequent visits from President Roosevelt, have a new nickname for him.

Congregated outside the dining hall at their annual Thanksgiving party last night, there were frequent comments by the children on the absence of "Rosie."

"Rosie, who's that?" an outsider asked.

"Why, President Roosevelt, of course," one of them explained. "That's our nickname for him. You see he didn't get to come to the party because he's going to South America, but we think he'll be here to see us next month on his way back."

STATE BRIEFS

BURKE IN LEAD.

WASHINGTON, Ga., Nov. 27.—(AP)—Burke county's 1936 cotton crop is estimated to be the largest in the county's history, with November 14 planting reports showing 73,214 bales, which this season compared with 29,553 bales gained at the same time last year.

CAR FOR ORPHANAGE.

SUMMERVILLE, Ga., Nov. 27.—The Chattahoochee Baptist Association is planning to send a car of provisions to the Georgia Baptist Orphan's Home at Hapeville. The car will be placed at Trion on December 7, Summerville December 8 and Lenoir December 9. Every Baptist church in the county will be asked to contribute to the loading of the car, the association said.

MANY JOIN CHURCH.

SUMMERVILLE, Ga., Nov. 27.—The revival meeting which has been in progress at the South Summerville Baptist church, was the last, Rev. R. L. Williams, doing the preaching, has closed. Eighty-one members were added to the church during the meeting, 42 being baptized Sunday afternoon.

RIVERS TO CONFER.

GRIFFIN, Ga., Nov. 27.—(AP)—Governor-elect E. D. Rivers will confer here Monday with all the representatives of the twenty-third senatorial district relative of matters to be considered at the next session of the legislature.

RURAL COUNCIL FORMED.

CHICKAUGA, Ga., Nov. 27.—The Rural Council of Carroll county, organized to further farming, home-making, and better rural life, elected R. D. Tinsley president. A program of work for 1937 will be considered at a meeting January 2.

HOSPITAL OPENS.

EASTMAN, Ga., Nov. 27.—(AP)—A new private hospital opened here under direction of Dr. J. C. Wall. The structure was completed several weeks ahead of schedule.

FARMERS TO MEET.

WAYNESBORO, Ga., Nov. 27.—(AP)—The opinions of farmers on what should be done to improve the agricultural program will be taken at a meeting here tomorrow. "Much interest is already being shown in plans for next year's farm program," County Agent Joel Chappell said.

ACCEPTS MRAE CALL.

McRAE, Ga., Nov. 27.—(AP)—Rev. J. P. Pritchard, pastor of the Methodist church here, will succeed Rev. P. Q. Cason as pastor of the McRae Baptist church, effective December 1. Rev. Cason submitted his resignation a year ago but agreed to continue here until a successor was named.

SUNDAY SCHOOL BODY TO MEET IN BALDWIN

MILLEDGEVILLE, Ga., Nov. 27.—The Baldwin county Sunday school convention is to meet at the Cooper's Baptist church Sunday and speakers will include the president of the Georgia Sunday School Association, Erwin Sibley, the superintendent, Mrs. J. J. Simpson and Mrs. W. B. Shipp, elementary worker for the organization, and Robert M. Hamilton, a traveler of note in Palestine and the originator of a world-wide "End Presbyterian church, Atlanta."

All Sunday school workers in the county of all denominations are invited to be present and are asked to bring a basket lunch.

CONFEDERATE VETERAN PASSES AT MADISON

MADISON, Ga., Nov. 27.—John A. Willford, 93, died here yesterday at the home of his son, Q. L. Willford, local attorney. He was a Confederate veteran, having served with distinction in the War Between the States.

Besides his son, he is survived by one daughter, a widow, Mrs. W. B. Shipp, elementary worker for the organization, and Robert M. Hamilton, a traveler of note in Palestine and the originator of a world-wide "End Presbyterian church, Atlanta."

Funeral services will be held at 11 o'clock tomorrow morning at the church in Comer, of which he was a deacon for 60 years.

ROOSEVELT JUNIOR DUE TO QUIT HOSPITAL SOON

BOSTON, Nov. 27.—(AP)—Massachusetts General hospital today reported that Franklin D. Roosevelt Jr. spent "a fairly comfortable day" under observation for a sinus infection.

An assistant director of the hospital said he had received "good reports all day" about young Roosevelt, and added he expected him to remain at the hospital "only a short time," probably one or two days.

Reassured after a day spent at young Franklin's bedside that he was not seriously ill, his mother left to be joined by her husband, the late Franklin, who was in Massachusetts General Wednesday.

GEER IS CONVICTED OF KILLING WOMAN

Execution Date Set for January 23 Will Be Stayed by New Trial Plea.

DAWSON, Ga., Nov. 27.—(AP)—W. I. Geer, 62, heard a judge pass the death sentence on him today following his conviction of killing Mrs. Charlie Mae Houston, his former secretary, but a new trial motion halted the execution.

Judge W. C. Worrell will hear the motion for a new trial February 27, Geer, whom the defense had pictured as an uneducated, mild at the time Mrs. Houston was shot to death last January, had been sentenced to die January 23.

The jury's verdict was brought in after only 39 minutes' deliberation. Geer told the jury in his unsworn statement that he "couldn't" have killed the woman because he loved her too much.

Mrs. Houston was shot to death while in a bed in a room with Miss Vivian Hatcher. She testified the shooting occurred after Mrs. Houston told Geer she did not love him.

After the trial, Geer was removed to the Dougherty county jail at Albany. The former criminal lawyer appeared in good spirits, discussed the apparent emotion but ignored questions concerning the actual shooting of Mrs. Houston.

He said the tombstone which had been found in his cell and whose inscription said in part: "She is not dead but sleepeth. I loved her. I was not for the dead woman, but was part of a three-section stone designed for his own grave."

The trial was held here on a charge of murder in the first degree, the shooting having taken place at Colquitt, Georgia.

GEER, UNPUNISHED, IN ALBANY JAIL

ALBANY, Ga., Nov. 27.—(AP)—In his jail cell here this afternoon, Judge W. I. Geer, convicted this morning on a charge of murder in the first degree, calmly discussed the facts concerning his two-day trial that resulted in a death penalty.

Unperturbed, and without any unusual display of emotion, he discussed the facts concerning his two-day trial that resulted in a death penalty.

He said the tombstone which had been found in his cell and whose inscription said in part: "She is not dead but sleepeth. I loved her. I was not for the dead woman, but was part of a three-section stone designed for his own grave."

The trial was held here on a charge of murder in the first degree, the shooting having taken place at Colquitt, Georgia.

He said the tombstone which had been found in his cell and whose inscription said in part: "She is not dead but sleepeth. I loved her. I was not for the dead woman, but was part of a three-section stone designed for his own grave."

The trial was held here on a charge of murder in the first degree, the shooting having taken place at Colquitt, Georgia.

He said the tombstone which had been found in his cell and whose inscription said in part: "She is not dead but sleepeth. I loved her. I was not for the dead woman, but was part of a three-section stone designed for his own grave."

The trial was held here on a charge of murder in the first degree, the shooting having taken place at Colquitt, Georgia.

He said the tombstone which had been found in his cell and whose inscription said in part: "She is not dead but sleepeth. I loved her. I was not for the dead woman, but was part of a three-section stone designed for his own grave."

The trial was held here on a charge of murder in the first degree, the shooting having taken place at Colquitt, Georgia.

He said the tombstone which had been found in his cell and whose inscription said in part: "She is not dead but sleepeth. I loved her. I was not for the dead woman, but was part of a three-section stone designed for his own grave."

The trial was held here on a charge of murder in the first degree, the shooting having taken place at Colquitt, Georgia.

He said the tombstone which had been found in his cell and whose inscription said in part: "She is not dead but sleepeth. I loved her. I was not for the dead woman, but was part of a three-section stone designed for his own grave."

Continued Today! ★★

STERCHI'S

Pre-Holiday SALE!

Open Until 9 P. M.
Tonight

Simmons Pull-Easy Studio

Has back support and arm rests.
Choice of colors.

39.95

★★★★★
SALE of SOFAS
59.50

For Your Choice

Many styles of which the three pictured are typical—values in some instances to $100! Both Duncan Phyfes have solid mahogany frames.

Made by Noritake!
16.75

A 33-piece service for eight by the makers of that famous Noritake China. Priced extremely low.

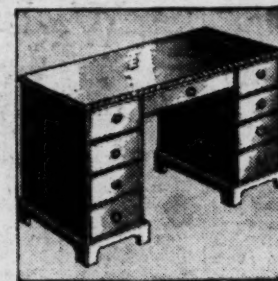

96c-Pc. Silver Set
19.75

20-year guarantee silverplate in tarnish-proof chest. Grand Christmas gift thought! Terms.

Buy Blankets on EASY TERMS

A small first payment delivers as many as you need.

Headquarters for Desks and Cedar Chests!

16.75 UP

29.50 UP

22.50 UP

14.50 UP

Knee-Hole Desks! Maple, Mahogany and Walnut! Choose from several fine designs!

Governor Winthrop and Hancock Secretaries in Walnut or Mahogany! Choose for Christmas.

Mahogany or Walnut Governor Winthrop and Hancock desks of every desired size! See them!

Walnut, Mahogany and Maple veneered Chests by Lane and Cavalier. Better Choose Early!

Save on Christmas Gifts! ★★

11-Pc. Modern Bedroom Group!

A smashing value that can't be equalled in beauty and quality at anywhere near the price. Suite alone in genuine walnut sells for $79.50! Included for today are the Bed, Vanity, Chest, Vanity Bench, Coil Spring, 2 Sheets, 2 Pillow Cases, 2 Pillows!

59.50

Made By Pullman . . .
Solid Mahogany Frame!

$139

Fine furniture at its very best—that's the character of the Pullman suites to be found on Sterchi's Fourth Floor. The two pieces shown are exceptional at $139!

Chair and Ottoman!
19.50

Last call for smart gift shoppers who are planning to buy a luxurious lounge chair for Dad's Christmas! Stocks are getting low, so take a tip—and choose THIS Chair today!

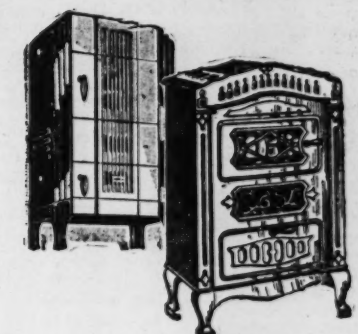

9x12 AXMINSTERS
27.95

Beautiful seamless designs in Persian, Chinese and Hook patterns.

Heaters Reduced!

1/2

A special group of guaranteed circulators at exactly 50% reduction! Choose early!

PHILCO Radio

Headquarters!.....

Great Radio Value
That's Unbeatable—The 60F!

56.95

A full size Philco console that receives standard U. S. broadcasts, police, amateur and some short wave stations. Complete installed with aerial; no carrying charges.

The Superb 630X
Guarantees Foreign Reception!

89.95

Has the patented Philco Inclined Sounding Board as in the more expensive "X" models. Installed with Philco All-Wave Aerial that doubles the number of stations you can get!

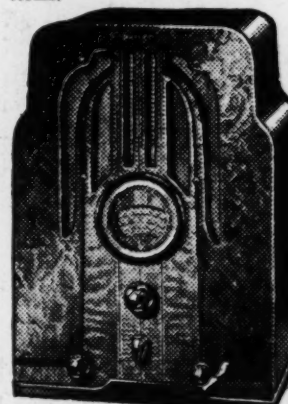

PHILCO 84B
$20

That famous Baby Grand model that receives standard broadcasts and police calls. Cash price quoted; slightly more on terms.

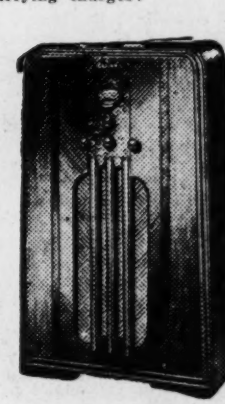

PHILCO 60B
39.95

A powerful Baby Grand model which has the same chassis as Philco 60F! Complete installed with aerial. Easy Terms—No carrying charges!

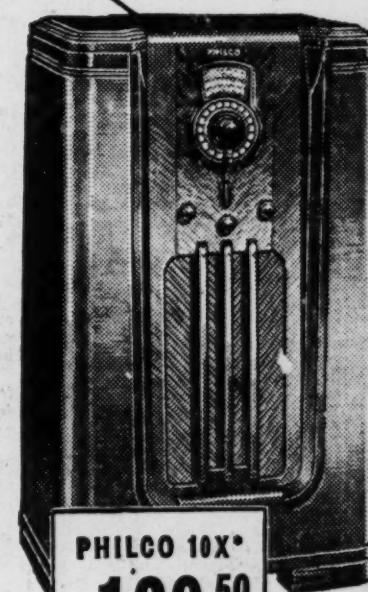

Foreign Reception Guaranteed!
$57

Philco 610B—A table model that affords world-wide reception. Complete installed with Philco All-Wave Aerial. No carrying charges.

Philco 610J—A streamline console of amazing performance. Installed with Philco All-Wave Aerial. No carrying charges.

Try This New Radio Marvel!

PHILCO
AUTOMATIC TUNING

Here's new! Radio's amazing new development . . . is now available in new Philcos in the price range of conventional radios! Other big features, too—including the Philco Foreign Tuning System that doubles foreign reception, and the Philco Color Dial that names and locates foreign stations in color! Free demonstration . . . no obligation, of course!

PHILCO 10X
139.50

STERCHI'S

116-120 Whitehall St.

Miss Catherine Waldrip Weds Mr. Sheridan at Church Rites

[illegible]

Harvey M. Waldrip and James B. Waldrip, and Miss Nell Rutherford. Mr. Sheridan and his bride left by motor for a wedding trip to North Carolina, after which they will reside at 110 Moreland avenue. Mrs. Sheridan traveled in a two-piece they were met at the altar by the groom and his brother, E. S. Sheridan, who was best man. She was lovely in a floor-length model of coronation dress of black moire worn with a Hudson seal coat and black accessories. Her corsage was of sweethearts, roses and valley lilies.

---

Mrs. Aileen Lonsdale Ramsey Weds Mr. O'Callaghan in Baltimore

BALTIMORE, Md., Nov. 28.—The marriage of Mrs. Aileen Lonsdale Ramsey and Robert Deane O'Callaghan took place on Thanksgiving Day in Baltimore, Md.

The lovely blond bride is the daughter of John C. Lonsdale, of St. Louis. Her groom is a member of the St. Louis Seminary, made her debut in St. Louis, and belongs to the Atlanta Junior League.

Mr. O'Callaghan, son of Mrs. M. P. O'Callaghan, of Athens, and the late Mr. O'Callaghan, attended University of Georgia, where he was a member of the Phi Kappa Psi chapter.

Mo., a niece of Mrs. Clifford C. Hatcher, and granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Brower, of Atlanta.

She possesses a soprano voice of unusual strength and exquisite tone, and for two years has done radio work and pursued her study of voice in New York city. She attended Washington New York, and is assistant general counsel of Radio Corporation. The couple will reside in New York city.

Atlanta Debutantes

 Via THE ZODIAC
by Bernice Denton Pierson —

"What chariots, what horses: Against us shall bide: While the stars in their courses: Do fight on our side."
—Kipling.

ANNE IRBY.

November 12 marks the natal day of charming Anne Irby, debutante daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Irby. This brings her birth-date under the influence of the Zodiacal sign Scorpio.

Scorpio is the Zodiacal sign of energy, determination, self-reliance. Mars is the governing planet of the sign.

The Sun position in this interesting chart gives intellectuality, reliability, determination. The Venus-Mars position strengthens the entire chart, indicating success in life, develops kindness, and an unusually strong character.

The Sun-Mars position confers general good health. This aspect, in connection with the planet Mercury, goes to the intellect that precious, indefinable attribute called "culture."

trology, of the birth date submitted below and return to the name and address given. I enclose:

1. Self-addressed, stamped envelope.

2. Ten cents in coin to cover mailing cost.

Birthday _____ Year Mo. Date of Mo. _____

Name _____

Street Address _____

City & State _____

The Mars position gives executive talent and sense of responsibility.

The Sun position shows her to be intuitive and an excellent judge of human nature.

Her colors are mauve and violet. Her stone is the amethyst.

You get your complete astrological forecast through The Atlanta Constitution... compiled by Bernice Denton by numbers on your Sun-chart. Watch carefully day by day for your num-

Number 508—You are intuitive and receptive and have great recuperative powers. You should develop your natural mediumistic gifts. You will be greatly benefited thereby. Plan to contact neighbors.

cents in coin to cover the mailing cost. You will then receive through the mail certain pertinent facts which deal astrologically with your time of birth, called a Sun-chart, and with this Sun-chart, a series of numbers which will enable you to identify the planetary interpretation of your personal life. The Aulaya Constitution each day deals with the planetary interpretation of your friends and relatives at this time. You will receive this information through the mail.

Number 312-The indications are that your destiny is to be a leader. You will be able to take over things that do not exist, and practice virtue and self control, and eventually you will be able to try to conquer your tendency to over-act, and to practice concentration. The tendency is that you will profit through contracts and agreements, and that you will be successful in action is not always favorable to you.

ing with the influence of a given planet on the day of your birth, according to the rules of astrology. When you have checked each of your numbers your forecast will be complete.

Below are planetary indications, according to the rules of astrology, one of which may apply to your forecast. Every day these interesting interpretations will be published, descriptive of the influence of the planets at the time of your birth. Your astrological forecast, includes, a Sun-chart, and

Program Presented
A. B. H. (1)

A splendid program featuring songs, dances and specialties was recently given at Base Hospital No. 43, sponsored by the Auxiliary of the United Spanish War Veterans No. 13, with Mrs. C. L. Anderson the chairman. Miss Frances Morgan was in charge of the program and announced different numbers, and gave solo dances.

The following were on the program:

Members of Lee-Hoover's Auxiliary, United Spanish War Veterans, No. 13, will be entertained at a Christmas party to be given by their president, Mrs. Grady Andrews Sr., at her home, 1465 S. 12th St., on Dec. 22. The party plans have been planned and Mrs. Gertrude Pate, of Albany, president of the department of Georgia, will be hostess.

The following will be special guests: Mesdames A. O. Woodward, Daisy

Misses Charlotte Simmons, Justina Irwin, Carlton Buesse and Mildred V. Rhodes, of Athens; Ida Scogin and Maggie Waldrip, past officers department of Georgia; Miss Ethel J. Jackson, of Athens, past worthy grand

Russell Moore, Alfayni Bonnet, Jack
net Rogers, Joyce Carter, Ann Kathryn Leonard, Joan Lanier, Martha nier, Betty Little, Joyce
Wayne Farris, Barbara Ann Arnold,
Liz Gilmer, Cornelia Smith, Betty
Harwell, Cecilia Sojogan, Joan Gunnell. Special specialties were given by the following: Jack Rie, Margaret

Mrs. H. Grady Andrews Sr., the auxiliary president, talked to the veterans. Mrs. Mell Hood, ward chairman, visited his family. The next program for the hospital will be given on December 22.

Woodall—Dobbs.—BARNESVILLE, Ga., Nov. 27.—A marriage of interest in this section was that of Miss Woodall and E. O. Dobbs Sr. of Barnesville. The junior class and included Margaret Jackson, Sara Cook, Sara Jones, Pauline Gay, Julia E. Louvenia Littleton, Martha Bray, Martha Connelley Caldwell, Josephine Craig, Hazel Wilson, Elizabeth Dean and Caroline Ben-

The junior class entertained the freshmen at a banquet recently and a first ritual was held. Glen Murphree, ceremony took place at the home of the bride's sister and brother-in-law, Dr. and Mrs. H. M. Lynch, in Columbus on Wednesday at 10 o'clock. Dr. Eugene Harris, pastor of St. Luke's, president of the junior class, presented a silver loving cup to Bernice Johnson, president of the freshman class. A program was given by Lady Bunch, Helen Hargrove and Marjalis Evans. The sophomore class sang "The Methodist church Columbus, read the service in the presence of Dr. and Mrs. Lynch and Mr. and Mrs. Stewart Woodall, brother and sister of the bride, also of Columbus.

Mr. and Mrs. Dobbs left after the ceremony for a wedding trip through the Delaware and Maryland Bayways.

Florida. Mrs. DOBOS is one of Barnesville's best loved young women. She has held position of trust with several Barnesville firms, and served as secretary to Professor T. O. Galloway, president of the former Georgia Industrial College. Mr. Dobbs is one of Barnesville's leading attorneys. He came here 15 years ago from Buford.

_____

Santa Claus
arrives in
Toyland
Second Floor
Today
RICH'S

Miss Betty Raines Becomes Bride Of Mr. Upshaw Today at Rydal

RYDAL, Ga., Nov. 27.—The marriage on Saturday afternoon of Miss Betty Raines and Murray Upshaw takes place at 3 o'clock at the home of the bride-elect in the Valley. The ceremony will be performed by their lifelong friend, Alton Mahan, who is justice of peace of their district.

The bride-elect is a daughter of Mrs. Angie Raines and the late Mr. Raines, and the groom is a son of the late M. L. Upshaw and Irene Maxwell Upshaw. Mrs. Will Brown and Miss Frayna Raines are her sisters, and George, Bill, Horace and Gene Raines are her brothers. Troy Upshaw is an only brother of the groom-elect.

This marriage will unite two of the oldest and best known families of Bartow county. The bride-elect was secretary and constant companion to the late Cora Harris for several years, enjoying an intimacy and an affection on the part of the noted nurse which was beautiful in the extreme.

Following the impressive ceremony

Colquitt U. D. C. Honors Veterans.

Alfred H. Colquitt, Chapter U. D. C., honored the Confederate veterans recently at their home with a Thanksgiving party. With Mrs. J. O. Haynes chairing the program, included talks and patriotic songs by Mrs. Fred Hanson at the piano. Each veteran made a brief talk. General J. H. Driver gave a talk on Thanksgiving Day.

Present were Mesdames J. O. Haynes, T. J. Alexander, O. Q. Mann, J. Wood, D. H. Smith, J. M. Fuss, Fred Hanson, J. T. Yoon, J. P. Simpson, S. H. Wilson. Each veteran was presented a box of fruit and candy. At the next meeting plans for the Christmas party will be made.

Miss Carfield Gives Scavenger Hunt.

Miss Helen Carfield entertained at her home, 521 Peach avenue, E. recently with a scavenger hunt. Present were Misses Miriam Goldman, Molly Tabakman, Norma Price, Beatrice Newman, Lillian Perlman, Frances Cohn, Shirley Kaler, Etta Warshaw, Vera Carfield, Lorain Herger, Marjorie Rosenberg, Rose Rosenberg, Dorothy Rich, Eleanor Constant.

Jack Weissman, Joe Lipsius, Sam Love, Dan Stein, Hans Sylvester, Martin May, George Stein, Sol Pils, Otto Aaron Feldman, Meyer Goncher, Johnny Glustrom, Barney Cobb, William Price, Marvin Ory, Ralph Bernman and Manney Taitz.

U. D. C. Honored.

Crawford W. Long, Chapter of the U. D. C., was entertained recently at the home of Mrs. Mamie Reed in College Park. The new officers of the chapter were introduced by Mrs. Reed. After a short business session, plans for future work of the chapter were discussed. Mrs. A. H. Strickland gave to us. The party was held in honor of Mrs. Eugene Long Harper, who is the guest of Mrs. Reed.

Jenny Lind Club.

Mrs. P. H. Hendricks was hostess recently to the Jenny Lind Sewing Club at her home on Hemphill avenue. The president, Mrs. B. H. Hendricks, presided, and Mrs. C. S. Morris was the prize. Present were Mesdames Byron Benson, George Hancey, W. E. Chambers, J. C. Green, M. M. Bullard, M. J. Harwell, C. L. Peacock, H. C. Newton, P. H. Hendricks and C. S. Morris. Mrs. Guy Merck was announced as next hostess. A social meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. H. C. Newton on Inman street.

Mrs. O'Neill Honored.

Maple Grove, No. 86, Supreme Forest Woodmen Circle, honored its sponsor, Mrs. M. O'Neill, with a surprise party and fruit shower on Tuesday at her home, 1015 Hemphill avenue. Present were Misses Myrtle Hardy, Jennie L. Malone, Lucy Hardy, Barbara Ann Allen, an Mesdames Emma Brooks, Cecil Allen, Eleanor Wingate, Ruth Bowers, Annie Jackson, Vera Storm, Amanda Vaughn, Hlanche Schofield, Florence Scarbrough, and M. O'Neill; and Cliff Jackson, Jack Storm and Charles Storm.

Garden Club Meets.

Virginia Avenue Garden Club met recently with Mrs. Byron Matthews presiding, presiding and welcoming as visitors Mesdames B. F. Johnson, James Albright and J. D. Hall. Mrs. LaRoy Rogers spoke on "Unusual Flowering Shrubs" and urged gardeners to try new shrubs rather than so many of the more common varieties. The club will send hostesses to garden center the third Wednesday in each month.

Miss Peters' Debut.

Invitations have been received by Atlanta Mrs. J. and Mrs. Ralph Peters Jr. to a tea-dance on Saturday, December 19, at a leading hotel in New York to introduce their debutante daughter, Miss Helene Louise Peters. The hosts reside at Glen Head, L. I., and their daughter, who is a student at Vassar College, will make her formal bow during the holidays.

Miss Emmy Martin Will Be Honored At Party Tomorrow

Miss Emmy Martin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Martin, who recently was named sponsor for the Upsilon Chapter of the Lambda Sigma fraternity, will be honored at a party given by the fraternity Saturday evening.

This lovely debutante is a member of a prominent and influential family and is listed among the most popular members of Atlanta's younger set. She is enrolled at the North Fulton High school, where she is a favorite with her classmates.

Members are Rob Crawford, president; Gene Browell, vice president; Allan Sampson, secretary; Jack Harris, treasurer; Hensley Sturges, Jimmy Squire, Billy Gottenger, Alfred Greene, Harold Marks, Jim Galsloger, Tom Cotton and Beverly Estes. Chapters will be Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Martin and Mr. and Mrs. Alex Hitz. Invited are Mesdames Rosea, Margaret Sampson, Nancy Ingram, Ermina Bradley, Dorothy Dean, Lyn Nutting, Virginia Dennitt, Eleanor Murray and Betty Dennitt.

Miss Mamie Bastian Is Honor Guest.

Miss Amy Mitchell and Mrs. Belle Bond were hostesses yesterday at luncheon at a local hotel, complimenting Miss Mamie Bastian, of Houston, Texas, member of the board of directors of Pilot International and governor of district No. 5, Pilot International. Miss Bastian is in Atlanta on business.

Miss Bastian is a member of Delta Kappa Gamma, national honorary sorority for teachers. The sorority was organized in Austin, Texas, in May, 1929, by Dr. Annie Webb Hant, Texas, member of the board of directors in 22 states, with the largest membership of any sorority in the United States.

Miss Bastian will conduct the initiation at a luncheon at 1 o'clock today at the Henry Grady hotel and representative teachers from all over Georgia will be present. Attending the luncheon were Mesdames Edna Murphy, Lucy Brown, Ethel Cooper, Carolyn Seifers, Fay Barrett, Lucie Barclay, Mayme Taylor, and Misses Lorraine Zellner, Julia Mashburn, Tommie Parrish, Elsie Layton, Carey Singleton, Juliette Dowling and Ed Bond.

For Miss Sharp.

Mrs. Norman Sharp and Miss Jane Sharp who have been enjoying an extended visit in the east are now in New York where they will spend some time before returning. While in Baltimore they were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Howard Lyon at their home in Lakewood. Saturday Mr. and Mrs. Lyon entertained at the dinner-dance at the Baltimore Country Club in her honor. Mr. and Mrs. Harman Piel gave an appetizer party for Miss Sharp following the Navy-Notre Dame football game.

For Mrs. Garrett.

Mrs. Duncan Haigler and Mrs. J. R. Robert Smyth entertained at dinner last night yesterday in compliment to Mrs. Reid Garrett, of Rockingham, N. C., who is the feteed guest of Mrs. Ralph Williams.

A limited number of friends were invited to meet the visitor at the home of Mrs. Haigler on Penn avenue.

Barbara Bell Patterns

Barbara Bell Pattern No. 1973-B is a "made-in-an-hour" affair that solves the housewife problem for many a rush! wife and sister. Back in one piece, front in two, and then the short sleeves—it's ready to wear before you know it! The contrasting bias binding is an easy and practical, as well as neat, way of trimming. Nothing is so laudable as a dress, since pleats, collar, ruffles and such like are less likely to be seen.

Make it several times and go through the holiday season without further worry. It's a sure way to brighten your home and your temper. The pattern is a grand material saver and a frock for size 38 can be had out of 6-8 yards 55-inch fabric at a very low cost in percale, and for a little more in gingham, dimity or seersucker.

Barbara Bell Pattern No. 1973-B is available in sizes 36, 38, 40, 42, 44, 46, 48, 50 and 52. 5 1/2 yards of 1 1/2 inch bias binding required for finishing.

Price of pattern is 15 cents. Do not send stamps.

Send for the full Barbara Bell pattern book. Make yourself attractive, practical and becoming clothes select designs from the Barbara Bell well-planned, easy-to-make patterns. Interesting and exclusive fashions for little children and the difficult junior age; slenderizing, well-cut patterns for the mature figure, afternoon dresses for the most particular young women and matrons and other patterns for special occasions are all to be found in the Barbara Bell Pattern Book. Send fifteen cents today for your copy.

Mail orders to Barbara Bell Pattern Dept., The Constitution, Atlanta, Ga.

Nancy has the following sheets which will prove helpful. Any one of the sheets may be procured by sending three cents for each one and a stamped, self-addressed envelope: Fish Gown Towel, Crocheted T-Strap Bootie, Tie on Cocktail Napkins, Linen Dish Holder.

(Copyright, 1936, for The Constitution)

NANCY PAGE

Christmas Is Less Than a Month Away.

By FLORENCE La GANKE.

Just as soon as Thanksgiving was over with and the last dinner dishes washed and put away there came the insistent question of Christmas presents and gifts. What was one going to give to whom? That seemed to be the universal question.

Nancy had always made many gifts. She used scraps of felt, small pieces of ribbon and silk. She crocheted pot holders, embroidered monograms, knitted tricky scarves and bolts. This year she had purchased a bolt of toweling at a fall linen sale and she wondered what she could do with it.

She found plenty of ideas. For instance, she used one piece for a table runner. This was going on a table for two in the home of a recent bride. At one end and near the corner Nancy embroidered a nosegay of flowers. The bride adored gardening. At the other end she embroidered an envelope with a stamp placed conspicuously upon it. The man was a stamp collector. Then she made four napkins. On two of them she embroidered in simple outline stitch the name of the bride. The name of the groom went on the other two. Nancy buttonholed the cut edges of the runner and napkins. She made group buttonholing, putting three stitches close together, then a fairly wide space and then another group of stitches and so on around the cut edges.

Another set of lines was made from the toweling for a runner on the small maple side table and a longer runner on the buffet. The furniture was extremely simple, otherwise Nancy would have had to choose nicer material. At irregular intervals on the runners she outlined in chain stitch little fruits, some inconsequential flowers, snub-nosed peppers, plump potatoes. The effect was gay and quite informal in spirit with the kind of housekeeping done by the girl for whom these gifts were intended.

Nancy has the following sheets which will prove helpful. Any one of the sheets may be procured by sending three cents for each one and a stamped, self-addressed envelope: Fish Gown Towel, Crocheted T-Strap Bootie, Tie on Cocktail Napkins, Linen Dish Holder.

(Copyright, 1936, for The Constitution)

BOSTON, Thursday.—One never can be too sure of one's plans. I was sitting in my secretary's living room at Hyde Park Wednesday noon, when the telephone rang and my mother-in-law told me in some excitement that she had just received a message for me that Franklin J. had some kind of sinus trouble and had gone to the hospital.

Luckily, she did know the name of the hospital, so I called up Phillips House in Boston and talked first to my son, and then to the doctor, and decided I had better emerge from the tables of mail which surrounded me and take a flying trip to Boston.

Having just settled down to three days in one place, and having decided I had ample time to do all the work before me Wednesday and enjoy a family reunion Thanksgiving Day, I had to do a certain amount of rearranging. Immediately after lunch I went over to my sister-in-law's, Mrs. J. R. Roosevelt's house, where my mother-in-law was luncheon, and spent three-quarters of an hour with them. I arranged for Mrs. James Roosevelt to speak on the radio this morning in my place. Then I went back to the cottage, sat at my desk till 4:45, when a rather bewildered gentleman knocked at the door.

He is a poet and writer by profession, but not finding these professions always lucrative, he has done a number of other things. When I got his letter saying he was now my near neighbor in Rhinebeck and wished to talk to me, I invited him to come and bring his wife for tea at 5 o'clock Wednesday afternoon. He came alone, however, and lost, which cannot be blamed entirely on his artistic temperament, for it was getting dark and our road is hard to find. He was cold and apologetic, but we had tea and when he thawed out I discovered that his present ambition was to find out how a gentleman who is a poet could learn to run a farm and make it pay.

After he departed I put in another hour at my desk. All the mail to be read and marked was finished, but a big pile still lay there to be read and signed. Supper was as brief as possible. Then I dressed, packed and sat down to sign mail until I had to leave for the train. 12:30 train for Boston. I inquired mildly from the porter at what time we arrived and he answered: "The train arrives at 6:15 and stays in the yards. But you have to get off by 8:30. How long does it take you to dress?"

He said it with such emphasis that I replied that I would be up at 7. I felt it incumbent upon me this morning to keep my word. After a bath and breakfast at the hotel, I went over to see my son and the doctor, and was glad to find that everything was progressing so favorably there was little cause for worry.

My young nephew is in the same hospital, and it has given me an opportunity to see him, also. So we had a small family reunion, but not the one I expected to have today.

(Copyright, 1936, for The Constitution.)

'YOUR FIGURE, MADAME!'

By IDA JEAN KAIN.

FOR LOVELIER CURVES. The difference between stringlines and streamlines is in the curve of the bust. Since the truly feminine figure is the ideal today, women are interested in normal weight beautifully distributed.

Vitality and weight are the two factors which determine the contour of the bust. This area is especially susceptible either to fatty deposits with excessive weight, or to a scarcity of normal tissue with asthenic underweight. Framework does not always control the size of the bust and the large-framed girl may have a small or large bust, while the slim, wiry girl with high vitality is likely to be well developed. Glandular functioning has nothing to do with skeletal proportions.

Measurements of 100 girls and women of varying ages indicated that the lovely normal bust measurement can exceed the chest by one inch to two and one-half inches, depending on structure. The bust that was less than one inch larger than the chest appeared small and the bust which exceeded the chest by more than two and one-half inches was too large for beauty.

The bust measurement is sometimes for from perfect. In a figure with small, sagging breasts, the bust measurement may be as much as one-half inch less than the chest circumference. In extreme overweight, the bust may exceed the chest by four to six inches. Either extreme is far from lovely.

Since these glands are held in place by fan-shaped muscles extending across the front of the chest and inserted in the upper arm, exercise of these muscles in the improvement of bust contour,

Exercise fills out deficient tissue in the underdeveloped girl and breaks down excess fat deposit in the overweight.

Because of the origin and insertion of the muscles, arm exercises strengthen these supporting muscles and raise the bust to normal position. Hanging from a bar provides exercise that is real exertion for the pectoral muscles, and hanging bar can be erected in a doorway and used daily for the improvement of your figure.

Here is another exercise which tones the pectoral muscles and elevates the bust to normal position.

Position: Standing erect, arms extended straight overhead, feet slightly apart.

Movement: With arms upstretched, make circles, moving arms backward and down to shoulder level, continuing the circle up in front and straight overhead. Perform ten times; rest. Repeat 10 times.

The girl with a large, flabby bust should reduce her weight to normal and exercise to improve the position. The underweight should raise weight and vitality to normal and exercise to fill out the deficient tissues.

Position: Stand with feet of bust exercises, "Bust Reducing Exercises" and "Bust Development Exercises." Send for the set needed. It takes several months to improve the contour of the bust, but normal weight and consistent exercise will give you a lovely figure.

Balanced Reducing Menu.

BREAKFAST—

Orange juice, 1-2 glass 50

Poached egg on toast 150

Butter, 1-4 pat 25

Coffee, clear 225

Total 425

LUNCHEON—

x-Walder salad (fruit dressing) 100

x-Cream cheese and olive sandwich (reducer's mayonnaise) 250

Hot tea, 1 lump sugar 25

Total 375

DINNER—

Lean roast beef, 2 slices 200

Baked squash 50

Brown gravy, 1-4 cup 50

Browned potato 125

Head lettuce and tomato salad (vinegar) 25

Glass skimmed milk or buttermilk 80

Total 530

Total calories for day 1,130

Your Dietitian

IDA JEAN KAIN.

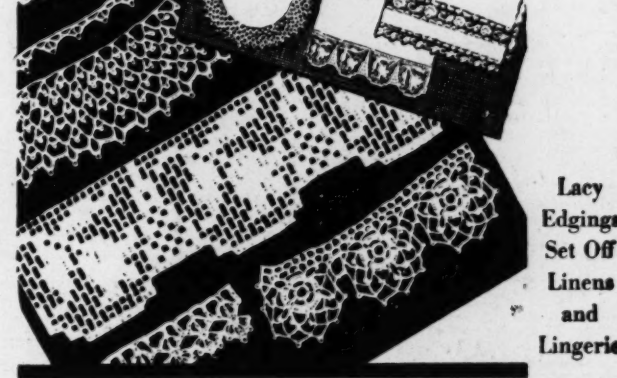

x-Send for Reducer's Recipes, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

(Copyright, 1936, for The Constitution)

Vickery—Burdette.

SIMPSONVILLE, S. C., Nov. 27. Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Vickery, of this city, announce the engagement of their daughter, Hilda Ruth, to Robert Wesley Burdette. The marriage will take place in December.

Needlework—Lasting and Lovely

What lovely things you can do with these dainty lace edgings and insertions! Add them to your own linens, lingerie or neckwear—or see how charmingly they'll "dress up" a simple Christmas gift. The Irish crocheted will lend an expensive touch to the kiddies' frocks, while the mesh would make a handsome glove cuff among its other uses! Some, done in string,

Atlanta Federation Sponsors Bridge Party On December 2

Under the direction of Mrs. E. E. Limbaugh and Mrs. Judson Garner, plans for the benefit bridge party of the Atlanta Federation of Women's Clubs on December 2 are progressing according to Mrs. George Ripley, federation president. The party, scheduled for 2:30 o'clock on December 2, will be held in the ballroom of the E. Allen White studios in the Shrine Mosque. "We expect this party to be one of the most excitingly interesting and loveliest the federation has sponsored in some time. A very choice collection of useful and attractive gifts have already been secured through the efforts of Mesdames George Warren, W. F. Dykes and Colonel A. R. Colcord, members of the gift prize committee," Mrs. Limbaugh stated.

"The wrapping committee under the direction of Mrs. Stuart Brown and Mrs. Ross Garner, will be kept making attractive packages of these gifts from now until December 2."

Others assisting are Mrs. E. V. Carter, chairman of chairman; Mrs. E. D. L. Almond, chairman of arrangements; Mrs. I. F. Sterne and Mrs. Mellicie Nix Edwars, co-chairmen of serving; Mrs. Ed L. Almond and Mrs. C. W. Heery, chairman of door; Mrs. W. D. Williams and Mrs. Eva Corrigan; publicity, Mrs. Raymond H. Wolfe.

Reservations at the usual price should be made immediately with Mrs. Limbaugh or Mrs. Garner. It is hoped officers and chairman of the federation will attend to play bridge and aid a worthy cause.

Miss Moody Honored.

Miss Otter Moody, whose marriage to Percy Davis, will be an event of Saturday, was feted Wednesday evening at a miscellaneous shower. The reception was composed of Miss Pauline Naugher, Mrs. H. P. Lovelace, hostesses, and a score of the shower being given on Virginia Circle at the home of Mrs. Paul Cobb.

Luncheon for the table featuring a mirror with fruits and autumn leaves. Mrs. Sterling McEachern kept the bride's book and little Mary Louise Cobb accepted the gifts. An advice contest was held and won by Mrs. McEachern, and the bride-elect was presented with lovely gifts. Miss Moody was modestly attired in a dark rust lace dress with short jacket.

Beta Sigma Phi.

Epsilon Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi sorority met recently at the Capital City Club. Officers for the coming year were installed as follows: Lucie Benson, president; Mrs. Allen Cooke, vice president; Peggy Smith, secretary; Jewell Lunceford, corresponding secretary, and Kathryn Orr, treasurer.

Following the meeting Miss Dorothy Manget, bride-elect and former president, was honored at a surprise handkerchief shower. Members of the chapter presented her with a gift in appreciation of her work as their leader.

Shorter College.

ROME, Ga., Nov. 27.—Two plays were presented recently by the play production department of Shorter College. The first was given under the direction of Miss Evelyn Horne, and members of the cast were Misses Ada Beth Jarman, Hailie Thompson, Ruth Babb and June Pearson.

The second play was staged by Miss Miriam Smith, and those taking part were Misses Betty Green, Sara Lewis, Julie Lambert, Maurine Faulkner and Dorothy Darby.

Dr. Cullen B. Gosnell To Lecture To DeKalb League on December 4

Dr. Cullen B. Gosnell, of Emory University, author of "The History and Politics of Georgia," will discuss this subject with the DeKalb League of Women Voters, speaking at their annual meeting at 12 o'clock Friday, December 4, in the home of Mrs. I. H. Owen, 425 East Ponce de Leon avenue, Decatur. All members of the league and those studying his book especially, are urged to be present promptly at 12 o'clock and to bring sandwiches for the informal luncheon in honor of Dr. and Mrs. Gosnell which will immediately follow the address.

This annual luncheon and all-day meeting of the league gives the membership an opportunity to hear reports from officers and chairman and a written report of all activities of the league is requested from the following women: Mesdames W. A. Ozmer, C. C. Smith, Roy Staples, A. L. Wade, W. H. S. Hamilton, George W. Woods, Wellington Stevenson, W. Paul Speir, A. A. Lecour, George S. Watts, C. C. Tunison, L. H. Owen, E. R. McDonough, H. C. Holbrook and Miss Eva Richardson.

Aliae Class Meets.

Aliae Class of the First Baptist church held its monthly business and social meeting Thursday at home of the teacher, Miss Bessie Cotney, 509 Peoples street, S. W.

The first ribbon girls were Misses Suzanne Pyle and Elizabeth King. C. Peeler and Henry Trussel, brothers of the bride and groom, were the ushers. The attractive bride entered with the groom. She wore becoming princess suit of azure blue, with gray fox trimmings, and her accessories were of gray. Her flowers were brides' roses and a host of friends and relatives from Talbotton, Junction City, Manchester and Centerville.

LONGER STAPLE FOUND IN 1936 COTTON CROP

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27.—(AP)—This season's cotton crop was reported "longer in staple, on the average" than the 1935 crop by the Bureau of Agricultural Economics today in a grade and staple survey of cotton ginned to November 1.

Ginnings amounted to 9,881,527 bales or about 80 per cent of the estimated 1936 crop, and were rated according to revised grade standards that became effective August 20. American upland cotton accounted for 9,875,800 bales, or 99.9 per cent of that ginned while American-Egyptian cotton amounted to 5,700 bales or .1 per cent.

Owens Would Do Time, But Sentence Is Lost

Take the case of Ralph Owens, Atlanta's one-time bootlegger king. He surrendered Tuesday to Fulton county authorities to begin serving a 12-month sentence for assault and battery, but yesterday, because of entangled legal red tape, he remained in Fulton tower twiddling his thumbs.

When Owens surrendered, he announced he was ready to begin to serve time for three convictions which would keep him on the chain gang two years. And one sentence imposed in superior court has been upheld by the court of appeals and the proper remittitur has been received, but the sentence is to follow two criminal court sentences which must be served first.

One of these latter sentences is pending before the superior court, but the other, which Owens claimed was taken to the court of appeals, cannot be found.

Last night officials were awaiting orders from the superior commission, admitting they are completely puzzled. Some said two courses lay open: Owens must withdraw his appeals or sign a written order agreeing to serve time while they are pending and then it will be marked to his credit.

History Study Club.

The History Study Club met Tuesday with Mrs. J. R. Dunn at her home on Peachtree way. Following luncheon, the meeting was called to order by Mrs. J. R. Dunn, president. Present were: Mesdames A. U. Fairbanks, R. K. Jones, Swift Tyler, L. W. Sills, W. L. Bryan, G. A. Gray, Milton Denton, L. J. Bonner, J. R. Amerson, Betty Kemp, John Patton, Albert Callaway, W. F. Pope, Spencer Brewer, Jose Valdez, John Aiken, F. N. Fairbanks, P. M. Christian, J. A. Dunn, Leola Brown and Sam Shiver. The next meeting will be in December 11 with Mrs. Joe Valdez in Peachtree Hills.

STERCH'S

Has The Very Best Gift of All For Your Mother or Wife!....

FRIGIDAIRE!

of course!

YOU CAN PAY AS LITTLE AS 4.42 MONTHLY

What else would give a woman such year 'round joy! (And it's wise to remember, too, that a Frigidaire with the Meter Miser cuts down living expenses mightily!) Choose the size the family needs at Sterch's today. Let's make arrangements well ahead of time so installation on Christmas Eve will go off without a single slip!

116-120 Whitehall St.

THE CONSTITUTION

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISING

Information

CLOSING HOURS

Want ads are accepted up to 5 p. m. on Friday for the Saturday edition. The closing hour for the Sunday edition is 5:30 p. m. on Saturday.

LOCAL CLASSIFIED RATES

Daily and Sunday rates per line for consecutive insertions:

10% Discount for Cash

For publication the next day:

One line.....27 cents

Three lines.....19 cents

Seven lines.....13 cents

Thirty lines.....13 cents

Minimum, 3 lines (12 words).

In estimating the space to an ad figure six average words to a line.

Ads ordered for three or more days and accepted before 5 p. m. on Friday will only be charged for the number of times they are published. The advertiser makes the right to revise or delete any advertisement.

All want ads are restricted to their proper classification and the advertiser reserves the right to revise or delete any advertisement.

Ads ordered by telephone are accepted from persons listed in the telephone or city directory on a random charge only. In return for this courtesy the advertiser is expected to remit promptly.

To Phone An Ad

Call WALNUT 6565

Ask for an Ad-Taker

Railroad Schedules

Schedule Published as Information.

(Central Standard Time)

Effective June 23, 1936.

TERMINAL STATION

A. & W. P. R. R. - Leaves

11:35 a.m. New Orleans-Memphis

11:45 a.m. New Orleans-Memphis

12:15 p.m. New Orleans-Memphis

12:30 p.m. New Orleans-Memphis

1:00 p.m. New Orleans-Memphis

1:15 p.m. New Orleans-Memphis

1:30 p.m. New Orleans-Memphis

1:45 p.m. New Orleans-Memphis

2:00 p.m. New Orleans-Memphis

2:15 p.m. New Orleans-Memphis

2:30 p.m. New Orleans-Memphis

2:45 p.m. New Orleans-Memphis

3:00 p.m. New Orleans-Memphis

3:15 p.m. New Orleans-Memphis

3:30 p.m. New Orleans-Memphis

3:45 p.m. New Orleans-Memphis

4:00 p.m. New Orleans-Memphis

4:15 p.m. New Orleans-Memphis

4:30 p.m. New Orleans-Memphis

4:45 p.m. New Orleans-Memphis

5:00 p.m. New Orleans-Memphis

5:15 p.m. New Orleans-Memphis

5:30 p.m. New Orleans-Memphis

5:45 p.m. New Orleans-Memphis

6:00 p.m. New Orleans-Memphis

6:15 p.m. New Orleans-Memphis

6:30 p.m. New Orleans-Memphis

6:45 p.m. New Orleans-Memphis

7:00 p.m. New Orleans-Memphis

7:15 p.m. New Orleans-Memphis

7:30 p.m. New Orleans-Memphis

7:45 p.m. New Orleans-Memphis

8:00 p.m. New Orleans-Memphis

8:15 p.m. New Orleans-Memphis

8:30 p.m. New Orleans-Memphis

8:45 p.m. New Orleans-Memphis

9:00 p.m. New Orleans-Memphis

9:15 p.m. New Orleans-Memphis

9:30 p.m. New Orleans-Memphis

9:45 p.m. New Orleans-Memphis

10:00 p.m. New Orleans-Memphis

10:15 p.m. New Orleans-Memphis

10:30 p.m. New Orleans-Memphis

10:45 p.m. New Orleans-Memphis

11:00 p.m. New Orleans-Memphis

11:15 p.m. New Orleans-Memphis

11:30 p.m. New Orleans-Memphis

11:45 p.m. New Orleans-Memphis

12:00 a.m. New Orleans-Memphis

12:15 a.m. New Orleans-Memphis

12:30 a.m. New Orleans-Memphis

12:45 a.m. New Orleans-Memphis

1:00 a.m. New Orleans-Memphis

1:15 a.m. New Orleans-Memphis

1:30 a.m. New Orleans-Memphis

1:45 a.m. New Orleans-Memphis

2:00 a.m. New Orleans-Memphis

2:15 a.m. New Orleans-Memphis

2:30 a.m. New Orleans-Memphis

2:45 a.m. New Orleans-Memphis

3:00 a.m. New Orleans-Memphis

3:15 a.m. New Orleans-Memphis

3:30 a.m. New Orleans-Memphis

3:45 a.m. New Orleans-Memphis

4:00 a.m. New Orleans-Memphis

4:15 a.m. New Orleans-Memphis

4:30 a.m. New Orleans-Memphis

4:45 a.m. New Orleans-Memphis

5:00 a.m. New Orleans-Memphis

5:15 a.m. New Orleans-Memphis

5:30 a.m. New Orleans-Memphis

5:45 a.m. New Orleans-Memphis

TARZAN AND THE MAYAN GODDESS No. 132

The prisoners were locked in underground cells to await the coming of the night, when Tarzan was to die. And through the gloomy corridor paced a jailer, who had been assigned by Togatzal to keep watch, so that the Queen could give no aid to the giant captive.

"It looks like our goose is not only cooked, but burnt to a crisp," George groaned; "and my girl'll never know what happened to me." "Don't give up," said D'Arnot; "I've still got my revolver. I hid it under my shirt before they got me. It might save us yet."

"What good's one gun against nine million of these bilikens?" George demanded. Tarzan was suddenly alert. "D'Arnot!" he called; "when the jailer passes, shoot! We might be able to reach through the bars, pull him to us, get the keys—and escape!"

As the jailer passed, D'Arnot fired. The monster fell—not forward toward the cells, but backward, so that none of the prisoners could reach him. "There goes our last chance," wailed George; "those devils won't even do a guy a favor when they're dead."

Good Morning!

POPULAR PHRASES

Plymouth Automobile Dealers Say:

"The Best Buy of All Three"

And that slogan is applicable to the newspaper field of Atlanta. With the largest city and suburban circulation, THE WANT AD PAGES of The Constitution afford a medium through which you can contact more prospects than can be reached by any other Atlanta newspaper. It's the economical way to results. Call Walnut 6565 for Ad-taker.

Constitution WANT ADS

"First in the Day—First to Pay"

Announcements

Personals

SLIP COVERS, curtains, draperies, pillows, comforters covered; alterations; reas. W. 1968.

WHY NOT STAY WELL THIS WINTER? BUILD RESISTANCE TO COLDS WITH ANABOLIC FOODS. MA. 6879.

ALCOHOL, rubs, health treatments, revives muscles, relaxes nerves. Mrs. Darr. WA. 367.

ALCOHOL, rubs, bath treatments, revives muscles, relaxes nerves. Mrs. Darr. WA. 367.

CURTAINS laundered beautifully, guaranteed. Call Collect. Mrs. Bates. DE 424.

FURS remodeled, hand cleaned, tailoring. Mrs. Fairbanks. 212 13th St. NE. 7028-M.

CURTAINS, quilts, blankets, bedspreads, etc. Mrs. Fairbanks. 212 13th St. NE. 7028-M.

VIOLIN repairing. Mrs. Reddett. Viola Shop. 809 Pryor St. N. E. Atlanta, Ga.

ALCOHOL, rubs and health treatments. 573-A Courtland St. MA. 7125.

TRUNKS, radios, etc. delivered in city. See Dime Magazine. N. W. 7185.

MONUMENTS as low as $34.41. 506 Atlanta Bldg. & Geo. Co. 1616 DeKalb Av.

Will, board and give mother's care to two children. Private home. 2352

MANIPULATIONS, SUN BATHS, DIET. MISS MANNING. MA. 6879.

CURTAINS, LINGERIE, CALLED FOR. CHAIRS, PAPER, BOOKS, ETC. A reward is offered the finder. Write to Rev. J. S. Dumas, 411 East 28 St., Rome, Ga., or 47 Hunter St., Columbus, Ga.

2 LADY'S dress boxes, containing clothing, dresses, underwear, with labels. Labels in front. Answer Hotel Thursday. Reward for information or return. No questions asked. W. 1968.

SKATING RINK. MARIETTA, GA.—PRIZES.

DR. DUNCAN—Plates, $10; repairing, $1.50. 1324 Whitehall St. MA. 4537.

ALCOHOL, RUBS BY NURSE. MEN, WOMEN. KEEF FEELING FIT. MA. 9975.

LOST—ALL WE HAD

WEDNESDAY, between Linden Ave. and Doctor's Building, black billfold containing about $15 and few papers with name Keller Schwartzman. An unemployed with 4 mos. old baby boy to support. Liberal reward if returned to 1324 Whitehall St. W. 1968.

LOST—A black leather jacket, size 36, between 11:30 and 2 o'clock, on the Atlanta highway, a handbag with important papers, books, clothing, etc. A reward is offered the finder. Write to Rev. J. S. Dumas, 411 East 28 St., Rome, Ga., or 47 Hunter St., Columbus, Ga.

2 LADY'S dress boxes, containing clothing, dresses, underwear, with labels. Labels in front. Answer Hotel Thursday. Reward for information or return. No questions asked. W. 1968.

LOST—A black leather jacket, size 36, between 11:30 and 2 o'clock, on the Atlanta highway, a handbag with important papers, books, clothing, etc. A reward is offered the finder. Write to Rev. J. S. Dumas, 411 East 28 St., Rome, Ga., or 47 Hunter St., Columbus, Ga.

LOST—A black leather jacket, size 36, between 11:30 and 2 o'clock, on the Atlanta highway, a handbag with important papers, books, clothing, etc. A reward is offered the finder. Write to Rev. J. S. Dumas, 411 East 28 St., Rome, Ga., or 47 Hunter St., Columbus, Ga.

LOST—A black leather jacket, size 36, between 11:30 and 2 o'clock, on the Atlanta highway, a handbag with important papers, books, clothing, etc. A reward is offered the finder. Write to Rev. J. S. Dumas, 411 East 28 St., Rome, Ga., or 47 Hunter St., Columbus, Ga.

LOST—A black leather jacket, size 36, between 11:30 and 2 o'clock, on the Atlanta highway, a handbag with important papers, books, clothing, etc. A reward is offered the finder. Write to Rev. J. S. Dumas, 411 East 28 St., Rome, Ga., or 47 Hunter St., Columbus, Ga.

LOST—A black leather jacket, size 36, between 11:30 and 2 o'clock, on the Atlanta highway, a handbag with important papers, books, clothing, etc. A reward is offered the finder. Write to Rev. J. S. Dumas, 411 East 28 St., Rome, Ga., or 47 Hunter St., Columbus, Ga.

LOST—A black leather jacket, size 36, between 11:30 and 2 o'clock, on the Atlanta highway, a handbag with important papers, books, clothing, etc. A reward is offered the finder. Write to Rev. J. S. Dumas, 411 East 28 St., Rome, Ga., or 47 Hunter St., Columbus, Ga.

LOST—A black leather jacket, size 36, between 11:30 and 2 o'clock, on the Atlanta highway, a handbag with important papers, books, clothing, etc. A reward is offered the finder. Write to Rev. J. S. Dumas, 411 East 28 St., Rome, Ga., or 47 Hunter St., Columbus, Ga.

LOST—A black leather jacket, size 36, between 11:30 and 2 o'clock, on the Atlanta highway, a handbag with important papers, books, clothing, etc. A reward is offered the finder. Write to Rev. J. S. Dumas, 411 East 28 St., Rome, Ga., or 47 Hunter St., Columbus, Ga.

LOST—A black leather jacket, size 36, between 11:30 and 2 o'clock, on the Atlanta highway, a handbag with important papers, books, clothing, etc. A reward is offered the finder. Write to Rev. J. S. Dumas, 411 East 28 St., Rome, Ga., or 47 Hunter St., Columbus, Ga.

LOST—A black leather jacket, size 36, between 11:30 and 2 o'clock, on the Atlanta highway, a handbag with important papers, books, clothing, etc. A reward is offered the finder. Write to Rev. J. S. Dumas, 411 East 28 St., Rome, Ga., or 47 Hunter St., Columbus, Ga.

LOST—A black leather jacket, size 36, between 11:30 and 2 o'clock, on the Atlanta highway, a handbag with important papers, books, clothing, etc. A reward is offered the finder. Write to Rev. J. S. Dumas, 411 East 28 St., Rome, Ga., or 47 Hunter St., Columbus, Ga.

LOST—A black leather jacket, size 36, between 11:30 and 2 o'clock, on the Atlanta highway, a handbag with important papers, books, clothing, etc. A reward is offered the finder. Write to Rev. J. S. Dumas, 411 East 28 St., Rome, Ga., or 47 Hunter St., Columbus, Ga.

LOST—A black leather jacket, size 36, between 11:30 and 2 o'clock, on the Atlanta highway, a handbag with important papers, books, clothing, etc. A reward is offered the finder. Write to Rev. J. S. Dumas, 411 East 28 St., Rome, Ga., or 47 Hunter St., Columbus, Ga.

LOST—A black leather jacket, size 36, between 11:30 and 2 o'clock, on the Atlanta highway, a handbag with important papers, books, clothing, etc. A reward is offered the finder. Write to Rev. J. S. Dumas, 411 East 28 St., Rome, Ga., or 47 Hunter St., Columbus, Ga.

LOST—A black leather jacket, size 36, between 11:30 and 2 o'clock, on the Atlanta highway, a handbag with important papers, books, clothing, etc. A reward is offered the finder. Write to Rev. J. S. Dumas, 411 East 28 St., Rome, Ga., or 47 Hunter St., Columbus, Ga.

LOST—A black leather jacket, size 36, between 11:30 and 2 o'clock, on the Atlanta highway, a handbag with important papers, books, clothing, etc. A reward is offered the finder. Write to Rev. J. S. Dumas, 411 East 28 St., Rome, Ga., or 47 Hunter St., Columbus, Ga.

LOST—A black leather jacket, size 36, between 11:30 and 2 o'clock, on the Atlanta highway, a handbag with important papers, books, clothing, etc. A reward is offered the finder. Write to Rev. J. S. Dumas, 411 East 28 St., Rome, Ga., or 47 Hunter St., Columbus, Ga.

LOST—A black leather jacket, size 36, between 11:30 and 2 o'clock, on the Atlanta highway, a handbag with important papers, books, clothing, etc. A reward is offered the finder. Write to Rev. J. S. Dumas, 411 East 28 St., Rome, Ga., or 47 Hunter St., Columbus, Ga.

LOST—A black leather jacket, size 36, between 11:30 and 2 o'clock, on the Atlanta highway, a handbag with important papers, books, clothing, etc. A reward is offered the finder. Write to Rev. J. S. Dumas, 411 East 28 St., Rome, Ga., or 47 Hunter St., Columbus, Ga.

LOST—A black leather jacket, size 36, between 11:30 and 2 o'clock, on the Atlanta highway, a handbag with important papers, books, clothing, etc. A reward is offered the finder. Write to Rev. J. S. Dumas, 411 East 28 St., Rome, Ga., or 47 Hunter St., Columbus, Ga.

LOST—A black leather jacket, size 36, between 11:30 and 2 o'clock, on the Atlanta highway, a handbag with important papers, books, clothing, etc. A reward is offered the finder. Write to Rev. J. S. Dumas, 411 East 28 St., Rome, Ga., or 47 Hunter St., Columbus, Ga.

LOST—A black leather jacket, size 36, between 11:30 and 2 o'clock, on the Atlanta highway, a handbag with important papers, books, clothing, etc. A reward is offered the finder. Write to Rev. J. S. Dumas, 411 East 28 St., Rome, Ga., or 47 Hunter St., Columbus, Ga.

LOST—A black leather jacket, size 36, between 11:30 and 2 o'clock, on the Atlanta highway, a handbag with important papers, books, clothing, etc. A reward is offered the finder. Write to Rev. J. S. Dumas, 411 East 28 St., Rome, Ga., or 47 Hunter St., Columbus, Ga.

LOST—A black leather jacket, size 36, between 11:30 and 2 o'clock, on the Atlanta highway, a handbag with important papers, books, clothing, etc. A reward is offered the finder. Write to Rev. J. S. Dumas, 411 East 28 St., Rome, Ga., or 47 Hunter St., Columbus, Ga.

LOST—A black leather jacket, size 36, between 11:30 and 2 o'clock, on the Atlanta highway, a handbag with important papers, books, clothing, etc. A reward is offered the finder. Write to Rev. J. S. Dumas, 411 East 28 St., Rome, Ga., or 47 Hunter St., Columbus, Ga.

LOST—A black leather jacket, size 36, between 11:30 and 2 o'clock, on the Atlanta highway, a handbag with important papers, books, clothing, etc. A reward is offered the finder. Write to Rev. J. S. Dumas, 411 East 28 St., Rome, Ga., or 47 Hunter St., Columbus, Ga.

LOST—A black leather jacket, size 36, between 11:30 and 2 o'clock, on the Atlanta highway, a handbag with important papers, books, clothing, etc. A reward is offered the finder. Write to Rev. J. S. Dumas, 411 East 28 St., Rome, Ga., or 47 Hunter St., Columbus, Ga.

LOST—A black leather jacket, size 36, between 11:30 and 2 o'clock, on the Atlanta highway, a handbag with important papers, books, clothing, etc. A reward is offered the finder. Write to Rev. J. S. Dumas, 411 East 28 St., Rome, Ga., or 47 Hunter St., Columbus, Ga.

LOST—A black leather jacket, size 36, between 11:30 and 2 o'clock, on the Atlanta highway, a handbag with important papers, books, clothing, etc. A reward is offered the finder. Write to Rev. J. S. Dumas, 411 East 28 St., Rome, Ga., or 47 Hunter St., Columbus, Ga.

LOST—A black leather jacket, size 36, between 11:30 and 2 o'clock, on the Atlanta highway, a handbag with important papers, books, clothing, etc. A reward is offered the finder. Write to Rev. J. S. Dumas, 411 East 28 St., Rome, Ga., or 47 Hunter St., Columbus, Ga.

LOST—A black leather jacket, size 36, between 11:30 and 2 o'clock, on the Atlanta highway, a handbag with important papers, books, clothing, etc. A reward is offered the finder. Write to Rev. J. S. Dumas, 411 East 28 St., Rome, Ga., or 47 Hunter St., Columbus, Ga.

LOST—A black leather jacket, size 36, between 11:30 and 2 o'clock, on the Atlanta highway, a handbag with important papers, books, clothing, etc. A reward is offered the finder. Write to Rev. J. S. Dumas, 411 East 28 St., Rome, Ga., or 47 Hunter St., Columbus, Ga.

LOST—A black leather jacket, size 36, between 11:30 and 2 o'clock, on the Atlanta highway, a handbag with important papers, books, clothing, etc. A reward is offered the finder. Write to Rev. J. S. Dumas, 411 East 28 St., Rome, Ga., or 47 Hunter St., Columbus, Ga.

LOST—A black leather jacket, size 36, between 11:30 and 2 o'clock, on the Atlanta highway, a handbag with important papers, books, clothing, etc. A reward is offered the finder. Write to Rev. J. S. Dumas, 411 East 28 St., Rome, Ga., or 47 Hunter St., Columbus, Ga.

LOST—A black leather jacket, size 36, between 11:30 and 2 o'clock, on the Atlanta highway, a handbag with important papers, books, clothing, etc. A reward is offered the finder. Write to Rev. J. S. Dumas, 411 East 28 St., Rome, Ga., or 47 Hunter St., Columbus, Ga.

LOST—A black leather jacket, size 36, between 11:30 and 2 o'clock, on the Atlanta highway, a handbag with important papers, books, clothing, etc. A reward is offered the finder. Write to Rev. J. S. Dumas, 411 East 28 St., Rome, Ga., or 47 Hunter St., Columbus, Ga.

LOST—A black leather jacket, size 36, between 11:30 and 2 o'clock, on the Atlanta highway, a handbag with important papers, books, clothing, etc. A reward is offered the finder. Write to Rev. J. S. Dumas, 411 East 28 St., Rome, Ga., or 47 Hunter St., Columbus, Ga.

LOST—A black leather jacket, size 36, between 11:30 and 2 o'clock, on the Atlanta highway, a handbag with important papers, books, clothing, etc. A reward is offered the finder. Write to Rev. J. S. Dumas, 411 East 28 St., Rome, Ga., or 47 Hunter St., Columbus, Ga.

LOST—A black leather jacket, size 36, between 11:30 and 2 o'clock, on the Atlanta highway, a handbag with important papers, books, clothing, etc. A reward is offered the finder. Write to Rev. J. S. Dumas, 411 East 28 St., Rome, Ga., or 47 Hunter St., Columbus, Ga.

LOST—A black leather jacket, size 36, between 11:30 and 2 o'clock, on the Atlanta highway, a handbag with important papers, books, clothing, etc. A reward is offered the finder. Write to Rev. J. S. Dumas, 411 East 28 St., Rome, Ga., or 47 Hunter St., Columbus, Ga.

LOST—A black leather jacket, size 36, between 11:30 and 2 o'clock, on the Atlanta highway, a handbag with important papers, books, clothing, etc. A reward is offered the finder. Write to Rev. J. S. Dumas, 411 East 28 St., Rome, Ga., or 47 Hunter St., Columbus, Ga.

LOST—A black leather jacket, size 36, between 11:30 and 2 o'clock, on the Atlanta highway, a handbag with important papers, books, clothing, etc. A reward is offered the finder. Write to Rev. J. S. Dumas, 411 East 28 St., Rome, Ga., or 47 Hunter St., Columbus, Ga.

LOST—A black leather jacket, size 36, between 11:30 and 2 o'clock, on the Atlanta highway, a handbag with important papers, books, clothing, etc. A reward is offered the finder. Write to Rev. J. S. Dumas, 411 East 28 St., Rome, Ga., or 47 Hunter St., Columbus, Ga.

LOST—A black leather jacket, size 36, between 11:30 and 2 o'clock, on the Atlanta highway, a handbag with important papers, books, clothing, etc. A reward is offered the finder. Write to Rev. J. S. Dumas,

Real Estate for Sale

Houses for Sale 84
West End.
A LARGE six-room and breakfast room brick on Orlando St. and Cascade, with hardwood floors, furnace heat, nice lot 60x150, 2-car garage. Can be used as 2 family lots (already has 2 kitchens). Just redecorated inside and out and in perfect condition. Price $35,000. Arrange to see this lovely home by calling Mr. Macmillan 4846.

NATIONAL REALTY MANAGEMENT CO., INC.

827.50, NO LOAN. Duplex, 4 rooms and bath each side. Recommended like new. Only $350 cash, $27.50 month. Investigate. Home Davis, 112, 4502 W. 21st.

Capitol View.

852 BEECHWOOD
B-R.M. house, 600 sq. ft. $350 cash, $27.50 mo. Coopers, WA. 1714.

Carey Park

14 ST. JAMES PL. Nice suburban residence, 11 rooms, 2 baths, 2 car garage. $15,000. Real buy. Easy terms. C. M. McMurtry, WA. 9551.

College Park

6-R.M. frame, nice lot, 127 E. Cambridge Ave. $1,500. DE. 0901-3.

Miscellaneous

BUY A HOME
HAVE THE TITLE GUARANTEED AND INSURED BY Atlanta Title & Trust Co.

Investment Properties

84-A
549 RIMMON, N. W. 4 units, rented $14.50. $1,500. $175 cash. WA. 8707.

Lots for Sale

85
FOR best selection, North Side lots. Call Burdett Realty Co. WA. 1014.

Property for Colored

86
HOMES and rental property, bargains, also make loans. Bell & Arnold, 250 Auburn, JA. 4321.

Suburban for Sale

87
WOODLAND HILLS—Dandy cottage, 60 acres land. Beautiful home. Rubbing spring, fruit, etc. $100,000. Call J. J. Hemperley, WA. 7310.

To Exchange Real Estate

88
TRADE with owner very attractive, well-located 2-story duplex, 1200 sq. ft. for good sound value in negro houses. Owner, WA. 7244, VE. 2458.

Wanted—Real Estate

89
HAVE call to make $10,000 cash to buy well-located, run down property, property to sell. Let me know what you have. W. Evans, WA. 1511, J. H. Ewing & Sons.

Auction Sales

90
JOHNSON LAND CO. MA. 1938.
PIERCE COLLINS AUCTION CO. MA. 9377.

Automotive

91
DEPENDABLE USED CARS AND TRUCKS
"The Old Reliable"
JOHN SMITH CO.
Chevrolet Dealer

BOOMERSHINE

MA. 1921
LEADS Atlanta in Used Car Values
HARRY SOMMERS, INC.
GUARANTEED resale cars at lowest prices.
Peachtree, Forrest, JA. 1834.

SPECIAL

1938 CHEVROLET 4-door sedan, cleanest one on market. Must be seen to be appreciated. Will take cash or trade. Call Mr. Wright, WA. 9028.

DO YOU WANT TO MAKE EASY MONEY

QUICK! Call MA. 4722, GIVING NAME OF PERSON WANTING GOOD USED CAR. MR. GLAZE.

1938 CHEVROLET COACH, RUNS SMOOTH

LY. GOOD. Call MA. 4722, BARGAINS FOR 100% FROM OWNER, WA. 2237.

A. J. RELIABLE MOTOR CO.

827 West Peachtree St. SE. MA. 3121
34 DODGE Sedan, cleanest one on market. $1,200. $125 cash. WA. 1714.

COMING SOON—1937 WILLYS

THE SURPRISE CAR OF THE YEAR
EVANS MOTORS, 234 PEACHTREE
1937 CHEVROLET 4-door sedan, original paint. Low mileage. $250. Thomas, DE. 4987.

3436 STUDEBAKER President, cruising sedan, radio, automatic, 1938. Far-brother Motor Co., DE. 5142.

1933 PLYMOUTH sedan, new paint, new tires. Will sell right. Arthur Walker, JA. 2727.

1931 CHEVROLET 2-door, new paint, new tires, mechanically perfect, $155. Thomas, DE. 4987.

1935 PLYMOUTH 4-door touring sedan, trunk, in splendid condition. Good tires. A bargain price. Call Mr. Hand, DE. 4987.

1935 CHEVROLET 4-door sedan, new paint, new tires, mechanically perfect, $155. Thomas, DE. 4987.

1935 PLYMOUTH 4-door touring sedan, trunk, in splendid condition. Good tires. A bargain price. Call Mr. Hand, DE. 4987.

1935 CHEVROLET 4-door sedan, new paint, new tires, mechanically perfect, $155. Thomas, DE. 4987.

1935 PLYMOUTH 4-door touring sedan, trunk, in splendid condition. Good tires. A bargain price. Call Mr. Hand, DE. 4987.

1935 CHEVROLET 4-door sedan, new paint, new tires, mechanically perfect, $155. Thomas, DE. 4987.

1935 PLYMOUTH 4-door touring sedan, trunk, in splendid condition. Good tires. A bargain price. Call Mr. Hand, DE. 4987.

1935 CHEVROLET 4-door sedan, new paint, new tires, mechanically perfect, $155. Thomas, DE. 4987.

1935 PLYMOUTH 4-door touring sedan, trunk, in splendid condition. Good tires. A bargain price. Call Mr. Hand, DE. 4987.

1935 CHEVROLET 4-door sedan, new paint, new tires, mechanically perfect, $155. Thomas, DE. 4987.

1935 PLYMOUTH 4-door touring sedan, trunk, in splendid condition. Good tires. A bargain price. Call Mr. Hand, DE. 4987.

1935 CHEVROLET 4-door sedan, new paint, new tires, mechanically perfect, $155. Thomas, DE. 4987.

1935 PLYMOUTH 4-door touring sedan, trunk, in splendid condition. Good tires. A bargain price. Call Mr. Hand, DE. 4987.

1935 CHEVROLET 4-door sedan, new paint, new tires, mechanically perfect, $155. Thomas, DE. 4987.

1935 PLYMOUTH 4-door touring sedan, trunk, in splendid condition. Good tires. A bargain price. Call Mr. Hand, DE. 4987.

1935 CHEVROLET 4-door sedan, new paint, new tires, mechanically perfect, $155. Thomas, DE. 4987.

1935 PLYMOUTH 4-door touring sedan, trunk, in splendid condition. Good tires. A bargain price. Call Mr. Hand, DE. 4987.

1935 CHEVROLET 4-door sedan, new paint, new tires, mechanically perfect, $155. Thomas, DE. 4987.

1935 PLYMOUTH 4-door touring sedan, trunk, in splendid condition. Good tires. A bargain price. Call Mr. Hand, DE. 4987.

1935 CHEVROLET 4-door sedan, new paint, new tires, mechanically perfect, $155. Thomas, DE. 4987.

1935 PLYMOUTH 4-door touring sedan, trunk, in splendid condition. Good tires. A bargain price. Call Mr. Hand, DE. 4987.

1935 CHEVROLET 4-door sedan, new paint, new tires, mechanically perfect, $155. Thomas, DE. 4987.

1935 PLYMOUTH 4-door touring sedan, trunk, in splendid condition. Good tires. A bargain price. Call Mr. Hand, DE. 4987.

1935 CHEVROLET 4-door sedan, new paint, new tires, mechanically perfect, $155. Thomas, DE. 4987.

Automotive

Automobiles for Sale 91
FORD 1932, CONVERTIBLE SPORT COUPE, 1935, Mr. THOMAS, DE. 4987.
1935 PLYMOUTH coupe, new paint, good condition. Radio. Cheap. DE. 1682-2.

840 EQUITY in '34 Chevrolet standard, clean, 17 notes owing. MA. 4222.

1932 FORD V-8, 116 Spring St., S. W. 909. See Mr. B. B. B.

Auto Trucks for Sale 92
'29 FORD PANEL TRUCK, 144A, FRONT-COTTON MOTORS, 450 Peachtree St., WA. 9078.

RADIATORS IN USED TRUCKS.
International Harvester Co.
580 Whitehall St., S. W. MA. 4424.

1930 LA SALLE club sedan, $135 in good condition, terms if wanted. Mr. Lee, WA. 3207.

AUSTIN COUPE, $50 CASH, PRIVATE OWNER, 252 CARSON ST. KIRKWOOD.

USED TRUCK BARGAINS.
THE WHITE MOTOR CO. WA. 8242.

1935 INTERNATIONAL panel, a bargain. General Motors Co., 231 1/2 W. 7151.

Cylinder Grinding 93
NATIONAL ENGINE WORKS
Since 1915, 330 Ravenna St., WA. 6407.

Auto Body and Top Service 93-A
IMPERIAL BODY WORKS specializes in re-building cars, 11 Piedmont Ave., WA. 924.

Auto Trucks for Rent 95
DIXIE DRIVE IT YOURSELF CO.
14 Houston St., N. E. WA. 1870.

HERTZ DRIVE-IT-YOURSELF, Rent a Truck, 1500 Auburn Ave., WA. 686.

Auto Trailers 98 COVERED WAGON DEALERS
South's Largest Display of America's Most Popular Trailer Cars.
Evans Motors, 234 Peachtree, MA. 4766.

20-FOOT truck, semitrailer, cheap. 57 Fair St., S. E. MA. 7437.

Wanted Automobiles 110
CASH FOR ALL LIGHT MARK CARS.
John S. Florence Motor Co.
230 WHITEHALL ST. MA. 4892-3.

TOP prices paid for clean used cars. One car or entire dealer's stock. Buy your equipment. Evans Motors, 234 Peachtree, MA. 4766.

CASH your car with us. We pay top prices. Jones Bros. Motors, Inc., 229 Spring St., WA. 5551.

Cash for Your Used Car—Fast Cash Dept.
EAST POINT CHEVROLET CO., WA. 6893.
Cash for good used cars. Jack Porter, 233 Peachtree, Forrest, JA. 1834.

PAY cash, good used cars, from owners. Hall Motors, T-J Baker, N. W. WA. 2263.

CASH or consign your car to Louis L. Cline, 392 Peachtree, WA. 1833.

WANTED—Used cars for cash. McCrea, West End Ford Dealer.

HIGHEST cash prices paid any number used cars. 352 W. Peachtree, WA. 5454.

Classified Display

Automotive

East Point Co.

CHEVROLET
DEALER
Let's TALK BARGAINS

29 FORD Coupe $85
28 CHEVROLET Coupe 65
29 CHEVROLET Coupe 95
31 CHEVROLET Coupe 150
31 CHEVROLET Sedan 175
33 CHEVROLET Coupe 275
34 CHEVROLET Coupe 345
34 CHEVROLET Sport Sedan 395
35 CHEVROLET Coupe 445
35 CHEVROLET Sedan, radio 475
36 CHEVROLET Std. Sedan 536

TERMS
Main St., East Point
CA. 2166

Constitution Classified Ads

Bring Results

EVANS MOTORS

Automobiles and Trailers

'36 Pontiac Sport Coupe.....$695
'36 Pontiac Six Coupe.....$595
'36 Buick Del. Sedan.....$795
'36 Terraplane Sedan.....$595
'34 Chevrolet Std. Coach.....$295
'34 Chevrolet M. Coach.....$295
'36 Plymouth Spt. Coupe.....$545
'36 Willys (4-cyl.) Sedan.....$225
'32 Ford (4-cyl.) Coupe.....$195
'32 Ford Tudor Deluxe.....$195
'31 Chevrolet Panel.....$250
'31 Chevrolet Roadster.....$175
'31 Pontiac 6 Coupe.....$175
'33 Austin Truck.....$145
'33 Pontiac Coupe.....$145
'30 Pontiac Coupe.....$75
'27 Buick Sedan.....$75
'27 Chrysler Coach.....$50
House Trailer, complete.....$195

New COVERED WAGONS

ON DISPLAY
—COMING SOON—

1937 Willys Economy Car—

Surprise Car of the Year!

EVANS MOTORS

234 Peachtree
219 Spring Street

FORD

1935 Tudor Sedan, New rubber, original finish, perfect. $585.
FROST-COTTON
TWO LOCATIONS
450 Peachtree WA. 9078
283 Spring WA. 9075

SATURDAY BARGAINS

'29 FORD $95
'30 FORD 145
'31 FORD 175
'32 FORD 195
'31 CHEVROLET 195

McCREA

WEST END FORD DEALER
See or Call Mr. Sneed
RA. 3971

DOWNTOWN CHEV. CO.

329 WHITEHALL MA. 5000

Classified Display

Personal Service

Plates.....$10.00
Repainting.....$1.00
Cleaning.....$1.00
DR. DUNCAN
1334 Whitehall St. MA. 4887

BREATHLESS MOMENTS

By Charles W. Duke

If only that kite will stay up.

Near the window of a tumble-down shack at Signal Hill on the rocky coast of St. John's, Newfoundland, a slim Italian scientist sits at a small table.

Alternately he watches the odd airplane before him and pressed his face to the windowpane to gaze aloft at the kite, flying 400 feet above him in the gale.

Wind shakes the old building once a barracks for troops. Watch in hand, the young inventor is only 27—awaiting the fateful moment when it will be 12 noon. Twelve o'clock in Newfoundland, but 1 o'clock over in England across the wide expanse of Atlantic ocean.

How the moments drag. Anxiously the Italian inspects the curious contrivance in front of him—a small glass table packed with metal filings. He calls it "coherer." An electric spark will cause these filings to move and rearrange themselves in new formations. A wire leads from the instru-

Contract Bridge

By ELLI CULBERTSON
World's Champion Player and Greatest Card Analyst

Herewith is presented another portion of Mr. Culbertson's latest work on contract, "The Gold Book of Bridge and Play," which is being reproduced in this column in daily installments.

REBIDDABLE SUITS

A five card suit headed by both the ace and king, or by any three honors (ten or higher), may be bid and then rebid, even if partner has not shown support by raising. This type is called a rebiddable suit. It includes suits such as A K 4 3 2, Q J 10 3 2, K J 10 3 2, A Q 10 3 2.

Any six card suit is rebiddable and may be bid a second time without waiting for support from partner. This includes suits such as A K J 10 9 8, K J 10 9 8 7, Q J 10 9 8 7, A Q J 10 9 8, K J 10 9 8 7.

No suit of fewer than five cards is rebiddable, but the following five card suits are on the borderline between rebiddable and non-rebiddable: A Q 7 4 3 or A J 9 8 4 or K Q 7 4 3.

Such suits should not be rebid when another suit is available, but when the player's hand warrants a second bid, or when a rebid is forced by the bidding situation, the above suits may be bid a second time in a pinch.

TODAY'S HAND

East dealer.
Both sides vulnerable.

NORTH
A J
A Q 9 8
Q 6 4
8 7 3

WEST
Q 9 7 6
K J 10
9 2
J 9 5 4

SOUTH
A 5 3 3
7 6
A 8 5
A 10 6

The bidding:
East South West North
Pass Pass Pass Pass
1 N T Pass Pass
Double Redouble Pass Pass

Others $50 to $100
$40.00
OR MORE ALLOWANCE
ON YOUR OLD CAR, REGARDLESS OF CONDITION, ON THE ABOVE LOW PRICED CARS.

370 P'tree Open Eves.
JA. 2727

THE BEST USED CARS

AT THE LOWEST PRICES

352 SPRING ST.

ALL MAKES ALL MODELS
J. M. Harrison & Co.
Open evenings—WA. 5527

PLYMOUTH

1936, Trunk, 4-door Sedan. Radio, low mileage. Very slightly used. $645.

FROST-COTTON

450 Peachtree WA. 9078
283 Spring WA. 9075

SATURDAY BARGAINS

'29 FORD $95
'30 FORD 145
'31 FORD 175
'32 FORD 195
'31 CHEVROLET 195

McCREA

WEST END FORD DEALER
See or Call Mr. Sneed
RA. 3971

DOWNTOWN CHEV. CO.

329 WHITEHALL MA. 5000

Classified Display

Personal Service

Plates.....$10.00
Repainting.....$1.00
Cleaning.....$1.00
DR. DUNCAN
1334 Whitehall St. MA. 4887

DEFENSES INSIDE ATOM

TO BE DESCRIBED HERE

Noted Physicist To Lecture on Science at Emory Centennial.

The significance of recent discoveries concerning atomic energy and the radio-activity of various matter, such as the common breakfast biscuit, will be explained by Dr. George B. Pegram in an address at the Emory Centennial celebration. It was announced yesterday.

Dr. Pegram, speaking on "The Defense Inside the Atom," will give several demonstrations of radio activity and will describe the manner in which common matter may be endowed with the properties of radio.

The Emory speaker is head of the famous Pupin Laboratories at Columbia University. He is head of the Columbia department of physics and is now acting dean of the Columbia graduate facilities.

Dr. Pegram has been directing research in this field for many years. He has been connected with Columbia since 1909. He seldom leaves the laboratories and his decision to speak at Emory is considered a tribute to the institution's rising importance in research work, school officials said.

The New York physicist is a native of Trinity, N. C., where his maternal grandfather, Braxton Craven, was the founder of Trinity College. At Emory, Dr. Pegram will meet Dr. W. P. P. Pegram, president of Duke University, who grew out of Trinity College. Dr. Pegram is the founder of Emory College.

The physicist will bring with him to Emory several complicated pieces of research equipment to use in his demonstration. His talk will be on the day set in the Emory program to emphasize the part Emory plays in scientific research work. The same day will also be devoted to the study of government and Dr. Alfred B. Butts, chancellor and professor of law at the University of Mississippi, will speak that afternoon on "The Science of Government." The Emory program will begin on December 4 with an address by William Jay Hale, and will continue through December 13.

1,363-TON DESTROYER LAUNCHED IN JAPAN

TOKYO, Nov. 27.—(AP)—The 1,363-ton, first-class destroyer Umikaze was launched today at the Maizuru naval dockyard, the first of two Japanese war vessels scheduled to slide down the ways within a week.

The Chitose, airplane motorship, is to be launched Sunday at the Kure dockyard.

The Umikaze will have a top speed of 34 knots and will carry five 12-centimeter guns and eight torpedo tubes.

CONVICT KILLED, 1 HURT AS JAIL BREAK FURTS

McALESTER, Okla., Nov. 27.—(AP)—One prisoner was killed and another wounded today when they attacked a guard with a hatchet and knife in an attempt to escape.

Harlan Wells, serving a 35-year term for robbery, was slain, and Roy Clasky, automobile thief, serving a five-year term, was wounded.

Rich Owens, the guard, was slightly injured.

Lillian Mae Patterns

4226

PANEL-FRONT FROCK IS PERFECT FOR YOUR "BUSIEST" HOUR.

Pattern 4226

Your self-assurance will soar the minute you don this cheery little wash frock, Pattern 4226, for how could any frock be daintier or more feminine! You're sure to love this engaging "at home" style for its choice of puffed or flared sleeves and perky revers.

You're sure, too, to love the squared yokes which merge smartly into an all-in-one front panel. See how feminine are the crisp frills outlining the yokes? Omit the cuffing if you prefer more tailored chic. Even if you're never made a frock before, here's the ideal pattern to start on, for it's easy as A B C to follow! Choose a sturdy washable fabric such as percale or gingham.

Pattern 4226 is available in sizes 12, 14, 16, 18, 20, 22, 24, 26, 28, 30, 32, 34, 36, 38, 40, 42. Size 16 takes 3 1/2 yards 36 inch fabric and 1 1/2 yards ruffling. Illustrated step-by-step sewing instructions included.

Send fifteen cents (15c) in coins (do not send stamps) for this Lillian Mae pattern. Write plainly name, address and style number.

Send for your copy of the Lillian Mae pattern book. Every page is filled with fascinating styles in afternoon frocks—gay sports—tops—stunning party clothes! Shimmering styles for matrons! Budget-saving patterns for novices! And growing-up ways! Easy patterns that invite "beginners!" Fabric suggestions and ideas for gifts.

Book fifteen cents. Pattern fifteen cents. Order at once. Lillian Mae Pattern Dept., The Constitution, Atlanta, Ga.

SPANISH SOCIALISTS ASK LEAGUE ACTION

France Fears Result; Britain and Russia Opposed Appeal.

GENEVA, Nov. 27.—(UP)—League of Nations officials tonight received with fear the Spanish Socialist government's request that the council investigate alleged aid given to the Spanish rebels by Germany and Italy.

Faced by the League's failure in the Manchurian and Ethiopian crises, Geneva officials felt that if the League assumed responsibility for solving a third major quarrel, it might prove a death blow. Despite this, League officials thought it likely that the council would be assembled next week to consider the Spanish note. There is no easy way to ignore it.

Spain is a member of the League and as such is entitled to take advantage of the covenants, provisions for settling international quarrels. Officially the League is not an investigating body in the event of war or the threat of war.

The Valencia government implied that Germany and Italy had raised a threat of war. It protested their recognition of the rebels as the official government of Spain and charged them with aiding General Francisco Franco, rebel commander.

Spain's protest was immediately referred to council members and Augustin Edwards, of Chile, who would preside if the council meets.

The Spanish appeal involves two great European powers, both antagonistic toward Germany. Germany no longer is a League member. Italy, it is said, has shunned the League since it refused to unseat the Ethiopian deposed king, Premier Mussolini of Italy, since his conquest of their country.

Both Italy and Germany officials feared would refuse to appear before the council for questioning.

FRANCE AROUSED BY APPEAL

PARIS, Nov. 27.—(AP)—French Foreign Minister, Yvon Delbos tonight deplored the Spanish Socialist government's appeal to the League of Nations without consulting other countries and a source close to the government called it "a frightful development."

One official said Spain's request that the League consider Italy-German recognition of the Spanish Socialist Insurgents "makes it an affair in which all Europe will be involved." Delbos told the chamber of deputies foreign affairs committee:

"It would have been better if the move had been submitted first to France for consultation, since England and even Russia have advised against it."

France, he said, would act in close collaboration with England regarding policy toward the Spanish civil war. "In this matter, no less than any other," Delbos declared, "France cannot act alone, and if England decides to continue to avoid all sources of complications France must likewise take into consideration her public opinion."

A high British source said in London the British government opposed the Spanish demand for a League council discussion of this subject. The council could only reaffirm the non-intervention principle which the international neutrality committee is trying to enforce.

French foreign office spokesmen admitted officials were worried and viewed the Spanish action as endangering France's efforts to keep the peace in Spain.

REDS DIG TUNNELS TO ESCAPE BOMBINGS

MADRID, Nov. 27.—(AP)—Madrid citizens dug underground tunnels today to speed their flight from house to house in the bitter siege against the capital by Spanish fascists.

With bare hands and what shovels they could find, the householders burrowed from one cellar to the next to assure some means of exit if their homes were demolished by bombardment.

Asphyxiation killed hundreds trapped in basements during the past three weeks of siege. Others were crushed to death by falling debris, and the tunnels were designed to guard against this.

Their haste was increased by a clear sky after two days of rain and the renewed threat of fascist aerial attack.

Lack of food was becoming more acute and most of the city was on a vegetarian diet.

Peasants, who sought refuge here as the fascist army marched through the southern rural territory, had some sheep and fowl which they had brought with them. One flock of sheep grazed on the lawn of the war ministry.

General Emilio Klerber, naturalized Canadian and leader of the Socialist International Brigade of Foreign Volunteers, was named supreme commander of the suburban defenses as a reward for brilliant services. Klerber described himself as a "professional revolutionary."

General Emilio Klerber, naturalized Canadian and leader of the Socialist International Brigade of Foreign Volunteers, was named supreme commander of the suburban defenses as a reward for brilliant services. Klerber described himself as a "professional revolutionary."

General Emilio Klerber, naturalized Canadian and leader of the Socialist International Brigade of Foreign Volunteers, was named supreme commander of the suburban defenses as a reward for brilliant services. Klerber described himself as a "professional revolutionary."

General Emilio Klerber, naturalized Canadian and leader of the Socialist International Brigade of Foreign Volunteers, was named supreme commander of the suburban defenses as a reward for brilliant services. Klerber described himself as a "professional revolutionary."

General Emilio Klerber, naturalized Canadian and leader of the Socialist International Brigade of Foreign Volunteers, was named supreme commander of the suburban defenses as a reward for brilliant services. Klerber described himself as a "professional revolutionary."

General Emilio Klerber, naturalized Canadian and leader of the Socialist International Brigade of Foreign Volunteers, was named supreme commander of the suburban defenses as a reward for brilliant services. Klerber described himself as a "professional revolutionary."

General Emilio Klerber, naturalized Canadian and leader of the Socialist International Brigade of Foreign Volunteers, was named supreme commander of the suburban defenses as a reward for brilliant services. Klerber described himself as a "professional revolutionary."

General Emilio Klerber, naturalized Canadian and leader of the Socialist International Brigade of Foreign Volunteers, was named supreme commander of the suburban defenses as a reward for brilliant services. Klerber described himself as a "professional revolutionary."

General Emilio Klerber, naturalized Canadian and leader of the Socialist International Brigade of Foreign Volunteers, was named supreme commander of the suburban defenses as a reward for brilliant services. Klerber described himself as a "professional revolutionary."

General Emilio Klerber, naturalized Canadian and leader of the Socialist International Brigade of Foreign Volunteers, was named supreme commander of the suburban defenses as a reward for brilliant services. Klerber described himself as a "professional revolutionary."

General Emilio Klerber, naturalized Canadian and leader of the Socialist International Brigade of Foreign Volunteers, was named supreme commander of the suburban defenses as a reward for brilliant services. Klerber described himself as a "professional revolutionary."

General Emilio Klerber, naturalized Canadian and leader of the Socialist International Brigade of Foreign Volunteers, was named supreme commander of the suburban defenses as a reward for brilliant services. Klerber described himself as a "professional revolutionary."

General Emilio Klerber, naturalized Canadian and leader of the Socialist International Brigade of Foreign Volunteers, was named supreme commander of the suburban defenses as a reward for brilliant services. Klerber described himself as a "professional revolutionary."

General Emilio Klerber, naturalized Canadian and leader of the Socialist International Brigade of Foreign Volunteers, was named supreme commander of the suburban defenses as a reward for brilliant services. Klerber described himself as a "professional revolutionary."

General Emilio Klerber, naturalized Canadian and leader of the Socialist International Brigade of Foreign Volunteers, was named supreme commander of the suburban defenses as a reward for brilliant services. Klerber described himself as a "professional revolutionary."

General Emilio Klerber, naturalized Canadian and leader of the Socialist International Brigade of Foreign Volunteers, was named supreme commander of the suburban defenses as a reward for brilliant services. Klerber described himself as a "professional revolutionary."

General Emilio Klerber, naturalized Canadian and leader of the Socialist International Brigade of Foreign Volunteers, was named supreme commander of the suburban defenses as a reward for brilliant services. Klerber described himself as a "professional revolutionary."

General Emilio Klerber, naturalized Canadian and leader of the Socialist International Brigade of Foreign Volunteers, was named supreme commander of the suburban defenses as a reward for brilliant services. Klerber described himself as a "professional revolutionary."

General Emilio Klerber, naturalized Canadian and leader of the Socialist International Brigade of Foreign Volunteers, was named supreme commander of the suburban defenses as a reward for brilliant services. Klerber described himself as a "professional revolutionary."

2 POLICEMEN CLEARED OF CHARGES BY BOARD

Another Suspended; Sturdy Defends Men at Scene of Fire.

Two policemen on trial before the public safety committee of city council last night were exonerated of charges against them, while a third was suspended 29 days.

Patrolman Charles K. Maddox was cleared of charges made by Ben Kaplan, Tenth street shoe repairer, that he was connected with the lottery business, and Superintendent Patrolman J. C. Varnum was acquitted of mistreating a drunken crip in a Marietta street case.

Patrolman Y. F. Gheslin was suspended 29 days on charges of being under the influence of an intoxicant while not in uniform and not on duty. After 20 hours on duty, Gheslin said he took two headache powders and washed them down with a glass of wine. He went to sleep.

On motion of Councilman Howard Haire, the committee voted to assign a driver for each lieutenant as a safety measure.

Alderman John W. Ball Jr. moved to advise an application for a beer and wine license for Young Smith to operate at the same place at Pryor and Woodward, where Raymond Smith was recently arrested for selling beer.

In discussing a proposed fire detail of police, Chief T. O. Sturdivant said his men handled the Cable Piano Company fire excellently. He asserted it was right and proper that only a few policemen stay at the scene of a big fire while many others surround the area on street corners to route traffic that otherwise would increase the jam in the stricken section.

THREE-INCH SNOW Tiger, Other Towns Report First Fall of Season.

TIGER, Ga., Nov. 27.—The first snow of "the season began falling here about 12 o'clock yesterday and by 4 o'clock the mountains were covered with a three-inch snow. This follows 10 days of beautiful weather. Low temperatures and a light snow are also reported at Cornelia and Covington.

Free souveniers to all adult visitors opening Saturday, Nov. 28. "Flowers for All Occasions" MORNINGSIDE FLOWER SHOP 1534 Piedmont Ave. At Boulevard

Since 1885
Randall Coal
Has been the preference in thousands of homes
Let us prescribe the Coal best suited for your needs
For Heat Value Call
WALnut 4711

GET THIS complete up-to-date United States history now, as this offer will soon be withdrawn.

CLIP THIS COUPON!

ENTITLING YOU TO
"A COMPLETE HISTORY OF
THE UNITED STATES" FOR 98c

through
The Atlanta
Constitution

Present or mail this coupon with 98c to this paper and receive this beautiful 640-page volume of Clement Wood's great book.

MAIL ORDERS
If by mail, include 10c postage up to 150 miles; 13c up to 300 miles; or for greater distance ask your postmaster for rate on 3 pounds.

Blue Gem, Yellow Pine, Jellico, Luckie Strike, Block and Egg Coal

TRUITT COAL AND IRON CO.
Call WA. 0753 Atlanta, Ga.

NEWS OF THE CHURCHES

Alpha Class Home-Coming Sunday
WESLEY MEMORIAL CHURCH - Auburn and Ivy Sts. - 9:30 a.m.

MARVIN WILLIAMS - WILKIE COLLINS
Special Program MRS. FRANK WELLS All Former Alphans Arranged (Teacher) and Young Folks Invited

ST. MARKS METHODIST PEACHTREE
J. W. JOHNSON, D. D., PASTOR.
11 A. M. Sermon: "THE BONDAGE OF FEAR" - Dr. W. P. King
7:30 P. M. Sermon: "THE DESIRED FRIENDSHIP" by A. Carl Atkins.

Building construction in the Philippines is nearly double that of 1935.

Additional charges of assault and battery were placed against the prisoner, listed as Jack Gamble, 30, who was pardoned while under one to two years' sentence for larceny of an automobile.

Gamble allegedly attempted to choke Turnkey Moseley as the officer was transferring him from the fourth to the third floor. Turnkey S. Banky, 31, charged Moseley's aid. Gamble suffered injuries in the encounter and was treated at Grady hospital.

Atlanta police yesterday were asked to be on the watch for two negro convicts, believed in this vicinity, who fled from Greensboro, Ga., after overpowering a guard and stealing a truck. One of the convicts is a life-terminer, convicted of murder.

TURNKEY IS ATTACKED BY PARDONED CONVICT
A convict pardoned last Saturday by Governor Talmadge attacked Turnkey J. C. Mosley on the fourth floor of Atlanta police headquarters last night, following his arrest on charges of drunk and disorderly conduct, and cursing, according to police reports.

Additional charges of assault and battery were placed against the prisoner, listed as Jack Gamble, 30, who was pardoned while under one to two years' sentence for larceny of an automobile.

Gamble allegedly attempted to choke Turnkey Moseley as the officer was transferring him from the fourth to the third floor. Turnkey S. Banky, 31, charged Moseley's aid. Gamble suffered injuries in the encounter and was treated at Grady hospital.

Atlanta police yesterday were asked to be on the watch for two negro convicts, believed in this vicinity, who fled from Greensboro, Ga., after overpowering a guard and stealing a truck. One of the convicts is a life-terminer, convicted of murder.

TURNKEY IS ATTACKED BY PARDONED CONVICT
A convict pardoned last Saturday by Governor Talmadge attacked Turnkey J. C. Mosley on the fourth floor of Atlanta police headquarters last night, following his arrest on charges of drunk and disorderly conduct, and cursing, according to police reports.

Additional charges of assault and battery were placed against the prisoner, listed as Jack Gamble, 30, who was pardoned while under one to two years' sentence for larceny of an automobile.

Gamble allegedly attempted to choke Turnkey Moseley as the officer was transferring him from the fourth to the third floor. Turnkey S. Banky, 31, charged Moseley's aid. Gamble suffered injuries in the encounter and was treated at Grady hospital.

Atlanta police yesterday were asked to be on the watch for two negro convicts, believed in this vicinity, who fled from Greensboro, Ga., after overpowering a guard and stealing a truck. One of the convicts is a life-terminer, convicted of murder.

TURNKEY IS ATTACKED BY PARDONED CONVICT
A convict pardoned last Saturday by Governor Talmadge attacked Turnkey J. C. Mosley on the fourth floor of Atlanta police headquarters last night, following his arrest on charges of drunk and disorderly conduct, and cursing, according to police reports.

Additional charges of assault and battery were placed against the prisoner, listed as Jack Gamble, 30, who was pardoned while under one to two years' sentence for larceny of an automobile.

Gamble allegedly attempted to choke Turnkey Moseley as the officer was transferring him from the fourth to the third floor. Turnkey S. Banky, 31, charged Moseley's aid. Gamble suffered injuries in the encounter and was treated at Grady hospital.

Atlanta police yesterday were asked to be on the watch for two negro convicts, believed in this vicinity, who fled from Greensboro, Ga., after overpowering a guard and stealing a truck. One of the convicts is a life-terminer, convicted of murder.

TURNKEY IS ATTACKED BY PARDONED CONVICT
A convict pardoned last Saturday by Governor Talmadge attacked Turnkey J. C. Mosley on the fourth floor of Atlanta police headquarters last night, following his arrest on charges of drunk and disorderly conduct, and cursing, according to police reports.

Additional charges of assault and battery were placed against the prisoner, listed as Jack Gamble, 30, who was pardoned while under one to two years' sentence for larceny of an automobile.

Gamble allegedly attempted to choke Turnkey Moseley as the officer was transferring him from the fourth to the third floor. Turnkey S. Banky, 31, charged Moseley's aid. Gamble suffered injuries in the encounter and was treated at Grady hospital.

Atlanta police yesterday were asked to be on the watch for two negro convicts, believed in this vicinity, who fled from Greensboro, Ga., after overpowering a guard and stealing a truck. One of the convicts is a life-terminer, convicted of murder.

TURNKEY IS ATTACKED BY PARDONED CONVICT
A convict pardoned last Saturday by Governor Talmadge attacked Turnkey J. C. Mosley on the fourth floor of Atlanta police headquarters last night, following his arrest on charges of drunk and disorderly conduct, and cursing, according to police reports.

Additional charges of assault and battery were placed against the prisoner, listed as Jack Gamble, 30, who was pardoned while under one to two years' sentence for larceny of an automobile.

Gamble allegedly attempted to choke Turnkey Moseley as the officer was transferring him from the fourth to the third floor. Turnkey S. Banky, 31, charged Moseley's aid. Gamble suffered injuries in the encounter and was treated at Grady hospital.

Atlanta police yesterday were asked to be on the watch for two negro convicts, believed in this vicinity, who fled from Greensboro, Ga., after overpowering a guard and stealing a truck. One of the convicts is a life-terminer, convicted of murder.

TURNKEY IS ATTACKED BY PARDONED CONVICT
A convict pardoned last Saturday by Governor Talmadge attacked Turnkey J. C. Mosley on the fourth floor of Atlanta police headquarters last night, following his arrest on charges of drunk and disorderly conduct, and cursing, according to police reports.

Additional charges of assault and battery were placed against the prisoner, listed as Jack Gamble, 30, who was pardoned while under one to two years' sentence for larceny of an automobile.

Gamble allegedly attempted to choke Turnkey Moseley as the officer was transferring him from the fourth to the third floor. Turnkey S. Banky, 31, charged Moseley's aid. Gamble suffered injuries in the encounter and was treated at Grady hospital.

Atlanta police yesterday were asked to be on the watch for two negro convicts, believed in this vicinity, who fled from Greensboro, Ga., after overpowering a guard and stealing a truck. One of the convicts is a life-terminer, convicted of murder.

TURNKEY IS ATTACKED BY PARDONED CONVICT
A convict pardoned last Saturday by Governor Talmadge attacked Turnkey J. C. Mosley on the fourth floor of Atlanta police headquarters last night, following his arrest on charges of drunk and disorderly conduct, and cursing, according to police reports.

Prison Chaplain Thirteen Years, Rev. E.C. Atkins Tells Experiences

Pastor Holds Conference Record for Length of Assignment.

By DR. THOMAS M. ELLIOTT.
The record for remaining at one appointment in the North Georgia Methodist conference longest is held by Rev. E. C. Atkins who, for 13 years, has been assigned as chaplain at the state prison farm. No other conference member even approaches him in the number of years at one appointment and the likelihood is that Mr. Atkins will again be named to that work for another year.

This year, says Mr. Atkins, has in numerous respects been the best of his 13-year service there. As chaplain Mr. Atkins has religious supervision over the three camps. He reports that interest in religious affairs appears to be increasing among the prisoners as the years and months pass. Mr. Atkins' ministry at the farm is one of great variety and is never ending. Not only does he contact all prisoners detained there immediately upon their arrival, but he is constantly in touch with them promoting religious work in many services each week. Writing letters to the prisoners upon their arrival and also writing letters for them to homefolk consumes a large part of his time.

With Those Who Die.
He is called upon to accompany to the death bed those condemned to execution and states that some of the most satisfactory fruits of his ministry have been borne from efforts in behalf of the death-cell inmates.

Mr. Atkins' report to be submitted at the annual conference in Atlanta will show that 4,070 prison inmates have made a profession of faith in Christ as a personal Saviour, and have affiliated with the farm religious organization known as the Religious Association of the Farm.

During the year, 4,375 men and women have joined the Testament League, pledging themselves to read some portion of the Bible daily. Many of these have been released and have sought to mend their broken lives.

"Others have died in the faith, and others yet remain at the farm, holding up the word of God as a place, and prove to be a source of real good in the lives of their fellows."

The most harrowing experiences that come to the chaplain are in connection with prisoners condemned to be electrocuted. Since the electric chair was installed in 1924, Mr. Atkins has accompanied 138 to their deaths, and has conducted 49 religious services in the cells for the condemned.

Cause of Tragedy.
"Of the 138 men who have come to their death in the chair," said Mr. Atkins, "more than 100 of them died to me they came to their misfortune through bootleg whisky and love."

Continuing his statement as to death-cell work, Mr. Atkins said, "Of all the cases I have had the privilege of ministering to only three or four have failed to receive benefit. To all appearances the three or four cases referred to failed to have the slightest impression made upon their consciences. They seemed to be wholly devoid of any moral sense whatever."

Regular religious services are carried on by Mr. Atkins in the three prison camps, and special days are observed from time to time. Mr. Atkins has made his report to the committee. On Haire's motion, charges against Maddox were dropped.

In discussing a proposed fire detail of police, Chief T. O. Sturdivant said his men handled the Cable Piano Company fire excellently. He asserted it was right and proper that only a few policemen stay at the scene of a big fire while many others surround the area on street corners to route traffic that otherwise would increase the jam in the stricken section.

Under his direction there has been organized a Testament League, members of which pledge themselves to read the Scriptures daily and to pray. When individuals make a confession of their faith in Christ as a personal Saviour, and express their desire to live a better life, they become members of the State Farm Religious Association.

Full credit is given by Mr. Atkins for the sympathetic attitude of the authorities, for the co-operation of Baldwin county ministers and for great help received from publishers of religious literature.

Many Made Good.
Chaplain Atkins recalls with great joy, he says, the numbers of men and women who have made professions of religion while prisoners at the farm, who afterwards were released and went their ways, back to their homes, and made good. Of course, not all professions are genuine and sincere, but positive evidence is that hundreds of them are true and genuine.

Full credit is given by Mr. Atkins for the sympathetic attitude of the authorities, for the co-operation of Baldwin county ministers and for great help received from publishers of religious literature.

Many Made Good.
Chaplain Atkins recalls with great joy, he says, the numbers of men and women who have made professions of religion while prisoners at the farm, who afterwards were released and went their ways, back to their homes, and made good. Of course, not all professions are genuine and sincere, but positive evidence is that hundreds of them are true and genuine.

Full credit is given by Mr. Atkins for the sympathetic attitude of the authorities, for the co-operation of Baldwin county ministers and for great help received from publishers of religious literature.

Many Made Good.
Chaplain Atkins recalls with great joy, he says, the numbers of men and women who have made professions of religion while prisoners at the farm, who afterwards were released and went their ways, back to their homes, and made good. Of course, not all professions are genuine and sincere, but positive evidence is that hundreds of them are true and genuine.

Full credit is given by Mr. Atkins for the sympathetic attitude of the authorities, for the co-operation of Baldwin county ministers and for great help received from publishers of religious literature.

Many Made Good.
Chaplain Atkins recalls with great joy, he says, the numbers of men and women who have made professions of religion while prisoners at the farm, who afterwards were released and went their ways, back to their homes, and made good. Of course, not all professions are genuine and sincere, but positive evidence is that hundreds of them are true and genuine.

Full credit is given by Mr. Atkins for the sympathetic attitude of the authorities, for the co-operation of Baldwin county ministers and for great help received from publishers of religious literature.

Many Made Good.
Chaplain Atkins recalls with great joy, he says, the numbers of men and women who have made professions of religion while prisoners at the farm, who afterwards were released and went their ways, back to their homes, and made good. Of course, not all professions are genuine and sincere, but positive evidence is that hundreds of them are true and genuine.

Full credit is given by Mr. Atkins for the sympathetic attitude of the authorities, for the co-operation of Baldwin county ministers and for great help received from publishers of religious literature.

Many Made Good.
Chaplain Atkins recalls with great joy, he says, the numbers of men and women who have made professions of religion while prisoners at the farm, who afterwards were released and went their ways, back to their homes, and made good. Of course, not all professions are genuine and sincere, but positive evidence is that hundreds of them are true and genuine.

Full credit is given by Mr. Atkins for the sympathetic attitude of the authorities, for the co-operation of Baldwin county ministers and for great help received from publishers of religious literature.

Many Made Good.
Chaplain Atkins recalls with great joy, he says, the numbers of men and women who have made professions of religion while prisoners at the farm, who afterwards were released and went their ways, back to their homes, and made good. Of course, not all professions are genuine and sincere, but positive evidence is that hundreds of them are true and genuine.

Full credit is given by Mr. Atkins for the sympathetic attitude of the authorities, for the co-operation of Baldwin county ministers and for great help received from publishers of religious literature.

Many Made Good.
Chaplain Atkins recalls with great joy, he says, the numbers of men and women who have made professions of religion while prisoners at the farm, who afterwards were released and went their ways, back to their homes, and made good. Of course, not all professions are genuine and sincere, but positive evidence is that hundreds of them are true and genuine.

Full credit is given by Mr. Atkins for the sympathetic attitude of the authorities, for the co-operation of Baldwin county ministers and for great help received from publishers of religious literature.

Many Made Good.
Chaplain Atkins recalls with great joy, he says, the numbers of men and women who have made professions of religion while prisoners at the farm, who afterwards were released and went their ways, back to their homes, and made good. Of course, not all professions are genuine and sincere, but positive evidence is that hundreds of them are true and genuine.

Full credit is given by Mr. Atkins for the sympathetic attitude of the authorities, for the co-operation of Baldwin county ministers and for great help received from publishers of religious literature.

Many Made Good.
Chaplain Atkins recalls with great joy, he says, the numbers of men and women who have made professions of religion while prisoners at the farm, who afterwards were released and went their ways, back to their homes, and made good. Of course, not all professions are genuine and sincere, but positive evidence is that hundreds of them are true and genuine.

Full credit is given by Mr. Atkins for the sympathetic attitude of the authorities, for the co-operation of Baldwin county ministers and for great help received from publishers of religious literature.

Many Made Good.
Chaplain Atkins recalls with great joy, he says, the numbers of men and women who have made professions of religion while prisoners at the farm, who afterwards were released and went their ways, back to their homes, and made good. Of course, not all professions are genuine and sincere, but positive evidence is that hundreds of them are true and genuine.

Full credit is given by Mr. Atkins for the sympathetic attitude of the authorities, for the co-operation of Baldwin county ministers and for great help received from publishers of religious literature.

Many Made Good.
Chaplain Atkins recalls with great joy, he says, the numbers of men and women who have made professions of religion while prisoners at the farm, who afterwards were released and went their ways, back to their homes, and made good. Of course, not all professions are genuine and sincere, but positive evidence is that hundreds of them are true and genuine.

Full credit is given by Mr. Atkins for the sympathetic attitude of the authorities, for the co-operation of Baldwin county ministers and for great help received from publishers of religious literature.

Many Made Good.
Chaplain Atkins recalls with great joy, he says, the numbers of men and women who have made professions of religion while prisoners at the farm, who afterwards were released and went their ways, back to their homes, and made good. Of course, not all professions are genuine and sincere, but positive evidence is that hundreds of them are true and genuine.

Full credit is given by Mr. Atkins for the sympathetic attitude of the authorities, for the co-operation of Baldwin county ministers and for great help received from publishers of religious literature.

Many Made Good.
Chaplain Atkins recalls with great joy, he says, the numbers of men and women who have made professions of religion while prisoners at the farm, who afterwards were released and went their ways, back to their homes, and made good. Of course, not all professions are genuine and sincere, but positive evidence is that hundreds of them are true and genuine.

Full credit is given by Mr. Atkins for the sympathetic attitude of the authorities, for the co-operation of Baldwin county ministers and for great help received from publishers of religious literature.

Many Made Good.
Chaplain Atkins recalls with great joy, he says, the numbers of men and women who have made professions of religion while prisoners at the farm, who afterwards were released and went their ways, back to their homes, and made good. Of course, not all professions are genuine and sincere, but positive evidence is that hundreds of them are true and genuine.

Full credit is given by Mr. Atkins for the sympathetic attitude of the authorities, for the co-operation of Baldwin county ministers and for great help received from publishers of religious literature.

Many Made Good.
Chaplain Atkins recalls with great joy, he says, the numbers of men and women who have made professions of religion while prisoners at the farm, who afterwards were released and went their ways, back to their homes, and made good. Of course, not all professions are genuine and sincere, but positive evidence is that hundreds of them are true and genuine.

Full credit is given by Mr. Atkins for the sympathetic attitude of the authorities, for the co-operation of Baldwin county ministers and for great help received from publishers of religious literature.

Many Made Good.
Chaplain Atkins recalls with great joy, he says, the numbers of men and women who have made professions of religion while prisoners at the farm, who afterwards were released and went their ways, back to their homes, and made good. Of course, not all professions are genuine and sincere, but positive evidence is that hundreds of them are true and genuine.

Full credit is given by Mr. Atkins for the sympathetic attitude of the authorities, for the co-operation of Baldwin county ministers and for great help received from publishers of religious literature.

Many Made Good.
Chaplain Atkins recalls with great joy, he says, the numbers of men and women who have made professions of religion while prisoners at the farm, who afterwards were released and went their ways, back to their homes, and made good. Of course, not all professions are genuine and sincere, but positive evidence is that hundreds of them are true and genuine.

Full credit is given by Mr. Atkins for the sympathetic attitude of the authorities, for the co-operation of Baldwin county ministers and for great help received from publishers of religious literature.